This is a Southern story, full of lies and fabrications, but truer for their inclusion.

FADE IN:

A RIVER.

We're underwater, watching a fat catfish swim along.

This is The Beast.

1 EDWARD

There are some fish that cannot be caught. It's not that they're faster or stronger than other fish. They're just touched by something extra. Call it luck. Call it grace. One such fish was The Beast.

The Beast's journey takes it past a dangling fish hook, baited with worms. Past a tempting lure, sparkling in the sun. Past a swiping bear claw. The Beast isn't worried.

2 EDWARD

By the time I was born, he was already a legend. He'd taken more hundred-dollar lures than any fish in Alabama. Some said that fish was the ghost of Henry Walls, a thief who'd drowned in that river 60 years before. Others claimed he was a lesser dinosaur, left over from the Cretaceous period.

WILL'S BEDROOM - NIGHT (1973)

WILL BLOOM, AGE 3, listens wide-eyed as his father EDWARD BLOOM, 40's and handsome, tells the story. In every gesture, Edward is bigger than life, describing each detail with absolute conviction.

3 EDWARD

I didn't put any stock into such speculation or superstition. All I knew was I'd been trying to catch that fish since I was a boy no bigger than you.
(closer)

And on the day you were born, that was the day I finally caught him.

CAMPFIRE - NIGHT (1977)

A few years later, and Will sits with the other INDIAN GUIDES as Edward continues telling the story to the tribe.

4 EDWARD

Now, I'd tried everything on it: worms, lures, peanut butter, peanut butter-and-cheese. But on that day I had a revelation: if that fish was the ghost of a thief, the usual bait wasn't going to work. I would have to use something he truly desired.

Edward points to his wedding band, glinting in the firelight.

5 LITTLE BRAVE

(confused)

Your finger?

Edward slips his ring off.

6 EDWARD

Gold.

While the other boys are rapt with attention, Will looks bored. He's heard this story before.

7 EDWARD

I tied my ring to the strongest line they made -- strong enough to hold up a bridge, they said, if just for a few minutes -- and I cast upriver.

BLOOM FRONT HALL - NIGHT (1987)

Edward is chatting up Will's pretty DATE to the homecoming dance. She is enjoying the story, but also the force of Edward's charisma. He's hypnotizing.

8 EDWARD

The Beast jumped up and grabbed it before the ring even hit the water. And just as fast, he snapped clean through that line.

WILL, now 17 with braces, is fuming and ready to leave. His mother SANDRA -- from whom he gets his good looks and practicality -- stands with him at the door.

9 EDWARD

You can see my predicament. My wedding ring, the symbol of fidelity to my wife, soon to be the mother of my child, was now lost in the gut of an uncatchable fish.

ON WILL AND SANDRA

10 WILL

(low but insistent)
Make him stop.

His mother pats him sympathetically, then adjusts his tie.

11 WILL'S DATE

What did you do?

12 EDWARD

I followed that fish up-river and down-river for three days and three nights, until I finally had him boxed in.

Will regards his father with exasperated contempt.

13 EDWARD

With these two hands, I reached in and snatched that fish out of the river. I looked him straight in the eye. And I made a remarkable discovery.

TINY PARIS RESTAURANT (LA RUE 14°) - NIGHT (1998)

WILL, now 28, sits with his gorgeous bride JOSEPHINE. This is their wedding reception, crowded with their friends and family. They should be joyful, but Will is furious.

Edward has the floor, ostensibly for a toast. The room is cozy and drunk.

14 EDWARD

This fish, the Beast. The whole time we were calling it a him, when in fact it was a her. It was fat with eggs, and was going to lay them any day.

Over near the doorway, we spot Sandra, just returned from the restrooms. She looks gorgeous. She couldn't be any happier if this were her own wedding.

15 EDWARD

Now, I was in a situation. I could gut that fish and get my ring back, but doing so I would be killing the smartest catfish in the Ashton River, soon to be mother of a hundred others.

Will can't take any more. Josephine tries to hold him back, but he gets up and leaves. Edward doesn't even notice.

16 EDWARD

Did I want to deprive my soon-to-be-born son the chance to catch a fish like this of his own? This lady fish and I, well, we had the same destiny.

As he leaves, Will mutters in perfect unison with his father--

17 EDWARD AND WILL

We were part of the same equation.

Will reaches the door, where his mother intercepts him.

18 SANDRA

Honey, it's still your night.

Will can't articulate his anger. He just leaves.

19 EDWARD

Now, you may well ask, since this lady fish wasn't the ghost of a thief, why did it strike so quick on gold when nothing else would attract it?

(closer; he holds up his ring)

That was the lesson I learned that day, the day my son was born.

He focuses his words on Sandra. This story is -- and has always been -- about her more than anyone.

20 EDWARD

Sometimes, the only way to catch an uncatchable woman is to offer her a wedding ring.

A LAUGH from the crowd.

Edward motions for Sandra to get up here with him. As she crosses, we can see that thirty years of marriage has not lessened their affection for each other.

As they kiss, Edward tweaks her chin a special little way. The crowd APPLAUDS.

Edward toasts the happy couple. Josephine covers well for her absent husband, a smile as warm as summer.

Edward downs his champagne in a gulp.

OUTSIDE LA RUE 14° - NIGHT

We come into the middle of an argument on the sidewalk. Occasional PASSERSBY take notice, especially as it gets more heated. Both men are a little drunk.

21 EDWARD

What, a father's not allowed to talk about his son?

22 WILL

(disbelieving)

I am a footnote in that story. I am the context for your great adventure. Which never happened!
Incidentally! You were selling novelty products in Wichita the day I was born.

23 EDWARD

(shaking his head)

Jesus Christ.

24 WILL

Friend of yours? Did you help him out of a bind?

25 EDWARD

Come on, Will. Everyone likes that story.

26 WILL

No Dad, they don't. I do not like the story. Not anymore, not after a thousand times. I know all the punchlines, Dad. I can tell them as well as you can.

(closer)

For one night, one night in your entire life, the universe does not revolve around Edward Bloom. It revolves around me and my wife. How can you not understand that?

A long beat, then...

27 EDWARD

(low)

Sorry to embarrass you.

Will won't let him get the last word.

28 WILL

You're embarrassing yourself, Dad. You just don't see it.

ANGLE ON Edward. Fine. A hand to wave, enough of you.

He walks away.

ANGLE ON Will, still fuming with righteous anger. It's then we FREEZE FRAME.

29 WILL

After that night, I didn't speak to my father again for three years.

A.P. NEWSROOM (PARIS) - DAY

A typically busy day. On hold with the phone cradled under an ear, Will sorts through a bundle of mail dropped on his desk.

30 WILL

(without pauses)

William Bloom with the Associated Press if I could just...

He's put back on hold. Returning to the mail, he finds a hand-addressed envelope. Rips it open.

31 WILL

We communicated indirectly I guess. In her letters and Christmas cards, my mother would write for both of them.

BLOOM HOUSE KITCHEN - DAY

At the table, Sandra talks on the phone while Edward fixes a sandwich.

32 WILL

When I'd call, Mom would say that Dad was out driving. Or swimming in the pool.

Edward takes a seat, starting to eat his sandwich.

33 WILL

True to form, we never talked about our not talking.

BLOOM HOUSE MASTER BEDROOM - NIGHT

Sandra stands by the window, watching as...

BLOOM BACK YARD - NIGHT [CONTINUOUS]

Edward swims laps in the family pool. He's born to the water.

34 WILL

The truth is, I didn't see anything of myself in my father, and I don't think he saw anything of himself in me. We were like strangers who knew each other very well.

RIVER - DAY

Edward stares intently into the water, a lion in wait.

35 WILL

In telling the story of my father's life, it's impossible to separate the fact from the fiction, the man from the myth. The best I can do is to tell it the way he told me.

We LOOK DOWN at the river, where Edward's reflection is caught in the dark water. As the water ripples past, something changes.

Sure enough, as we LOOK UP again, it's a younger EDWARD BLOOM, 20's, staring into the water. He's not just handsome, not just charming. It's as if all the forces of the natural world had conspired to create him.

36 WILL

It doesn't always make sense, and most of it never happened.

Suddenly, this Edward thrusts both hands into the water, grabbing hold of THE BEAST.

He brings the catfish up to his face. Looks it right in the eye. A beat, then the Beast spits out Edward's gold ring.

37 WILL

But that's what kind of story this is.

Smiling, Edward takes the ring, then throws the Beast back into the water with a splash.

TITLE OVER:

BIG FISH

HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY

Young Dr. Bennett stands between the Wife's legs. She's flustered and sweating, but the doctor has a comforting bedside manner...

38 YOUNG DR. BENNETT

Now, Mrs. Bloom, I'll need you to give me one good push. On three. One...

Suddenly, we hear a POP as a slimy mass of human being rockets into the doctor's unprepared hands. Bennett tries to hold tight, but the infant is slippery like a fish. It shoots up into air.

The NURSES and the Husband try to grab the baby, but no one can hold it. As the newborn sails upward TOWARDS CAMERA, we can see a GIGGLING SMILE on its face.

As it falls, the newborn knocks over a tray, which provides it a ramp to slide right out of the room. Everyone races after it.

HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

Bursting through the doors --

39 YOUNG DR. BENNETT
Grab that baby!

A NURSE finally scoops up the slippery baby. Everyone lets out a collective sigh of relief.

40 WILL
My father's birth would set the pace for his unlikely life. No longer than most men's, but larger. And as strange as his stories got, the endings were always the most surprising of all.

HALF-DARK PARIS APARTMENT - (PRESENT) DAY

Over the sound of rain, a phone RINGS on a chair. By the tone of the ring, we know we're not in the U.S. -- it has that insistent European sound.

As it keeps RINGING, we look to see the apartment is mostly empty, just a few half-unpacked boxes. A cradle is still in its carton.

KEYS in the lock. LAUGHTER in the hallway. The door swings open to reveal a drenched Will (29) carrying four sacks of groceries, the bottoms collapsing from the rain. His wife Josephine (28) pushes past him to get the phone.

41 JOSEPHINE
Allo oui?

Will begins stripping out of his wet clothes, each layer unleashing a new drizzle. He plays it up, trying to get a reaction out of Josephine.

42 JOSEPHINE
(on phone)
Yes, he's here.

She hands the phone to Will, concerned.

43 JOSEPHINE

It's your mother.

Half-stripped, Will takes the phone. This won't be good news.

44 WILL

(on phone)

Hi. Uh-huh. Uh-huh.

As Josephine takes off her rain coat, we see she is very, very pregnant. She listens carefully to Will's side of the conversation, trying to gauge how bad the news is.

45 WILL

What does Dr. Bennett say? Okay. No, sure, let me talk to him. I'll wait.

He covers the mouthpiece. Looks over to Josephine.

46 JOSEPHINE

It's bad.

47 WILL

It's more than they thought. They're going to stop chemo.

48 JOSEPHINE

You need to go.

49 WILL Probably tonight.

A beat.

50 JOSEPHINE

I'm going with you.

51 WILL

You don't have to.

52 JOSEPHINE

(a simple fact)

I'm going with you.

AIR FRANCE 747 - NIGHT

As the plane continues boarding, a STEWARDESS recites the welcome spiel in French. Will has a window seat in coach. Josephine sits beside him, putting on hand lotion.

Taking his hands, she rubs the excess into him. There's an effortless intimacy between them. She can pinpoint what he's feeling before he can.

747 / FLYING - NIGHT

Hours later, and the lights are dimmed. Most of the PASSENGERS are asleep, including Josephine. Her head is propped against Will's shoulder, her hands tucked under her belly.

Will watches her sleep, brushing back her hair. A beat, then he notices a BORED BOY in the next row over.

Off the glow of the reading light, the boy is using his hands to cast shadows on the seat back. The kid is pretty good, making a convincing bird, a passable monkey, and finally a dog.

We PUSH IN on the silhouettes.

53 EDWARD

So which one's it gonna be? The Monkey in the Barn, the Dog in the Road?

Focusing on the final shadow, we...

MATCH CUT TO:

BLOOM HOUSE - NIGHT

..COME TO FIND EDWARD MAKING THE SHAPES.

54 WILL

55 WILL

The one about the witch.

56 EDWARD

Your mom says I can't tell you that one anymore.
You get nightmares.

57 WILL

I'm not scared.

Edward looks around for a beat, seeing if his wife is in earshot. He then leans in, complicitous.

58 EDWARD

Neither was I. At first.

Will smiles, excited to hear the forbidden story.

59 EDWARD

This all happened in the swamp outside of Ashton. Kids weren't supposed to go out in the swamp, on account of the snakes and spiders and quicksand that would swallow you up before you could even scream. But there were five of us out there that night: Me, Ruthie, Wilbur Freely, and the Price Brothers, Don and Zacky.

Edward holds up his hand, counting the names on his fingers.

60 EDWARD

Not a one of us knew what was in store.

As his hand moves past the light, we

COME TO:

A flashlight SWEEPS past. We are...

FIELD AT THE SWAMP EDGE - NIGHT

The night is WHIRRING and BREATHING, alive. The moon hangs low, casting long shadows.

Five kids walk past in silhouette. Four have flashlights on. The fifth keeps tripping, crashing into YOUNG EDWARD (10).

61 EDWARD

Zacky, turn your flashlight on!

62 ZACKY

I don't got any batteries!

Red-headed ZACKY PRICE is 10. His brother DON PRICE is 12, and a lot bigger than the others.

63 DON PRICE

Then why'd you bring it?

64 ZACKY

I don't want to be in the swamp with a witch and no flashlight.

WILBUR FREELY, also 10, is the black asthmatic son of a sharecropper. Redheaded RUTHIE MACKLIN, 8, is happy just to be there.

65 EDWARD

Is it true she got a glass eye?

66 WILBUR FREELY

I heard she got it from Gypsies.

67 EDWARD

What's a Gypsy?

68 ZACKY

Your momma's a Gypsy.

69 DON PRICE
Your momma's a bitch.

70 RUTHIE
You shouldn't swear. There's ladies present.

71 DON PRICE
Shit.

72 ZACKY
Damn.

73 WILBUR FREELY
Screw.

74 EDWARD
(whispering)
Turn off your flashlights! She'll see 'em.

MOVING UP behind the kids, we find ourselves at the gates of...

A CREEPY OLD HOUSE - NIGHT

75 ADULT EDWARD
Now, it's common knowledge that most towns of a certain size have a witch, if only to eat misbehaving children and the occasional puppy who wanders into her yard. Witches use those bones to cast spells and curses that make the land infertile.

We PULL BACK, and BACK, revealing more of the Gothically creepy house: its broken windows, strangling vines, and eerie gargoyles half-buried in the dirt. Even bats are afraid to fly over it.

In the moonlight, the house is especially sinister. Who knows what is lurking in the shadows?

76 ADULT EDWARD

Yet of the all the witches in Alabama, there was one who was the most feared. For she had one glass eye, which was said to contain mystical powers.

We finally come to the kids, staring in through the gate.

77 WILBUR FREELY

I hear if you look right at it, you can see how you're gonna die.

78 EDWARD

That's bull-s-h-i-t, that is. She's not even a real witch.

79 DON PRICE

You're so sure, why don't you go in and get that eye? I heard she keeps it in a box on her nighttable.

Edward looks back at the spooky house.

80 DON PRICE

Or are you too scared?

81 EDWARD

I'll go in right now and get that eye.

82 DON PRICE

Then do it.

83 EDWARD

Fine, I will.

84 DON PRICE

Fine, you do it.

85 EDWARD

Fine, I'm doing it.

He hands Zacky his flashlight, then starts climbing the gate.

86 RUTHIE

Edward, don't!

87 WILBUR FREELY

She'll make soap out of you!

(to Ruthie)

That's what she does, she makes soap out of people.

Edward drops down on the far side of the gate. Truth be told, Edward is scared, but he forges ahead anyway.

Wilbur looks to Ruthie, and they're in complete agreement. They get the hell out of there. Zacky would run too, but Don holds him by the collar.

APPROACHING THE HOUSE

Edward curves around the tall bushes that hide the front door. Anything could jump out of them.

He steps on the porch. The boards SQUEAL and CREAK, but he continues on. A cat SCREAMS OUT from a broken wicker rocker. Catching his breath, Edward reaches the front door.

The doorknob is ancient brass, two projections that look like horns. Yet Edward extends his hand, reaching closer and closer before he finally

RINGS THE DOORBELL.

Impossibly fast, the door opens, revealing an OLD WOMAN with a patch over her left eye. She looks like she's been dead for years, but too stubborn to lie down.

88 EDWARD

(calm and straightforward)

Ma'am, my name is Edward Bloom, and there's some folks'd like to see your eye.

BACK AT THE GATE - NIGHT

Zacky and Don Price wait for Edward, each moment more convinced he's already dead. But suddenly, he's back at the gate.

89 DON PRICE

You get the eye?

90 EDWARD

I brought it.

91 DON PRICE

(dubious)

Let's see it.

The Old Woman steps out of the shadows behind Edward, flipping up her eye patch. When their flashlight beam hits her left eye, it shines with a hellish glow.

We RUSH IN on Zacky, who is paralyzed by what he sees.

CUT TO:

FRONT PORCH OF HOUSE - DAY

An OLD MAN -- Zacky -- stands on a wobbly stepladder, changing a lightbulb. Suddenly, the ladder gives way and he falls. Dead.

AT THE GATE - NIGHT

We RUSH IN on Don Price.

CUT TO:

FRATERNITY HOUSE BATHROOM - DAY

Twenty-year old Don Price falls face-forward on the tile, face mushed in the grout. Very much dead.

AT THE GATE - NIGHT

Don and Zacky both tremble with fear. The latter has tears in his eyes.

92 ZACKY

I saw how I was gonna die. I was old, and I fell.

93 DON PRICE

I wasn't old at all.

The brothers suddenly bolt. Still standing next to the Old Woman, Edward smiles.

AT THE OLD WOMAN'S DOOR - NIGHT

Edward helps her back inside. He could leave now, but curiosity gets the better of him.

94 EDWARD

I was thinking about death and all. About seeing how you're gonna die.

The Old Woman turns to him slightly, still not facing him.

95 EDWARD

I mean, on one hand, if dying was all you thought about, it could kind of screw you up. But it could kind of help you, couldn't it? Because you'd know that everything else you can survive.

The Old Woman smiles a little, a crooked grin of broken teeth.

96 EDWARD

I guess I'm saying, I'd like to know.

The Old Woman turns leaning her face right in front of his. And on a silent count of one, two, three -- Edward looks into The Eye.

This time we don't cut. Instead, we HOLD ON Edward as he witnesses his death. He stares transfixed, perplexed and amused. Whatever he sees, it's not as dire as the other boys. His future has something strange in store.

97 EDWARD

Huh. That's how I go?

The Old Woman nods. Still a little overwhelmed, Edward turns and leaves.

98 ADULT EDWARD

From that moment on, I no longer feared death. And for that, I was as good as immortal.

As Edward leaves, the door swings SHUT on its own.

MATCH CUT TO:

/EXT. BLOOM HOUSE - (PRESENT) DAY

The front door opens to reveal Will and Josephine on the porch with their bags. REVERSE to Will's mother Sandra (53), surprised and a little annoyed.

99 SANDRA

How did you get here?

100 WILL

We swam. The Atlantic, it's not that big really.

101 SANDRA

Ruth McHibbon offered to pick you up at the airport.

102 WILL

We rented a car.

103 SANDRA

(simply)

You didn't need to do that. You just didn't.

A beat. Starting over...

104 WILL

Hi, Mom.

He leans in and hugs her. She surrenders, squeezing her son tight. Will and his mother are cut from the same cloth -- strong-willed but practical. They've always been close.

105 SANDRA

I'm so glad you're here.

That hug finished, Sandra pushes past her son to her daughter-in-law. Seeing the size of her belly --

106 SANDRA

You shouldn't have flown. But...

They hug.

107 JOSEPHINE

It's good to see you. You look beautiful.

It's not flattery. It's the truth.

108 SANDRA

Thank you. I'll bet you need to --

109 JOSEPHINE

Yes.

110 SANDRA

Down the hall on the right. The door sticks. You have to really pull it.

Josephine squeezes past, a smile to her husband -- be nice. Will heads back to the rental car to retrieve luggage. Sandra follows him.

Coming down the driveway, we get to see the house for the first time: an older suburban home, three bedrooms, big for the neighborhood, and nicely grown into the lot. KIDS are playing on the street.

111 WILL
Is that Dr. Bennett's car?

112 SANDRA
He's up with your father.

Heading back to the house...

113 WILL
How is he?

114 SANDRA
He's impossible. He won't eat. And because he won't eat, he gets weaker. And because he's weaker, he doesn't want to eat.

115 WILL
How much time does he have left?

116 SANDRA
You don't talk about those things. Not yet.

KITCHEN - DAY

Sandra is pouring iced tea for Will and Josephine.

DR. JULIUS BENNETT (85) enters from the foyer, still winded from coming down the stairs. He was the town's first Black physician. He's still the town's best physician.

117 DR. BENNETT
Will.

118 WILL
Dr. Bennett. It's good to see you.
(they shake)
My wife, Josephine.

119 DR. BENNETT

A pleasure.

He judges her belly.

120 DR. BENNETT

You're seven months.

(impressed)

To the day.

He leans close to her, whispering in her ear...

122 DR. BENNETT

It's a boy.

She smiles, surprised but not doubting. Will looks over -- what did he say? Josephine shakes her head.

Back to the main subject...

123 SANDRA

You don't think he looks any worse.

124 DR. BENNETT

No. I would say he's the same.

And in the silence that follows, a lot is said. It wasn't the upbeat reply Sandra was hoping for.

125 WILL

Can I see him?

126 DR. BENNETT

Absolutely. Be good for you to talk to him.

A moment of awkwardness -- everyone here knows they haven't spoken in years.

Sandra hands Will a squat can of Ensure from the case on the counter.

127 SANDRA

Get him to drink one of these. He won't, but tell him he has to.

FOYER - DAY

Coming out from the kitchen, Will slowly climbs the stairs. They CREAK with every step.

The wall is filled with family photos, happier times. Most of the pictures are of Will, starting when he was an infant and ending at his wedding. As he climbs the stairs, we can see him growing up with every step.

UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - DAY

A crack of sunlight spills around the half-open door at the end of the hallway. Will walks towards it, running a hand along the wallpaper.

Almost at the door, he stops for a beat. Gets his breath. Then goes inside.

GUEST ROOM - DAY

Edward Bloom, 61, lies asleep on the bed. Although he's not the vibrant man we've seen before, it's not as bad we feared. The illness has been quick, and left him largely intact.

There are no I.V.'s, no monitors, nothing.

Coming up to the bed --

Dad?

Edward cracks open an eye, a beat before he focuses. He tries to say something, but no words come out.

He looks over at a pitcher on the nightstand. Will pours him a glass of water, helping him hold it to his parched lips.

Finished, Edward sets down the glass by himself. A very long, tense beat. Will almost speaks again to fill the silence.

Finally...

129 EDWARD

You --
(he points)
-- are in for a surprise.

130 WILL

Am I?

131 EDWARD

Having a kid changes everything. I mean, there's the diapers and the burping and the midnight feedings...

132 WILL

Did you do any of that?

133 EDWARD

No, but I hear it's terrible. Then you spend years trying to corrupt and mislead this child, fill its head with nonsense and still it turns out perfectly fine.

134 WILL

You think I'm up for it?

135 EDWARD

You learned from the best.

Will doesn't rise to the challenge. A beat, then he remembers the can of Ensure. Holds it up. Edward recoils.

136 WILL

Just drink half the can. I'll tell her you drank the whole thing. Everyone wins.

A beat, then Edward rolls his eyes. Fine. Will cracks open the can, finding a straw on the nightstand.

137 EDWARD

People needn't worry so much. It's not my time yet. This isn't how I go.

138 WILL Really.

139 EDWARD

Truly. I saw it in The Eye.

140 WILL

The Old Lady by the swamp.

141 EDWARD

She was a witch.

142 WILL

No, she was old and probably senile. Maybe schizophrenic.

143 EDWARD

I saw my death in that eye. And this is not how it happens.

144 WILL

So how does it happen?

145 EDWARD

Surprise ending. Wouldn't want to ruin it for you.

Edward slurps down as much of the Ensure as he can stand, then pushes the can away. He swallows with difficulty.

146 EDWARD

There was this panhandler who used to stop me every morning when I came out of this coffee shop near the office.

147 WILL

Okay.

148 EDWARD

And every day I gave him a quarter. Every day.
Then I got sick and was out for a couple of weeks.
And when I went back there, you know what he said?

149 WILL

What did he say?

150 EDWARD

You owe me three-fifty.

151 WILL

Really.

152 EDWARD

True story.

A beat.

153 WILL

When did you ever work in an office?

154 EDWARD

There's a lot you don't know about me.

You're right.

Edward gives a wry smile. He walked into that.

156 EDWARD

Your mother was worried we wouldn't talk again.
And look at us. We're talking fine. We're storytellers, both of us. I speak mine out, you write yours down. Same thing.

Will won't commit to Edward's assessment.

157 WILL

Dad, I'm hoping we can talk about some things while I'm here.

158 EDWARD

You mean, while I'm here.

159 WILL

I'd just like to know the true versions of things. Events. Stories. You.

Edward LAUGHS a little, which becomes a COUGH. The HACKING escalates until another drink of water gets it under control. It's not clear whether any of this was an act to keep from talking.

160 EDWARD

Your mother hasn't been keeping up the pool. If you wanted to you could...

161 WILL

I will.

162 EDWARD

You know where the chemicals are?

163 WILL

I used to do it when you were gone, remember? I used to do it a lot.

He didn't mean for that to sound so pointed. Taking the half-empty Ensure, Will gets up to go. He's at the door when...

164 EDWARD

I was never much for being at home, Will. It's too confining. And this, here. Being stuck in bed. Dying is the worst thing that ever happened to me.

He smiles at his joke.

165 WILL

I thought you weren't dying.

166 EDWARD

I said this isn't how I go. The last part is much more unusual. Trust me on that.

UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - DAY

Shutting the door behind himself, Will drinks the rest of the Ensure himself. Edward was right. It tastes horrible.

Heading for the stairs, Will walks past an open door. As he leaves frame, we STAY BEHIND to look inside...

WILL'S BEDROOM - DAY [FLASHBACK]

..WHERE AN EIGHT-YEAR OLD WILL IS PROPPED UP IN BED, HIS FACE COVERED WITH CHICKEN POX AND PINK CALAMINE LOTION. HE'S SHOWING EDWARD HOW MANY BUMPS THERE ARE ON HIS ARM.

167 YOUNG WILL

Dr. Bennett says I'm going to have to be home for a week.

168 EDWARD

That's nothing. I once had to stay in bed for three years.

169 YOUNG WILL

Did you have chicken pox?

170 EDWARD

I wish.

CUT TO:

TINY CHURCH - DAY

Wearing a white shirt and tie, YOUNG EDWARD -- still about 10 -- sings "Down to the River My Lord" along with the CONGREGATION. His voice is high and thin, but he gives it his all.

Suddenly, his voice CRACKS and DROPS a half-octave. And then another. His friends Wilbur Freeley and Ruthie look over, wondering what's wrong. Embarrassed, Edward just keeps SINGING, trying to follow along with the baritone part.

He pulls at his collar. Then pulls again, his face getting red. Starting to panic, he loosens his tie. He's starting to undo the collar button when it POPS off by itself. Two more buttons fly off. One hits a CHUBBY WOMAN in the neck.

ON HIS SHOES

As we watch, Edward's pant cuffs rise inch by inch -- that's how fast he's growing.

171 EDWARD

Truth is, no one quite knew what was wrong. Most times, a person grows up gradually. I found myself in a hurry.

YOUNG EDWARD'S BEDROOM - DAY

Young Edward lies in bed, his limbs connected to various pulleys and levers to support his weight. He has a dozen encyclopedias around him, and another dozen on the floor.

172 EDWARD

My muscles couldn't keep up with my bones, and my bones couldn't keep up with my body's ambition. So I spent the better part of three years confined to my bed, with the World Book Encyclopedia being my only means of exploration. I had made it all the way to the "G's," hoping to find an answer to my gigantificationism, when I uncovered an article about the common goldfish.

INSERT: The encyclopedia article, complete with drawings.

173 YOUNG EDWARD

(reading)

"Kept in a small bowl, the goldfish will remain small. With more space, the fish can grow double, triple, or quadruple its size."

Young Edward thinks this through.

174 EDWARD

It occurred to me then, that perhaps the reason for my growth was that I was intended for larger things. After all, a giant man can't have an ordinary-sized life.

BASEBALL FIELD - DAY

The CRACK of a bat announces the game-winning home run. The crowd CHEERS the swing, and especially the batter as he rounds the bases.

Although we've seen him briefly before, this is our first real exposure to GROWN-UP EDWARD, who we'll follow from roughly the ages of 18 to 30.

175 EDWARD

As soon as my bones had settled in their adult configuration, I set upon my plan to make a bigger place for myself in Ashton.

SCHOOL FIELDS - DAY

SINGLE SHOTS: Football hero Edward leads his team to victory. On the sidelines, a PRETTY GIRL admits the name of her secret love:

176 GIRL

Edward Bloom!

The other GIRLS SQUEAL in agreement. Don Price looks over, glowers.

NEIGHBORHOOD - DAY

SINGLE SHOT: A lawnmower ROARS along the grass. We LOOK UP to see who's pushing it, but it's not Edward. It's one of his teenage EMPLOYEES.

Edward is back at the truck, which is painted to read, "Bloom Landscaping." He has workers on every lawn.

He signs an autograph for an ADMIRING CUB SCOUT.

BASKETBALL COURT - DAY

Edward takes an impossible shot at the buzzer from the other end of the court. Naturally, he makes it, winning the game.

As the crowd goes wild for Edward, Don Price is the only teammate who doesn't mob him.

TOWN - DAY

Edward carries a dog out of a burning house.

SCIENCE FAIR - DAY

Edward wins a blue ribbon for his invention, a machine labelled "Perpetual Motion." He and the JUDGE pose for a photograph. A FLASH.

Pissed, Don Price throws his crappy lima bean plants in the trash.

HIGH SCHOOL STAGE - DAY

A dashinglly handsome Edward leads the CAST out for a curtain call. He's the star of the show. Off to the side, we see Don Price is the ass-end of a horse costume.

Edward soaks in his applause, smiling and gracious.

GRADUATION STAGE - DAY

Edward accepts his diploma. The PRINCIPAL hugs him tight.

177 EDWARD

I was the biggest thing Ashton had ever seen.
Until one day, a stranger arrived.

FARM - DAY

As two FARMERS shake their heads, we REVERSE to a show a massive hole punched through the side of a barn. It's roughly the shape of man, but no human could be that large.

SHEEP PEN - DAY

Two fat ewes look up, a shadow falling across them. They BLEAT in panic as reach in and scoop them up. Their protests continue as they're carried away, one under each arm. We still haven't seen the full stranger.

TWO OVERSIZED HANDS

COURT HOUSE - DAY

A MOB of about 50 have gathered, many of them with shotguns. Amid the crowd we see Don Price.

178 SHARECROPPER

He ate an entire cornfield!

179 LITTLE GIRL

He ate my dog!

180 HOT-BLOODED SHOTGUN Toter

If you ain't gonna stop him Mayor, we will!

181 MAYOR

I won't have mob violence in this town. Now, has someone tried talking to him?

182 SOME FARMER

You can't reason with 'im!

183 SHEPHARD

He's a monster!

Agreement from the crowd. And then...

184 A VOICE

I'll do it.

Everyone turns to see who said that. The crowd parts to reveal none other than Edward Bloom. Don Price glowers.

185 EDWARD

I'll talk to him. See if I can get him to move on.

186 MAYOR

Son, that creature could crush you without trying.

187 EDWARD

Trust me, he'll have to try.

HILL OUTSIDE ASHTON - DAY

Edward climbs up the last bit of the steep hillside, reaching the mouth of a cave. Outside, buzzards squabble over the remains of the giant's feast: broken barrels, bones picked clean.

In his most serious voice, Edward calls out:

188 EDWARD

Hello!

There's no answer.

189 EDWARD

My name is Edward Bloom! I want to talk to you!

From deep in a cave, a thunderous voice:

190 VOICE

GO AWAY!

The giant's voice has such force, it blows Edward's hair back.

191 EDWARD

I'm not going anywhere until you show yourself.

A beat, then we hear a RUMBLE, like a train coming. Edward braces himself, fists ready for a fight, if that's what it's going to take.

As the RUMBLE gets louder, the ground starts to shake. Even Edward starts to worry. Just how big is this guy?

192 EDWARD

Armed with the foreknowledge of my own death, I knew the giant couldn't kill me. All the same, I preferred to keep my bones unbroken.

Edward picks up a stone, ready to play David to Goliath.

Then suddenly, the giant bursts forth. Hunched over, he slams into a stunned Edward, knocking him halfway down the hill.

KARL THE GIANT is bigger than any man you've ever seen. Not just tall, but massive. He's completely feral, with a beard to his elbow and skin scratched and blistered. What remains of his clothes are ragged and muddy. God knows what's living in his matted hair.

Karl leans over Edward, blocking the sun. Edward throws his rock, but it just bounces off. The giant didn't even notice it.

193 KARL

Why are you here?

Edward ponders the best response, settling on...

194 EDWARD

So you can eat me. The town decided to send a human sacrifice, and I volunteered.

Karl's eyes narrow, confused. Edward stands up.

195 EDWARD

My arms are a little stringy, but there's some good eating on my legs. I mean, I'd be tempted to eat them myself.

(beat)

So I guess, just, if you could get it over with quick. Because I'm not much for pain, really.

Edward closes his eyes, hands at his side, ready to be eaten. Karl just stares at him, not sure what to do.

After a beat, Edward opens his eyes a tiny bit, just to see what the giant is doing. Relieved to see he's not licking his chops --

196 EDWARD

Look, I can't go back. I'm a human sacrifice. If I go back, everyone will think I'm a coward. And I'd rather be dinner than a coward.

Karl sits down with a BOOM, dejected.

197 EDWARD

Here, start with my hand. It'll be an appetizer.

Reaching up, Edward shoves his hand into Karl's mouth. But the giant spits it back out.

198 KARL

I don't want to eat you. I don't want to eat anybody. It's just I get so hungry. I'm too big.

And that's the sad truth. Karl is less a monster than a freak -- a giant man, but in the end, just a man.

Edward takes a seat beside him.

199 EDWARD

Did you ever think maybe you're not too big? Maybe this town's just too small. I mean, look at it.

Circling behind them, we look down at Ashton -- a tiny town in a tiny valley.

200 EDWARD

Hardly two stories in the whole place. Now I've heard in real cities, they've got buildings so tall you can't even see the tops of 'em.

201 KARL

Really?

202 EDWARD

Wouldn't lie to you. And they've got all-you-can-eat buffets. You can eat a lot, can't you?

203 KARL

I can.

204 EDWARD

So why are you wasting your time in a small town? You're a big man. You should be in the big city.

Karl smiles, but then it fades. A certain sad suspicion --

205 KARL

You're just trying to get me to leave, aren't you? That's why they sent you here.

206 EDWARD

What's your name, Giant?

207 KARL

Karl.

208 EDWARD

Mine's Edward. And truthfully, I do want you to leave, Karl. But I want to leave with you.

(closer)

You think this town is too small for you, well, it's too small for a man of my ambition. I can't see staying here a day longer.

209 KARL

You don't like it?

210 EDWARD

I love every square inch of it. But I can feel the edges closing in on me. A man's life can only grow to a certain size in a place like this.

(beat)

So what do you say? Join me?

Karl thinks a moment. Then --

211 KARL

Okay.

212 EDWARD

Okay.

They shake on it.

213 EDWARD

Now first, we gotta get you ready for the city.

RIVER - DAY

IN A SINGLE SHOT, Karl cuts his hair with hedge clippers, while Edward cuts up a surplus army tent to make him a shirt.

MAIN STREET OF ASHTON - DAY

Spirits buoyed by the high school MARCHING BAND, all the good CITIZENS of Ashton are gathered to see off Edward and Karl. There's a few tears amid the familiar faces.

214 MAYOR

(loudly, for the crowd)

Edward Bloom, first son of Ashton, it's with a heavy heart we see you go. But take with you this Key to the City, and know that any time you want to come back, all our doors are open to you.

Edward ducks a bit so the Mayor can put the key around his neck. The crowd CHEERS. And with that, Edward and Karl start walking, waving as they go.

Only DON PRICE, smoking on the corner, isn't sad to see Edward go. He crushes his cigarette under his heel. He wishes he could crush Edward.

Many of the townfolk come onto the street to hug Edward or shake his hand.

215 EDWARD

That afternoon as I left Ashton, everyone seemed to have advice.

216 VARIOUS TOWNFOLK

Find yourself a nice girl! Don't trust anyone in Kentucky! Watch your pride, Edward Bloom!

217 EDWARD

But there was one person whose counsel I held above all others.

As the crowd parts, he finds himself face to face with

THE OLD WOMAN.

The ruckus slows and quiets, as if a strange spell has been cast. She motions for Edward to lean down, so she can whisper something to him. Although we're VERY CLOSE, we can't hear her voice.

218 EDWARD

She said that the biggest fish in the river gets that way by never being caught.

The advice only succeeds in confusing Edward.

219 EDWARD

(to the Old Woman)
Okay. Thanks.

Edward and Karl keep walking. The Old Woman shuffles off, somehow knowing her advice will go unheeded.

220 KARL

What did she say?

221 EDWARD

Beats me.

ROAD - DAY

We TILT UP from the road to reveal Edward and Karl walking out of Ashton. Each wears a backpack with all his earthly possessions.

222 EDWARD

There were two roads out of Ashton, a new one which was paved, and an older one that wasn't. People didn't use the old road anymore, and it had developed the reputation of being haunted.

Edward and Karl come to a bend, where the paved road veers
is blocked with signs and warnings of danger.

223 EDWARD

Since I had no intention of ever returning to Ashton, this seemed as good a time as any to find out what lay down that old road.

Karl looks at the dirt road, wary.

224 KARL

You know anyone's who's taken it?

225 EDWARD

That poet, Norther Winslow did. He was going to Paris, France. He must have liked it, because no one ever heard from him again.

(beat)

Tell you what. You take the other way and I'll cut through here. Meet you on the far side.

A little paranoid...

226 KARL

You're not trying to run away?

227 EDWARD

Just to be sure, you can take my pack.

Karl perks up, even though it means more for him to carry.

DIRT ROAD - DAY

The road is overgrown, but not altogether creepy. The sun is still shining, and the birds still CHIRPING.

Spinning the Key to the City, Edward WHISTLES, because it's a day meant for whistling.

FURTHER ALONG - ROUGH PATH

The road has narrowed to a rough path. Spikes of sunlight break through the thick canopy, catching particles in the air. Still, Edward WHISTLES.

Coming around a bend, his PITCH DROPS as he sees thick, thorny vines growing across the path. He stops. For the first time, he realizes the birds have stopped singing. The forest is dead quiet.

He looks back the way he came. It's tempting to go back. It would be easier to go back. But Edward presses on.

He carefully steps through the thorns. His trouser legs catch on the barbs. We can hear the fabric TEAR.

FURTHER ALONG

A scratched and sweaty Edward waves off various STINGING BUGS flying at him, finally whipping off his hat to swat at them. Just then a CAWING crow swoops down and grabs the hat right out of his hands.

228 EDWARD

You stupid sonofa...

He stops his swearing, but grabs a rock and throws it. The stone ricochets off a tree and into a BEE'S NEST. The swarm roars out.

Edward high-tails it, each step still precarious.

THE DARK FOREST - DAY [LATER]

Edward is bruised, battered and bee-stung.

A half-broken sign lies in the road. Edward picks it up. Reads it:

WARNING!

JUMPING SPIDERS!

Sure enough, up ahead he sees the path is overgrown with thick cobwebs, heavy from the rain.

229 EDWARD

There comes a point where a reasonable man will swallow his pride and admit he's made a terrible mistake. The truth is, I was never a reasonable man.

Edward tosses the sign and forges ahead, into the spiderwebs.

230 EDWARD

And what I recalled of Sunday School was that the more difficult something became, the more rewarding it was in the end.

CLEARING / THE ROAD - DAY

Edward emerges from the forest, brushing the last cobwebs off and shaking the spiders from his shirt. One is stuck in his sleeve, and he has to dance to get it out. Even then, he still keeps twitching, convinced another one is left behind.

At his feet, the gravel road has returned, smooth and dusty and comforting.

Ahead lies a tiny one-street town -- smaller even than Ashton -- with powerlines emerging from the woods to feed it. Dangling from the line above he sees two dozen pairs of shoes, their laces tied together.

He passes a sign that reads "Welcome To Spectre!"

THE TOWN OF SPECTRE - DAY

It's a main street with stores on each side: Cole's Pharmacy, Talbot's Five and Dime, Al's Country Store. Everything is old, but this isn't a ghost town. In fact, there's a group of about 20 CITIZENS spilling out to see Edward approach. Most are smiling. There are even a few tears of joy.

What's more, all of these people are barefoot.

231 MAN'S VOICE

Friend!

A forty-year old man named BEAMEN comes out of the seed store to greet Edward. Friendly but a little drunk, he's the closest thing the town has to a mayor. He's carrying a clipboard.

232 BEAMEN

Welcome to ya. What's your name?

233 EDWARD

Edward Bloom.

Beamen checks the clipboard. Not finding the name, he flips forward a few pages. Still looking...

234 BEAMEN

Bloom like a flower?

235 EDWARD

Yes.

236 BEAMEN

Oh. Here! Right here. Edward Bloom. We weren't expecting you yet.

Still confused...

237 EDWARD

You were expecting me?

238 BEAMEN

Not yet.

A helpful woman named MILDRED chimes in:

239 MILDRED

You must have taken a shortcut.

240 EDWARD

I did. It nearly killed me.

241 BEAMEN

Mmm-hmm. Life'll do that to you. And truthfully, the long way is easier, but it's longer.

242 MILDRED

Much longer.

243 BEAMEN

And you're here now, and that's what matters.

Beamen's daughter JENNY (8) hides behind her father, peering around to look at the handsome stranger.

244 EDWARD

What is this place?

245 BEAMEN

The town of Spectre. Best kept secret in Alabama.

Says here you're from Ashton, right? Last person we had from Ashton was Norther Winslow.

246 EDWARD

The poet? What ever happened to him?

247 BEAMEN

He's still here. Let me buy you a drink. I'll tell you all about it. Hell, I'll have him tell you.

248 EDWARD

No. I've gotta meet somebody. I'm already running late.

He didn't mean it as a joke, but for some reason, everyone's laughing.

249 BEAMEN

Son, I already told you. You're early.

BEAMEN'S HOUSE - DAY

Sitting at the kitchen table, Edward takes a second slice of apple pie. He and Beamen are joined by NORTHER WINSLOW (30), who fancies himself a cultured artist, though he's never left the state.

250 BEAMEN

Now tell me if that isn't the best pie you ever ate.

251 EDWARD

It truly is.

UNDER THE TABLE

Young Jenny is stealthily untying the laces on Edward's shoes.

252 NORTHER WINSLOW

Everything here tastes better. Even the water is sweet. Never gets too hot, too cold, too humid. At night the wind goes through the trees and you'd swear there was a whole symphony out there, playing just for you.

Suddenly, Jenny YANKS OFF Edward's shoes. She races for the door.

253 EDWARD

Hey!

He chases after her.

TOWN / MAIN STREET - DAY

As she runs, Jenny ties Edward's laces together. Reaching the edge of town, she tosses the shoes up and around the power line -- a perfect throw. There's no way he's ever getting them down.

The gathered citizens of Spectre CHEER for Edward, who is confused and overwhelmed. The women hug him. Men shake his hand.

Still focused on his shoes...

254 EDWARD

Wait! I need those!

255 NORTHER WINSLOW

There is no softer ground than town.

256 MILDRED

That rhymes!

257 BEAMEN

He is our poet laureate.

The townsfolk continue to congratulate Edward...

258 EDWARD

Sometimes in a dream, you'll visit places that seem instantly familiar, filled with friends you've never met.

UNDER A TREE - DUSK

Edward sits with Norther Winslow. The fireflies are out.
Thousands of them.

259 EDWARD

A man might travel his entire life and never find a place so inviting. My journey had scarcely begun, and I had arrived.

Norther hands him his notebook.

260 NORTHER WINSLOW

I've been working on this poem for 12 years.

261 EDWARD

Really.

262 NORTHER WINSLOW

There's a lot of expectation. I don't want to disappoint my fans.

A beat.

263 EDWARD

It's only three lines long.

Norther grabs his notebook back.

264 NORTHER WINSLOW

This is why you don't show work in progress.

265 EDWARD

Norther, do you ever regret not making it to Paris?

266 NORTHER WINSLOW

I can't imagine any place better than here.

267 EDWARD

You're a poet. You oughta be able to. And maybe if you'd seen more, you could.

Norther doesn't answer. Just goes back to his notebook.

BY THE RIVER - NIGHT

By the light of the full moon, Edward soaks his feet in the water, trying to make sense of it all. The Key to the City dangles around his neck.

He stares at himself in the reflection. He smiles.

It's then that a WOMAN emerges at the far side of the river. No telling where she came from -- she must have been swimming underwater. We never see her face.

She stands in the river with her bare back to Edward, squeezing the water out of her golden hair, oblivious to his presence. Edward is breathless. It's the first woman he's seen in her natural state, and he doesn't dare move lest he frighten her away.

Then he sees the snake.

It's a cottonmouth, has to be. It leaves a break in the water, its small reptilian head aiming for her flesh. There's no decision to be made. On pure instinct, Edward dives in. He swims as hard as can, just as it's about to strike.

GRABBING THE SNAKE

The woman dives back underwater, understandably terrified that a man is coming at her.

268 EDWARD

No, it's okay! I got it. I got the snake.

As the splashing subsides, Edward looks at what he holds in his hands. Which isn't a snake at all, but rather a common stick. And a non-threatening one at that.

While Edward ponders his mistake, he looks around to discover that the Girl in the River is gone. He never even saw her face.

269 EDWARD

Wait! I'm sorry. Hello?!

Edward keeps expecting her to surface, somewhere, but she never does. He stands alone in the river, wondering what tricks his eyes are playing on him.

BY THE RIVER - NIGHT - CONTINUOUS

270 A GIRL'S VOICE

There's leeches in there!

Edward looks to the bank, where young Jenny Hill is watching him.

271 EDWARD
Did you see that woman?

272 JENNY
What did she look like?

273 EDWARD
Well, she...uh...

274 JENNY
Was she nekkid?

Embarrassed to admit it...

275 EDWARD
Yeah.

276 JENNY
(matter-of-fact)
It's not a woman, it's a fish. No one ever catches her.

Given the day he's had so far, Edward isn't inclined to follow up on the issue. He starts to wade back to the bank.

277 JENNY
Fish looks diff'rent to diff'rent people. My daddy said it looked like the coon dog he had when he was kid, back from the dead.

Edward climbs up onto the shore, completely drenched. He pulls up his pant legs to reveal three shiny leeches clinging to his skin.

278 EDWARD
Shoot.

He starts to work pulling them off.

PATH BACK TO TOWN - NIGHT

Edward and Jenny walk back.

279 JENNY

How old are you?

280 EDWARD

Eighteen.

281 JENNY

I'm eight. That means when I'm eighteen, you'll be 28. And when I'm 28, you'll only be 38.

282 EDWARD

(a little wary)

You're pretty good at arithmetic.

283 JENNY

And when I'm 38, you'll be 48. And that's not much difference at all.

Eager to get off this subject...

284 EDWARD

Sure is a lot now, though, huh?

MAIN STREET - NIGHT

As Edward and Jenny approach Main Street, they find "downtown" has been transformed. Lanterns and streamers hang on cables across the street, and a small stage has been built at one end to hold FIDDLERS.

The whole town is there in celebration of its newest citizen, Edward Bloom. Before he can protest, two WOMEN have grabbed him by the arms, pulling him in to dance with them.

The resulting dance number seems both choreographed and complete chaos. From FARMER to BAKER'S WIFE, everyone wants to dance with Edward, who finds himself tossed around like a stick caught in a whirlpool. Still, he's having a blast.

Jenny grabs both his hands, and they spin wildly.

Beamen plucks his LAUGHING daughter away to dance with her.
Then Mildred cuts in to dance with Edward. It's hard to hear over the MUSIC.

285 MILDRED

Jenny thinks you're quite a catch. We all do.

286 EDWARD

(not hearing)
What?

287 MILDRED

I said you're quite a catch!

Edward stops dancing. A beat, then he heads for the edge of the crowd. Beamen is there, with Jenny on his shoulders.

288 EDWARD

I have to leave. Tonight.

289 BEAMEN

Why?

290 EDWARD

This town is everything a man could ask for. And if I were to end up here, I'd consider myself lucky. But the fact is, I'm not ready to end up anywhere.

No one's ever left.

292 JENNY

How are you gonna make it without your shoes?

293 EDWARD

I suspect it will hurt a lot.

And with that, Edward walks down Main Street. The townspeople stop dancing, disbelieving, some shaking their heads.

Poor Edward Bloom's gone crazy.

294 BEAMEN

(calling after him)

You won't find a better place!

295 EDWARD

I don't expect to.

Jenny runs to him. She'd tackle him if she could.

296 JENNY

Promise me you'll come back.

297 EDWARD

I promise. Someday. When I'm really supposed to.

It's not good enough, but it will have to do. Edward keeps walking.

THE DARK FOREST - NIGHT

VARIOUS SHOTS: Edward negotiates the thorns in his bare feet. It's horrible. Almost unendurable.

And then it gets worse.

The trees ahead are moving. At first, it just seems to be the wind blowing the branches, but as we hear the wood CRACKING and GROANING, there's no mistaking it: they're trying to block him.

Snake-like WHITE ROOTS shoot out of the ground, grabbing for his ankles. He leaps up, kicking off one tree trunk to grab another one's branches. He swings off, lands and rolls. Now all the trees are moving to block him, their dark shapes towering over him in the flashes of LIGHTNING.

298 EDWARD

As difficult as it was to reach Spectre, I was fated to get there eventually. After all, no man can avoid reaching the end of his life.

As he ducks under branches, the chain holding the Key to the City gets caught. He's almost strangled, but the chain finally breaks. The silver key disappears into the mud.

Scrambling forward, he looks for a way out. But the trees have encircled him, their spiky crowns bending down to crush him.

He SCREAMS up at the night, until his breath is gone.

299 EDWARD

And then I realized, this wasn't the end of my life.

With a sudden calm...

300 EDWARD

(aloud)

This isn't how I die.

Another lightning FLASH, and suddenly the trees are back where they've always been. Edward is lying shoeless and torn in a muddy puddle, staring up at the rain. And LAUGHING.

THE ROAD - DAY

His bare foot steps onto asphalt.

301 A DEEP VOICE

Friend!

Edward turns to see

302 KARL to his right, coming down the larger, paved road.

303 KARL

What happened to your shoes?

Edward looks down at his muddy, bloody feet.

304 EDWARD

They got ahead of me.

With that, the men start walking down the larger road.

CROSSFADE TO:

DINING ROOM - NIGHT

Edward and Will sit at opposite ends of the table, with Sandra and Josephine in the middle. Although Edward has a small plate of food in front of him, he hasn't touched it. He's exhausted from the trip downstairs, but determined to maintain the family dinner ritual.

The other three eat awkwardly, each CLINK and SCRAPE of a knife or fork resonating. Will finally breaks the silence.

305 WILL

I don't know if you've seen it, but Josephine has some photos in the most recent Newsweek.

306 SANDRA

Really! That's wonderful.

307 JOSEPHINE

I spent a week in Morocco for the story. It was incredible.

308 SANDRA

We'll have to pick up a copy.

A beat. As Will scoops out another serving of potatoes, Edward suddenly speaks:

309 EDWARD

I don't know if you're aware of this, Josephine, but African parrots, in their native home of the Congo -- they speak only French.

All three stop to listen.

310 JOSEPHINE

(amused) Really.

311 EDWARD

You're lucky to get four words out of them in English. But if you were to walk through the jungle, you'd hear them speaking the most elaborate French. Those parrots talk about everything: politics, movies, fashion -- everything but religion.

Taking the bait...

312 WILL

Why not religion, Dad?

313 EDWARD

It's rude to talk about religion. You never know who you're going to offend.

A beat.

314 WILL

Josephine actually went to the Congo last year.

315 EDWARD

Oh, so you know.

GROCERY STORE - NIGHT

Will shakes a shopping cart free from the pile-up while his mother checks her list.

AT THE PRODUCE SECTION

Sandra starts to bag string beans.

316 WILL

Mom, would you say you understand Dad?

317 SANDRA

Of course.

318 WILL

What I mean is, do you really know what's going on in his head?

319 SANDRA

Yes.

320 WILL

How is that possible? I mean, you try to ask him a question and suddenly it's another one of his stories.

(decidedly)

You can't honestly say you know him.

321 SANDRA

Yes, Will, I do. And don't presume things you don't know.

She's more amused than annoyed, but Will is entering dangerous territory.

322 SANDRA

Would you say you understand Josephine?

323 WILL

Yes. But that's a different...

324 SANDRA

No it's not. It's exactly the same. Your father and I met, we dated, and we married -- we chose each other -- because we understood each other on some fundamental level. Just the same as you two.

She moves on to the carrots.

325 WILL

Josephine and I have a lot in common.

326 SANDRA

Yes, you both think William Bloom is a very smart man.

(beat)

The problem is, you only see me as your mother, and not as someone's wife. And I've been his wife longer than I've been your mother. You can't discount that.

327 WILL

True. But I've known him my whole life, and I don't feel like I know him at all. Or ever will.

With a look, Sandra acknowledges the stakes.

328 SANDRA

I know it's not easy. Just remember, he didn't choose to be your father and you didn't choose to be his son. You just ended up together. You could pick numbers out of a dark bag and it'd be just the same. If you ask me, it's a wonder parents and children can stand each other at all.

329 WILL

But I understand you, Mom. I always have.

330 SANDRA

Well, clearly you don't. But I'm not the mystery you're trying to solve right now.

AT THE CHECKOUT - NIGHT

Reaching the CASHIER, Sandra hands over her coupons. Will is approaching with a Newsweek magazine.

Two checkstands over, an ATTRACTIVE BLONDE WOMAN in her 50's is getting her change. Though she's Sandra's generation, she carries herself like a much younger woman, with blue jeans and sneakers.

She accidentally makes eye contact with Will as he passes. We HOLD ON the woman, who tracks Will as he reaches Sandra. It's hard to read her reaction: does she recognize him, or just find him attractive?

Will notices the gaze. The woman turns away.

Will racks his brain -- does he know this woman?

331 SANDRA

Before I forget, your father has papers in the basement I'd like you to go through. I wouldn't know what's important.

332 WILL

(distracted)

Mom, do you know who that is? Blonde hair.

Sandra looks. After a beat, the Blonde Woman turns again, semi-casually. Noticing that both Will and Sandra are looking, she smiles a little before taking her cart to leave.

333 SANDRA

(no idea)

Was she one of your teachers?

334 WILL

No. But it's weird. She seemed to recognize me.

335 SANDRA

(to the cashier)

Do you know who that is?

The Cashier turns to look. He can only get a profile as the woman leaves.

336 CASHIER

Never seen her before. Pretty, though.

GUEST BEDROOM - NIGHT

A portable fan quietly WHIRRS in the corner. Turned low, the RADIO on the nightstand is playing a call-in AM sports show, just a wash of background chatter. Edward lies asleep on his back.

At the window, Josephine quietly lowers the shade. She reaches over Edward to switch off the radio. He stirs from the silence -- he wasn't fully asleep -- and sees Josephine stretched over him.

337 EDWARD
 (playfully lecherous)
 Hello.

She smiles.

338 JOSEPHINE
 Hi. How are you feeling?

339 EDWARD
 I was dreaming.

340 JOSEPHINE
 What were you dreaming about?

He tries to recollect, but it's already gone. Josephine motions, is it okay for her to sit on the bed? He nods.

341 EDWARD
 I don't usually remember unless they're especially portentous. You know what that word means, portentous?

She shakes her head.

342 EDWARD
 Means when you dream about something that's going to happen.
 (beat, gathering)
 Like one night, I had a dream where this crow came and told me, "Your Aunt is going to die." I was so scared I woke up my parents. They told me it was just a dream, to go back to bed. But the next morning, my Aunt Stacy was₁ dead.

343 JOSEPHINE

That's terrible.

344 EDWARD

Terrible for her, but think about me, young boy with that kind of power. Wasn't three weeks later that the crow came back to me in a dream and said, "Your Grampa is going to die." Well, I ran right back to my parents. My father said, no, Gramps is fine, but I could see there was trepidation. And true enough, that next morning my Grampa was dead.

He sits up a bit in bed, his strength returning.

345 EDWARD

For the next couple weeks, I didn't have another dream. Until one night the crow came back and said, "Your Daddy is going to die."

(beat)

Well, I didn't know what to do. But finally I told my father. And he said not to worry, but I could tell he was rattled. That next day, he wasn't himself, always looking around, waiting for something to drop on his head. Because the crow didn't tell how it was going to happen, just those words: your Daddy is going to die. Well, he went into town early and was gone for a long time. And when he finally came back, he looked terrible, like he was waiting for the axe to fall all day. He said to my mother, "Good God. I just had the worst day of my life."

(beat)

"You think you've had a bad day," she said. "This morning the milkman dropped dead on the porch!"

Josephine smiles, a half-laugh, which gets him smiling too.

A long beat. Then, deadpan...

346 EDWARD
Because see, my mother was banging the milkman.

347 JOSEPHINE
No, I understand.

348 EDWARD
He was slipping her a little extra cream.

She nods, a bit more of a laugh.

349 EDWARD
He was filling her basket. He was making deliveries around back.

As Edward continues, she can't help but laugh harder, especially as the metaphors get more vulgar.

350 EDWARD
He was buttering her rolls. Pumping her churn.
Splashing milk in her box.

351 JOSEPHINE
Stop.

352 EDWARD
They were squeezing the cheese. Clanking the bottles. Licking the popsicle.

She's starting to cry from laughing.

353 EDWARD
Cracking the eggs and making an omelet.

With that, he stops. She regains her composure.

354 EDWARD
Spoonng the sherbet.

355 JOSEPHINE

(interrupting)

Can I take your picture?

356 EDWARD

You don't need a picture. Just look up handsome in the dictionary.

357 JOSEPHINE

Please?

He rolls his eyes, why not.

Josephine leaves, heading down the hall to get her camera. We STAY WITH Edward in bed.

358 JOSEPHINE

I have photos from the wedding to show you.

There's a great one of you and my father. I had an extra print made.

Edward grimaces, a flash of pain. Around others, he's hiding how much it hurts, but alone we can see how bad it is.

He controls his breathing, trying to push through it.

359 JOSEPHINE

I want to see pictures of your wedding. I've never seen any.

She returns with her camera. Edward smiles, doing a good job masking the pain.

360 EDWARD

That's because we didn't have a wedding. Your mother-in-law was never supposed to marry me. She was engaged to somebody else.

361 JOSEPHINE
 (loading film)
 I never knew.

362 EDWARD
 Will never told you that?
 (she shakes her head)
 Probably just as well. He would have told it wrong anyway. All the facts and none of the flavor.

363 JOSEPHINE
 Oh, so this is a tall tale?

364 EDWARD
 Well, it's not a short one.

A devilish smile. Pushing past Edward, we settle on the whirling fan.

MATCH CUT TO:

A SPINNING PINWHEEL

held by a LITTLE BOY. He's slumped over his FATHER's shoulder, being carried towards a big-top tent. We are...

OLYMPIA CIRCUS - NIGHT

..WHERE THE SECOND-RATE CARNIVAL IS PARKED FOR THE MOMENT
IN AN ALABAMA FIELD. TO THE LEFT, WE SPOT EDWARD, 20-ISH, HALFWAY THROUGH A BAG OF PEANUTS. HE'S STILL CARRYING THE BACKPACK WE SAW EARLIER, AND SCRATCHED UP FROM HIS TRIP THROUGH SPECTRE.

365 EDWARD
 I had just left Ashton, and was on my way to discover my destiny. Not knowing what that would be exactly, I explored every opportunity that presented itself.

Joining the crowd, he heads into the big-top.

BIG TOP - NIGHT

A troupe of STILT-WALKING FIREBREATHERS finishes their act to tremendous APPLAUSE.

As the performers clear away, the circus' owner-and-ringmaster AMOS CALLOWAY (50) approaches the stands. He may only be four feet tall, but Amos has a titanic presence.

366 AMOS

Ladies and Gentlemen, you may think you've seen the unusual. You may think you've seen the bizarre. But I've travelled to the five corners of the world, and let me tell you, I've never seen anything like this.

From behind Amos, CARNIES start rolling a massive ball towards the crowd.

367 AMOS

When I found this man, he was picking oranges in Florida. His fellow workers called him El Penumbra -- The Shadow -- because when you were working beside him, he blocked out the daylight. He could take a whole tree in his hands and shake off the fruit. I had to pay his crew boss $10,000 just so I could take him with me.

Amos comes up to a MIDDLE-AGED WOMAN in the first row, a quieter moment.

368 AMOS

Not to alarm you, Ma'am. But if this man wanted to, he could crush your head between his toes.

(she trembles)

But he won't.

(a long beat)

He's not going to hurt her, folks, because he's our own Gentle Giant. Ladies and Gentlemen, I give you Colossus!

The carnies back away from the ball as a deep DRUM ROLL begins. A moment, then the ball starts to bulge from inside.

A foot suddenly bursts out from within. GASPS from the crowd. That foot is massive. In the stands, Edward looks closer. Intrigued.

As the drum beat intensifies, a second foot breaks out. Followed by hands. Shoulders. Finally, the head. This is COLOSSUS.

From a very LOW ANGLE, we look up to see just how massive he is. He seems to fill the Heavens. With his shaved head and giant club, he seems more ogre than man.

In the bandstands, a YOUNG BOY's jaw drops in awe. Colossus walks down the row, letting the crowd get a better look at him. Some reach out to touch him, disbelieving. A tight spotlight follows him, revealing faces in the crowd.

Colossus passes Edward, who seems unimpressed. He leans with the spotlight, WHISTLING to get the big man's attention.

He points to the edge of the stands, where his friend is sitting on the dirt -- stands up, so big the spotlight has to widen just to hold him. He's a good foot taller than Colossus. There's a GASP from the crowd, along with nervous anticipation -- what will happen next?

KARL THE GIANT

ANGLE ON Amos, stunned, megaphone dangling.

ANGLE ON Colossus, realizing the gig is up. With a resigned shrug, he rests his club on his shoulder and walks away into the shadows.

CUT TO:

BIG-TOP - NIGHT / LATER

As the stands empty, Edward and Karl talk to Amos.

369 AMOS

What's his name? Does he talk? It's not important.

370 KARL

Karl.

371 AMOS

Tell me Karl, have you ever heard of the term
"involuntary servitude?"

Karl shakes his head.

372 AMOS

"Unconscionable contract?"

Nope.

373 AMOS

Great, great. That's fantastic.

374 EDWARD

It was on that night Karl met his destiny. And I met mine. Almost.

BIG TOP - NIGHT - CONTINUOUS

As Amos pulls Karl aside to give him the hard sell, Edward notices a BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WOMAN (16) leaving with her family. She's wearing a blue dress and hat. For no good reason, she looks back at Edward.

The two make eye contact. And as they do, all motion FREEZES.

A fiery baton remains mid-twirl, flames locked in place. A spilled box of popcorn hangs in mid-air, each kernel like a snowflake. Even the elephant is mid-poop.

Only Edward is free to move, winding his way between the frozen bodies, ducking underneath arms to get closer and closer to this woman.

375 EDWARD

They say when you meet the love of your life, time stops. And that's true. What they don't tell you, is that once time starts again, it moves extra fast to catch up.

Suddenly, everything RUSHES. The crowd becomes a blur, and the young woman is lost in its wake. Now it's Edward who's frozen, helpless in time.

DIRT PARKING LOT - NIGHT

Edward checks in windows as cars pull out, searching for his fated love. Not finding her, he becomes more frantic, running down the rows.

CROSSFADE TO:

THE EMPTY LOT

Colossus is thumbing for a ride. The last pickup truck stops and lets him climb in back.

As the truck pulls out, it passes a dejected Edward. He'll never find that girl, the love of his life.

BIG-TOP - NIGHT

Amos leans over so Karl can sign a contract on his back. He spots Edward walking back into the tent.

376 AMOS

Hey kid! Your friend just made himself a star.

377 EDWARD

That's great.

Amos hands off the contract to a CLOWN.

378 AMOS

(introducing)

My attorney, Mr. Soggybottom.

379 EDWARD

Good to meet you.

Mr. Soggybottom HONKS his horn, then waddles off.

380 AMOS

What's the matter with you, kid? I haven't seen a customer so depressed since the elephant sat on that farmer's wife.

(beat)

Get it? "Depressed?"

Karl chuckles.

381 AMOS

See! The big guy likes it.

382 EDWARD

I just saw the woman I'm going to marry, I know it.
But then I lost her.

383 AMOS

Tough break. Most men have to get married before they lose their wives.

384 EDWARD

(with absolute conviction)

I'm going to spend the rest of my life looking for her. That or die alone.

385 AMOS

Jesus, kid.
(realizing)
Let me guess. Real pretty, blonde hair, blue hat?

386 EDWARD

Yes!

387 AMOS

I know her uncle. Friends of the family.

388 EDWARD

Who is she? Where does she live?

389 AMOS

Kid. Don't waste your time. She's out of your league.

As Amos starts to walk away, Edward hurries to catch up with him. Karl follows as well.

390 EDWARD

What do you mean? You don't even know me.

391 AMOS

Sure I do. You were hot shit back in Hickville, but here in the real world, you got squat. You don't have a plan. You don't have a job. You don't have anything but the clothes on your back.

392 EDWARD

I've got a whole backpack full of clothes!

He points to the bleachers, where no backpack is to be found.

393 EDWARD

(realizing)
Someone stole my backpack.

394 AMOS

Kid, you were a big fish in a small pond. This here is the ocean, and you're drowning. Take my advice and go back to Puddleville. You'll be happy there.

Getting in front of Amos, Edward stops him.

395 EDWARD

Wait. You said I don't have a plan. I do. I'm going to find that girl and marry her and spend the rest of my life with her.

Amos smiles, amused.

396 EDWARD

I don't have a job, but I would have a job if you gave me one. And I may not have much, but I have more determination than any man you're ever going to meet.

397 AMOS

Sorry, kid. I don't do charity.

398 EDWARD

I'll work night and day, and you won't have to pay me. You just have to tell me who she is.

Amos takes a long look at him. Ultimately, there's no way he can say no. He shrugs. What the hell.

399 AMOS

Every month you work for me, I'll tell you one thing about her. That's my final offer.

Edward shakes Amos's hand before he can retract the offer. We move into a MONTAGE:

BIG TOP CENTER RING - NIGHT

CLOSE ON Edward, smiling nervously. His head is tilted to the side, and as we PULL BACK, we see why: he's holding it in a MASSIVE LION's open mouth. The beast's sharp teeth are just poking his skin. If the lion ~~so~~^{so} much as flinches, Edward is dead.

The CROWD applauds, which makes the lion antsy. Which makes Edward antsier.

400 EDWARD

From that moment on, I did everything Mr. Calloway asked, and a lot of things he didn't. I'd go three days without stopping to eat, and four days without sleeping.

THE HYDRA - DAY

His eyes droopy from lack of sleep, Edward mans the whirling amusement park ride.

401 EDWARD

The only thing that kept me going was the promise of meeting the girl who would be my wife.

Nodding off, Edward falls backward, into the path of the spinning arms. One of the Hydra cars hits him square in the gut, throwing him up and away, sailing 200 feet through the air.

FIELD - DAY

Edward chases a costumed pig, tripping over tent cords, falling in the mud.

His hunt leads him through the back of a tent, where he's unwittingly stepped in front of a line of motorized birds. To the left, CUSTOMERS are shooting with rifles. He dodges four SHOTS that knock down the birds around him.

He catches his breath, lucky.

Then a half-blind OLD WOMAN pulls her trigger, hitting him in the shoulder.

BEHIND A TENT - DAY

Karl the Giant bandages Edward's arm as well as he can. Amos is walking past.

402 EDWARD

Mr. Calloway! It's been a month today.

Amos stops, looks at the young man. Finally...

403 AMOS

This girl, the love of your life. Her favorite flower is daffodils.

He walks away. We PUSH IN on Edward, enraptured by the concept.

404 EDWARD

Daffodils.
(to Karl) Daffodils!

STABLES - DAY

Edward shovels shit in the nastiest stables you've ever seen.
But all he can think about is...

405 EDWARD

(to himself)
Daffodils!

The wonder of it. He goes back to shoveling, a smile on his face.

406 EDWARD

True to his word, every month Amos would tell me something new about the woman of my dreams.

A DARK PLACE - NIGHT

CLOSE ON Edward, lost in quiet reverie, pondering his latest bit of information.

407 EDWARD

College! She's going to college!

A sudden EXPLOSION as Edward is shot...

BIG TOP - NIGHT [CONTINUOUS]

..OUT OF A GIANT CANNON.

STABLES - NIGHT

Under a full moon, Edward feeds the animals.

408 EDWARD

(to himself)

Music! She likes music. I like music too!

409 EDWARD

Over the months, I learned a lot about the woman I was going to marry, but not her name, and not where to find her. That time had come. I couldn't wait any longer.

AMOS CALLOWAY'S TRAILER - NIGHT

Under a full moon, Edward walks up to the battered camper, and is about to knock when he notices it's rocking. A lot. Not just that, there's MOANING coming from inside.

But Edward KNOCKS anyway.

410 EDWARD

Mr. Calloway! It's Edward Bloom. I need to talk to you.

Suddenly, the rocking and moaning stop. A beat, then the door handle begins to RATTLE. It seems to be stuck.

Edward turns the knob.

Suddenly, the door BURSTS OPEN. Edward is knocked down by a massive black dog, biggest you've ever seen. It has green glowing eyes and a lick of fire for a tongue.

Edward wrestles with the beast, its mouth snapping at his throat. Blocking with an arm, Edward tries to push himself free, but the creature's hands -- it has hands instead of paws -- hold on tight.

Entwined, they roll across the dirt. The other nearby CARNIES scatter for cover. Mr. Soggybottom pulls a revolver out of his clown suit. Loads a silver bullet.

Edward finally succeeds in throwing the beast off. He rolls to his feet.

The hell hound squares back on its haunches, GROWLING, ready for another leap. Mr. Soggybottom sheds a clown tear, aiming the revolver at the dog.

At the last moment...

411 EDWARD

No, wait!

Edward moves just as Mr. Soggybottom FIRES. The bullet catches Edward in the shoulder, knocking him down.

The carnies GASP.

Licking its chops, the dog approaches the helpless Edward, who feels the ground around him, looking for some kind of weapon. He finds only a small stick. He waves it at the dog, ready to strike it.

Like magic, the dog's whole demeanor changes. It bounces excitedly, ready to play fetch.

Seeing an opportunity, Edward throws the stick as far as he can. The dog bounds after it, SMASHING DOWN THREE CARS.

It returns a beat later with the flaming stick, which it drops at Edward's feet. Its tail whips back and forth.

412 EDWARD

It was that night I discovered that most things you consider evil or wicked are simply lonely, and lacking in the social niceties.

Edward throws the stick again. The dog takes off in a new direction.

TRANSITION TO:

FIELD - PRE-DAWN

Exhausted from playing fetch all night, Edward throws the stick into the woods. The still-spry dog goes after it. It's gone for a long time, long enough that Edward becomes concerned.

He follows it into the woods.

WOODS - DAWN

Amos Calloway stands up behind a bush, buck naked and hairy. He still has the stick in his mouth, which he takes out as Edward approaches.

413 AMOS

Didn't kill anything, did I?

414 EDWARD

A few rabbits, but I think one of them was already dead.

415 AMOS

That would explain the indigestion.

Edward tosses him his jacket to cover his privates.

416 AMOS

I was wrong about you kid. You may not have much, but what you got, you got a lot of. You could get any girl.

417 EDWARD

There's only one I want.

A beat.

418 AMOS

Her name is Sandra Templeton. She's going to Auburn. The semester's almost over, so you better hurry.

419 EDWARD

Thank you.

420 AMOS

Good luck, kid.

Edward walks away. Then starts running. He has to get there as soon as possible.

Amos sits down and scratches his ear with his foot.

BIG TOP - DAY

Edward shakes Karl's giant hand. They hug.

421 EDWARD

After saying my goodbyes, I hopped three trains to get to Auburn that afternoon.

AUBURN UNIVERSITY - DAY

We DESCEND ON the main quad, to find Edward Bloom dunking his head in the fountain.

He changes out of his grubby shirt into a new one, just out of the package. It's the mid-1960's, but by the conservative dress of the passing STUDENTS, it could be any era.

SORORITY HOUSE - DAY

Edward stands with a bouquet of daffodils in front of a half-open door. Through the crack we can see the edge of a YOUNG WOMAN, talking in hushed tones with another girl we can't see.

Finally, a decision is reached. The door opens to reveal the woman of Edward's dreams, Sandra Kay Templeton. She's effortlessly beautiful, pure and simple as sunlight.

He can't believe he's finally reached her. He half-laughs, nervous. That makes her laugh, not sure what's going on.

422 EDWARD

You don't know me, but my name is Edward Bloom and I am in love with you. I've spent the last three years working to find out who you are. I've been shot and stabbed and trampled a few times, had my ribs broken twice, but it's all worth it to see you here, now, and to finally get to talk to you. Because I am destined to marry you. I knew that from the first moment I saw you at the circus. And I know it now more than ever.

ON SANDRA, overwhelmed. All she can finally think of to say is...

423 SANDRA

I'm sorry.

424 EDWARD

Don't need to apologize to me. I mean, I'm the luckiest person you're going to find today...

She puts her hand on the door frame. On her left ring finger, we see a diamond.

425 SANDRA

No I'm sorry, I...I'm engaged to be married.

ON EDWARD as his heart falls 20 floors. He tries to suppress the reaction, put on a brave front.

426 EDWARD

Oh.

427 SANDRA

But you're wrong. I do know you, at least by reputation. Edward Bloom from Ashton. See, I'm actually engaged to a boy from Ashton. Don Price. He was a few years older than you.

FLASHCUTS TO:

CREEPY OLD HOUSE - THE GATE - NIGHT

Young Don Price shines his flashlight on Edward.

VARIOUS H.S. ATHLETIC COMPETITIONS

Recapping earlier football, baseball and basketball highlights, we find Edward beats Don every time.

THE STREET CORNER / ASHTON PARADE

A smoking Don Price crushes his cigarette as Edward leaves town.

BACK TO:

EXT/INT. SORORITY HOUSE - THE DOORWAY

Edward is dumbstruck. With all the strength he can muster...

428 EDWARD

Well. Congratulations. I'm sorry to have bothered you.

He turns and walks down the front steps.

She stays in the doorway for a few beats, feeling genuinely horrible for what's happened. But eventually she goes back inside. We hear GIGGLES from inside as her sorority sisters get to the bottom of this.

429 SANDRA

Stop it. It's not funny. That poor boy.

We LEAD Edward as he walks away, tears just starting to form.

430 EDWARD

Fate has a cruel way of circling around on you.
After all this work to leave Ashton, the girl I loved was now engaged to one of its biggest jerks.

He EXITS FRAME, leaving only the sorority house in the background.

431 EDWARD

There's a time when a man needs to fight, and a time when he needs to accept that his destiny is lost, that the ship has sailed, and that only a fool would continue.

A beat. Edward steps back INTO FRAME, looking at the sorority house.

432 EDWARD

The truth is, I've always been a fool.

We CIRCLE as he shouts:

433 EDWARD

Sandra Templeton! I love you! And I am going to marry you!

SORORITY HOUSE FOYER - DAY

Sandra and her SISTERS peer out through the curtains. Is this guy crazy?

LECTURE HALL - DAY

The tweedy ECONOMICS PROFESSOR continues his explanation.
Sandra isn't paying a lot of attention.

He switches on the overhead projector without looking at it. There's a TITTER from the STUDENTS, but he doesn't notice.

A classmate nudges Sandra, who looks up. Written on the projector is "I Love Sandra Templeton." She's horrified and excited at the same time. The professor finally notices what's written there.

QUAD - DAY

Walking with her books, Sandra shakes her head, disbelieving. We look up to the blue sky, where a giant sky-written heart floats in the wind.

SANDRA'S BEDROOM - [THE NEXT] MORNING

At her Sisters' prompting, a just-woken Sandra looks out the second-story window to find the lawn filled with

TEN THOUSAND DAFFODILS.

Edward stands amid the sea of flowers. He's waited there six hours.

SORORITY HOUSE - DAY

Sandra walks out to him. She's smiling, confused, joyful and scared. All down Greek Street, STUDENTS are coming out to see the display.

434 SANDRA

Daffodils?

435 EDWARD

They're your favorite flower.

436 SANDRA

How did you get so many?

437 EDWARD

I called everywhere in five states and explained this was the only way I could get my wife to marry me.

Out of nowhere, a tear drops down Sandra's cheek. She wipes it off.

438 SANDRA

You don't even know me.

439 EDWARD

I have the rest of my life to find out.

From down the street...

440 A MAN'S VOICE

Sandra!

441 SANDRA

It's Don. Promise me you won't hurt him.

442 EDWARD

If that's what you want, I swear to it.

The adult DON PRICE arrives. He's 230 pounds of football-playing, Skynard-loving, fraternity-proud muscle.
And he's pissed.

A gang of his BROTHERS walk behind him.

443 DON PRICE

Bloom!

444 EDWARD

Don.

445 DON PRICE

What the hell are you doing? This is my girl.
Mine!

446 EDWARD

I didn't know she belonged to anybody.

Don Price decks him, knocking him down. Edward gets right back up, but makes no move to defend himself.

Unfazed, Don slugs him again.

447 SANDRA

Stop it!

448 DON PRICE

(ignoring)

What the matter, Bloom? Too scared to fight back?

449 EDWARD

I promised I wouldn't.

A beat. Don shrugs, fine. Then proceeds to kick Edward's ass nine ways to Sunday.

450 EDWARD

While I took the beating of a lifetime, it was Don Price who was ultimately defeated.

As the ass-whupping continues, we

INTERCUT WITH:

FRATERNITY HOUSE BATHROOM - DAY [FLASHFORWARD]

Sitting on the can, Don Price pinches a loaf while reading the new Playboy.

451 EDWARD

All the physical activity had worsened a congenital valve defect. Put simply, his heart wasn't strong enough.

Don Price squeezes down hard, trying to shit the unshittable. Suddenly, he grasps his chest and collapses face-first on the tile.

MATCH CUT TO:

WITCH'S HOUSE / GATE - NIGHT [FLASHBACK]

The same image of Don's dead face on the tile is reflected in The Eye.

RETURNING BACK TO:

THE SORORITY HOUSE - DAY

The thrashing continues. Edward somehow fights his way back to his feet, ready to be knocked down again.

452 SANDRA

Don!

Don is about to slug Edward again when he turns.

Sandra pulls off her engagement ring. There's an audible AHH! from her sisters, and an OHH! from Don's brothers.

453 SANDRA

I will never marry you.

A beat. Don stands stunned, his mind reeling.

Edward, whose eyes are swollen almost shut, keeps waiting for the next punch. Where is it? What's going on?

454 DON PRICE

What. You love this guy?

455 SANDRA

He's almost a stranger and I prefer him to you.

She hands him the ring. Another beat, then Don storms off. But not before decking Edward one last time.

Sandra leans over Edward's broken body. His head lies on the daffodils.

456 SANDRA
How can I convince you to stop?

457 EDWARD
Go out with me.

He smiles, his teeth bloody.

458 SANDRA
Okay.

As the crowd of students APPLAUDS and CHEERS, we CRANE UP above the flowered battlefield.

459 EDWARD
As it turned out, Sandra was able to keep her same date at the chapel. Only the groom had changed.

As the MUSIC reaches a crescendo, we suddenly...

CUT TO:

GUEST ROOM - NIGHT [PRESENT]

460 JOSEPHINE
I thought you said you didn't have a church wedding.

461 EDWARD
Well, we were all set to, but there was a complication.

He reaches for his glass of water, but Josephine already has it for him. She watches him while he slowly drinks the entire glass, thirstier than he imagined. While he's drinking, we...

CUT TO:

UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - NIGHT [CONTINUOUS]

Will, back from the grocery store, reaches the top of the stairs. He hears voices coming from the bedroom.

462 JOSEPHINE

Is it the medicine that's making you thirsty?

463 EDWARD

Truth is, I've been thirsty my whole life. Never really known why.

Will quietly approaches the door, not exactly sneaking, but not exactly announcing his presence. The door is open a few inches, letting him look in on his father and his wife.

INTERCUT HALLWAY / BEDROOM

464 EDWARD

There was one time when I was eleven...

465 JOSEPHINE

(gently)

You were talking about your wedding.

466 EDWARD

I didn't forget. I was just working on a tangent. See, most men, they'll tell a story straight through, and it won't be complicated, but it won't be interesting either.

467 JOSEPHINE

I like your stories.

468 EDWARD

And I like you.

He doesn't let the moment linger with undue sentimentality. There's a story to be told.

469 EDWARD

Now. The thing about working for a circus is you don't have a regular address, and after three years I had a lot of undelivered mail.

In the hallway, Will shifts to a new position, letting himself listen to the story one more time.

470 EDWARD

During the four weeks I was in the hospital, the postmaster finally caught up with me.

HOSPITAL - DAY

Bruised and bandaged, Edward sorts through a big bag of mail with help from Sandra. He rips open an official-looking letter. Reading it, his face drops.

FLUTE and DRUM, music rising to a military cadence.

471 EDWARD

It turned out that while my heart belonged to Sandra, the rest of my body belonged to the U.S. Government.

ARMY AIRPLANE - NIGHT

With a buzz cut and paratrooper gear, Edward squats with a dozen other SOLDIERS. The noise of the ENGINES is deafening, but Edward is engrossed in an Asian phrasebook.

472 EDWARD

A hitch in the Army was up to three years at that point, and having waited three years just to meet Sandra, I knew I couldn't survive being away from her that long. So I took every hazardous assignment I could find, with the hope of getting my time down to less than a year.

The JUMP LEADER yells...

473 JUMP LEADER

GO! GO! GO!

One by one the men jump out, their chutes clipped to a main line. When his time comes, Edward leaps...

..BUT HE'S STUCK. HIS CORD IS CAUGHT UP IN THE ASSEMBLY.

He twists and struggles, trying to free himself. Looking down, he can see the white parachutes disappearing into the darkness. They're already long gone.

Digging a knife out of his pocket, Edward gets to work cutting through the cable. It finally POPS. Edward jumps from the plane.

OUTSIDE STAGE - NIGHT

A THOUSAND CHINESE SOLDIERS sit, bored, watching the equivalent of a U.S.O. show.

A CHINESE VENTRILOQUIST is on stage with his Communist puppet. We have no idea what they're saying to each other, but every act is fundamentally the same.

The EMCEE comes on to usher him off the stage before he's finished. The Ventriloquist protests, but finally gives in. The Emcee makes a "shoot him in the neck" motion to one of the ARMED GUARDS off-stage.

HIGH ABOVE THE STAGE - NIGHT

We LOOK DOWN with Edward, who is drifting right for the stage. He can't steer. He's helpless.

But then, a BLAST of fireworks from the sides of the stage. The lights go out as a DRUM ROLL begins. It's just enough cover for Edward to remain unseen.

He lands with a CLANG on the lighting catwalk above the stage. He barely grabs on, disconnecting his chute just as the curtain goes up. Edward looks out at the sea of excited soldiers. Every one of them would kill him. He's the legless cricket left on the anthill.

ON STAGE

The curtain rises to reveal PING (27) at a microphone. She's as gorgeous a woman as you'll ever see.

She stands with her hips turned in profile. Her body is a knockout, dress cut to reveal skin. The soldiers are on their feet, WHISTLING and HOLLERING.

UP ON THE CATWALK, Edward is surprised by an ENEMY SOLDIER. The two men begin to SCUFFLE.

MUSIC starts, a vampy torch song. Ping sings melody while an off-stage voice carries perfect harmony.

474 PING

Sometimes a girl can feel so alone
Without a lover to call her own.
Sometimes it's so bad, she wants to explode.
Wants to grab the first man she sees and tear off his clothes.

A ROAR from the soldiers. She knows what they want.

Still fighting, Edward jumps for a pole on the far side of the catwalk, sliding down it to end up

BACKSTAGE.

His determined opponent follows him down.

475 PING

But she won't.
No, she can't.
She needs a special special different unusual man.
Because that girl,
Who looks like me,
She has wants, but she has needs.

476 PING

(speaking)
Any of you got needs?

The soldiers ROAR LOUDER, STOMPING on the bleachers.

Backstage, the two men are still fighting.

477 PING

(chorus)

I've had twice the adventure,
Cried double the tears.
Two times the bad times in half the years.
I need a strong man, because I've got Twice the love to give.

For the first time, Ping turns, and now we see why she was standing in profile. Ping is one-half of

SIAMESE TWINS.

Her identical twin is JING, who's been singing harmony all this time. They are two separate women who join at the waist, one set of perfect legs beneath them.

Edward sees the twins from behind, does a double-take. It costs him a punch to the jaw.

478 PING

Say hello, Jing.

479 JING

Hello Jing.

480 PING

(to the crowd)

I'm Ping. She's Jing. She's the good one.

(closer)

I'm the bad one.

As the MUSIC builds towards the climax, Edward finishes the fight, knocking the guard out with a right hook.

As Ping and Jing reach the last chorus, they strike a final pose in the shape of a heart, their arms forming the arches, their backs forming the curves.

Edward slips behind curtains, trying to get away.

The soldiers are SHOUTING for an encore, lighters waving. The curtain slowly lowers, revealing

EDWARD'S PARACHUTE.

The APPLAUSE dies, replaced by a concerned RUMBLE. The Emcee yells for the Guards to search.

ON STAGE

Ping has no idea what's happening. Jing reaches into her cleavage to pull out her eyeglasses.

DRESSING ROOM - NIGHT

As ARMED GUARDS search the halls below the stage, Ping and Jing shut the door to their dressing room. At the closet, they start to change outfits. Off-stage, their personalities become quite apparent: Ping is brash, bitchy and ambitious, while Jing is quiet, sweet and bookish.

In Chinese, subtitled...

481 PING

How could you miss your cue? You make me look like a fool, out there alone.

482 JING

You weren't alone.

Ping HUFFS, turning her back on her sister.

Jing reaches deeper into the closet to find a new dress, exposing Edward's hiding place. She GASPS. Ping turns to look.

483 PING

Who the hell are you?

484 EDWARD

(in Chinese)

I'm not going to hurt you.

485 PING

Damn right you're not.

(yelling)

GUARD!

Jing grabs her, a hand over her mouth, but it's too late. A rifle-toting GUARD looks in.

Pretending to be her bitchy sister --

486 JING

Tell your men not to bother us! And lock that door!

The guard obeys. Ping shakes her sister off. Desperately flipping through his Asian phrasebook, he finds...

487 EDWARD

Please, I need your help.

488 PING

What makes you think we'll help you?

Edward pulls a photo out of his flak jacket. It's Sandra.

VARIOUS SHOTS

489 EDWARD

Over the next hour, I described my love for Sandra Kay Templeton, and the ordeal that brought me before them. As it had always been, this love was my salvation. It was destined to be.

Hearing the story, Jing wipes away a tear. Even Ping is a little affected.

490 EDWARD

We put together an elaborate plan for escape, involving a whaling ship to Russia, a barge to Cuba and a small, dirty canoe to Miami. We all knew it would be dangerous.

Still subtitled:

491 PING

And what are we supposed to do when we get to America?

492 EDWARD

I can get you bookings. I know the biggest man in show business.

493 JING

Bob Hope?

494 EDWARD

Bigger.

TRANSITION TO:

TEMPLETON FAMILY HOUSE - DAY

Sandra checks the mail, hoping for a letter from Edward.

495 EDWARD

And so the twins and I began our arduous journey halfway around the world. Unfortunately, there was no way to send a message back to America.

A black car pulls up. Two ARMY OFFICERS get out.

496 EDWARD

And so it was no surprise that the Army believed I was dead.

Hearing the news, Sandra CRIES OUT. The pain of her shout makes church bells RING.

BEHIND THE TEMPLETON HOUSE - DAY

Sandra hangs sheets to dry on the clotheslines, forming a tunnel of fabric.

497 EDWARD

After four months, Sandra had gotten over the worst of the nightmares. When the phone rang, she didn't think it was somehow me calling her. When a car drove past, she didn't get up to check out the window.

Pulling a dress out of the basket, Sandra looks up to see on the sheet in front of her. She freezes, watching the shadow ripple across the white fabric, blowing so softly in the breeze. She knows it can't be him. He's dead.

She turns away. With all the strength she can gather, she hangs up that dress and digs another one out of the basket.

Looking up, she sees not a shadow but Edward himself standing before her. She GASPS, disbelieving, but his hand is real. It is destiny.

Without another moment's hesitation, she kisses him.

CROSSFADE TO:

BRIGHT SUNLIGHT

filters through soft sheets. We're under the covers, where a man's hand traces the curves of a woman's bare back. A beat, then she turns over in bed, revealing her to be

JOSEPHINE.

She blinks slowly, just waking up. Will is watching her. He's been up for a while. We are actually...

WILL AND JOSEPHINE'S ROOM - DAY

..WHERE THE COUPLE STAYS COCOONED UNDER THE SHEETS, A KIND OF LIMBO. A KISS GOOD MORNING. LEGS ENTANGLING.
NEITHER WANTS TO GET UP.

498 JOSEPHINE

I talked with your father last night.

499 WILL

Did you?

A look to say, should I be worried?

500 JOSEPHINE

You never told me how your parents met.

501 WILL

They met at Auburn.

502 JOSEPHINE

What about the details? How they fell in love.
The Circus. The War. You never told me any of that.

503 WILL

That's because most of it never happened.

504 JOSEPHINE

But it's romantic.

A beat.

505 WILL

(non-committal)

Mmm.

506 JOSEPHINE

Mmm, what?

507 WILL

Mmm, what. I know better than to argue romance with a French woman.

He moves his head out from under the sheet. She follows him to the "outside."

508 JOSEPHINE

Do you love your father?

509 WILL

Everyone loves my father. He's a very likeable guy.

510 JOSEPHINE

(repeating)

Do you love him?

Will doesn't want to answer yes or no.

511 WILL

You have to understand. When I was growing up, he was gone more than he was here. And I started thinking -- maybe he has a second life somewhere else. With another house, another family. He leaves us, he goes to them. Or maybe there is no family. Maybe he never wanted a family. But whatever it is, maybe he likes that second life better. And the reason he tells all those stories is because he can't stand this boring place.

512 JOSEPHINE

But it's not true.

513 WILL

What is "true?" I've never heard my father say a single true thing.

Off her silence...

514 WILL

Look, I know why you like him. I know why everyone likes him. But I need you to tell me I'm not crazy.

515 JOSEPHINE

You're not.

516 WILL

I need you on my side.

517 JOSEPHINE

I am always on your side. And I think you should talk to him.

GUEST ROOM - DAY

The family finishes eating breakfast off TV trays set up around the bed. For his part, Edward is looking better. Certainly not recovered, but there's an optimism to his expression. And for the first time, he's actually hungry.

He watches as Sandra puts the cap back on the syrup.

518 EDWARD

Did I ever tell you about how...

519 WILL

(interrupting)
Yes.

Edward is startled.

520 WILL

The maple tree and the Buick. We heard it.

521 EDWARD

(re: Josephine)
I think someone hasn't.

522 JOSEPHINE

The tree fell on the car, spilling the syrup, which attracted the flies, which got stuck to it and flew off with the whole car.

A beat.

523 EDWARD

(undeterred)

But the real story is how I got the car. You see...

524 WILL

(interrupting)

Dad?

525 EDWARD

Son?

526 WILL

Can we talk?

Sandra SNAPS the cap back on the syrup.

527 SANDRA

I'm going to get started on dishes.

528 JOSEPHINE

I'll help you.

Both women quickly gather plates.

Will and Edward both smile. The women clearly want this to happen. It settles for a beat after they leave.

529 WILL

Do you know much about icebergs, Dad?

530 EDWARD

Do I? I saw an iceberg once. They were hauling it down to Texas for drinking water, only they didn't count on an elephant being frozen inside. The woolly kind. A mammoth.

531 WILL (interrupting)
 Dad!

532 EDWARD What?

533 WILL
 I'm trying to make a metaphor here.

534 EDWARD
 Then you shouldn't have started with a question.
 Because people want to answer questions. You should have started with, "The thing about icebergs is..."

535 WILL (frustrated)
 The thing about icebergs is you only see 10 percent of them. The other 90 percent is below the water where you can't see it. And that's what it is with you Dad. I'm only seeing this little bit that sticks above the water.

536 EDWARD
 (joking)
 What, you're seeing down to my nose? My chin?

537 WILL
 I have no idea who you are because you have never told me a single fact.

538 EDWARD
 I've told you a thousand facts. That's all I do,
 Will. I tell stories.

539 WILL
 You tell lies, Dad. You tell amusing lies.
 Stories are what you tell a five-year old at bedtime. They're not elaborate mythologies you maintain when your son is ten and fifteen and twenty and thirty. And the thing is, I believed you. I believed your stories so much longer than I should have. And then ~~when~~¹⁰⁰ I realized that everything you said was impossible -- everything!
 -- I felt like such a fool to have trusted you.
 You were like Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny combined. Just as charming and just as fake.

540 EDWARD

You think I'm fake.

541 WILL

Only on the surface. But that's all I've ever seen.

Edward looks away, angry and disbelieving.

542 WILL

Dad, I'm about to have a kid of my own here. It would kill me if he went through his whole life never understanding me.

543 EDWARD

It would kill you, huh?

Finally --

544 EDWARD

What do you want, Will? Who do you want me to be?

545 WILL

Yourself. Good, bad, everything. Just show me who you are for once.

546 EDWARD

I have been nothing but myself since the day I was born. And if you can't see that, it's your failing, not mine.

BACKYARD - DAY

With a skimmer pole, Will cleans the leaves and debris out of the pool, but it's a fool's errand. The pool has long since gone native, a shiny slick of algae on the surface, slime covering the cemented rocks.

Suddenly, an underwater shape RIPPLES against the water's surface. Will is so startled that he drops the pole, which disappears into the murky water.

A beat. He looks around, relieved that no one saw that. He casually walks away.

BASEMENT STORAGE AREA - DAY

The doors open to reveal Sandra, Will and Josephine, staring into the mouth of oblivion. The storeroom is a museum of hasty decisions and half-finished projects: partially built outboard motors, dead bonsai trees, Frankensteinian lawnmowers. We also find boxes of products Edward used to sell.

Clearing a path, Sandra leads Will to a roll-top desk, its ribs covered in dust. Two beaten metal file cabinets sit beside it.

547 SANDRA

Your father decided he needed to have an office, and it wouldn't do to have it in the house. You'll know better than me what's important.

With some effort, Will forces up the desktop. With a HISS, a neighbor's cat makes a run for it. Will's getting used to being startled.

BASEMENT STORAGE AREA - DAY [LATER]

Will, Sandra and Josephine have worked through two trash bags of papers to throw out. Looking through a new file, Sandra makes a small sound. A memory.

548 WILL

What is it?

Sandra hands Will a yellowed telegram. He shares it with Josephine.

549 SANDRA

It was during the war. Your father went missing.
They thought he was dead.

Will can't believe what he's reading.

550 WILL

That really happened?

551 SANDRA

Not everything your father says is a complete fabrication.

A beat, then Sandra stands.

552 SANDRA

I'm going to check on him.

553 JOSEPHINE

I need to lie down for a bit.

554 WILL Go.

Josephine kisses him, then follows Sandra. Will re-reads the telegram, still bewildered.

Looking for a place to put it, he tucks it into a strange mechanical hand on the desk. It clamps down automatically.

Will smiles, a memory. He hasn't thought about this device in years. We slowly PUSH IN on the telegram, held in the hand.

Edward's VOICE begins as a memory...

555 EDWARD

After the war, the sons of Alabama returned home, looking for work. Each had an advantage over me. They were alive, while I was -- officially -- deceased.

DOWNTOWN OFFICE - DAY [STORY]

Edward shakes hands with his new boss, a TOUPEED MAN. The company is called "Confederated Products." The OFFICE LADIES all love Edward.

556 EDWARD

With my prospects few, I took a job as a travelling salesman. It suited me. If there's one thing you can say about Edward Bloom, it's that I am a social person.

COUNTY FAIR - DAY [STORY]

On a low platform, Edward pitches a brilliant new product to the crowd.

557 EDWARD

I've travelled from Tennessee to Timbuktu, and if there's one thing people have in common, is we could all use a hand around the house.

Edward sets down a contraption, which looks something like a metal lava lamp. Like a flower, it unfolds to reveal five fingers and a thumb. This is the Hand Around the House.(TM)

558 EDWARD

Why, with this product you can...

QUICK MONTAGE as he demonstrates:

559 EDWARD

Open a jar. Open a letter. Scratch yourself while wearing mittens. Hold a book. Hold a baby. Hold the dog away from kittens. It's strong enough, you can do a handstand with no hands at all.

Indeed, a remarkably agile Edward is able to support his entire weight on it. The crowd APPLAUDS.

560 EDWARD

You can use it to point out important information. Or dangers. Or beautiful women.

The hand points a finger at an HEAVYSET MAN IN OVERALLS.

561 EDWARD

We're still working on that one.

The crowd LAUGHS.

A COUNTRY ROAD - DAY

Edward drives, his hand out in the wind.

562 EDWARD

Soon I added other products, and other cities, until my territory stretched from the coast to western Texas.

TRAILER PARK - DAY

Edward kisses his pregnant wife goodbye, as much in love as ever.

563 EDWARD

I could be gone for weeks at a time. But every other Friday, I'd put all the money I'd made into an account set aside for a proper house with a white picket fence.

HORIZON SAVINGS & LOAN - DAY

Establishing this Texas institution, we come...

HORIZON SAVINGS & LOAN - DAY

The bank is busy with the lunch-hour crowd. Taking his place in line, Edward fills out a deposit slip.

As the line snakes around through the ropes, the man in front of him gets a look at Edward.

564 THE MAN

Edward? Edward Bloom?

The man is none other than...

565 NORTHER WINSLOW

It's me. Norther Winslow.

566 EDWARD

I was astonished to see the greatest poet of both Ashton and Spectre all the way out in Texas.

The men shake, disbelieving this lucky coincidence.

567 EDWARD

I don't believe it!

568 NORTHER WINSLOW

I want you to know, when you left Spectre it opened my eyes. There was a whole life out there that I was not living. So I travelled. I saw France, and Africa, half of South America. Every day a new adventure, that's my motto.

569 EDWARD

That's great, Norther. I'm happy for you. I can't believe I helped.

He's genuinely proud.

570 EDWARD

So what are you up to now?

571 NORTHER WINSLOW

I'm robbing this place.

Reaching the front of the line, Norther pulls two pistols out of his coat, FIRING both into the ceiling.

SCREAMS all around. The skinny SECURITY GUARD makes a half-hearted reach for his gun, but Norther waves him off.
The guard takes out his gun and slides it over.

572 NORTHER WINSLOW

(to Edward)

Would you mind grabbing that?

There's nothing threatening about his delivery -- he might as well be asking for a Budweiser. Still, Edward senses it would be best to do as he says. He takes the guard's gun.

573 NORTHER WINSLOW

(to the crowd)

Now, I want all of you to lie down. I'm gonna be cleaning out the cash drawers, and my associate here is going to handle the vault.

(pointing to a Teller Woman)

You help my friend, okay?

The TELLER WOMAN nods.

ANGLE ON Edward, not sure what to do. He has a gun, but he truly doesn't want to shoot Norther. The Teller Woman is already waving him to the back.

He decides he better go.

AT THE VAULT - DAY

The Teller Woman is crying as she works the combination. Edward feels horrible.

574 EDWARD

Look, I'm really sorry. I just don't want anybody to get hurt.

575 TELLER WOMAN

It's not that, it's just...

She pulls open the vault door.

THE VAULT - DAY

The inner sanctum of the Horizon Savings and Loan holds exactly one folding chair. Nothing else.

576 TELLER WOMAN

...there's no money. We're completely bankrupt.

577 EDWARD

It turned out the savings and loan had already been robbed -- not by armed bandits, but by speculators in Texas real estate.

578 TELLER WOMAN

(dead serious)

You gotta promise you won't tell anybody.

CUT TO:

EDWARD'S CAR - DAY

Edward drives the getaway car, though truthfully they're going just a little over the speed limit. No one's following them. It's an empty country road for miles.

Norther HOLLERS with body-tingling joy as he counts the money.

579 NORTHER WINSLOW

Sixty. Eighty. Four hundred dollars! Not bad for just the drawers. Let's see what you got from the vault.

Edward winces, but doesn't say anything yet. Digging through the vault bag, Norther is surprised to find only a single deposit envelope. He rips it open, revealing just a little cash inside. Even some dimes and pennies.

580 NORTHER WINSLOW

This is it? The whole vault.

581 EDWARD

'Fraid so.

582 NORTHER WINSLOW

Edward, it's got your deposit slip on it.

Caught, Edward has to confess...

583 EDWARD

Look, I just didn't want you to go empty-handed.
There's something you should know, Norther. You see, the reason why...

Edward continues his narration...

584 EDWARD

I told Norther about the vagaries of Texas oil money and its effect on real estate prices, and how lax enforcement of fiduciary process had made savings and loans particularly vulnerable. Hearing this news, Norther was left with one conclusion:

TEXAS ROAD - DAY

Norther leans in the driver's side window.

585 NORTHER WINSLOW

I should go to Wall Street. That's where all the money is.

Edward looks over at Norther, the reality sinking in.

586 EDWARD

I knew then that while my days as a criminal were over, Norther's were just beginning.

The two men wave at each other as Edward drives off. At the last moment, Norther calls out:

587 NORTHER WINSLOW

Edward, thank you for the hand!

He's talking about his Hand Around the House. We HOLD ON Norther for a beat, dreaming of his future.

588 EDWARD

When Norther made his first million dollars, he sent me a check for ten thousand. I protested, but he said it was my fee as his career advisor.

BLOOM HOUSE [MID/LATE '70'S] - DAY

Sandra is watering the garden. Will (5) runs past her to greet Edward, just returned from another trip.

589 EDWARD

Ten thousand dollars is no fortune to most men.
But it was enough to buy my wife a proper house with a white picket fence.

We reveal the Bloom house, the nicest one in the neighborhood.
Edward kisses his wife.

590 EDWARD

And for that, it was all the riches a man could ever want.

Sandra drops the hose, letting it run on the lawn.

TRANSITION TO:

BLOOM HOUSE BATHROOM - DAY [PRESENT]

CLOSE ON Edward's hand as he turns knobs.

CLOSE ON water SPLASHING into the claw-foot bathtub, which begins to fill.

Still wearing his pajamas, Edward climbs into the tub.
Carefully lowers himself.

As the water reaches the third button up on his pajama shirt,
Edward suddenly slides

UNDERWATER.

Bubbles rise from his nose for a few beats, then stop. It's quiet, except for the distant SPLASHING of water from the spigot. Edward's eyes are closed.

A long beat. Another. Then the SPLASHING water goes silent. Edward opens one eye. The other eye. He sits up to find sitting on the edge of the tub. She doesn't seem particularly worried -- her husband has always done this.

591 SANDRA

592 EDWARD

I was drying out.

593 SANDRA

I see. We need to get you one of those plant misters. We can spray you like a fern.

He smiles, then pulls his knees up, making room for her in the tub. A beat while she considers.

Sandra steps out of her sandals and climbs into the tub, facing him. Her dress is soaked, but she doesn't mind.

He leans forward and kisses her. When they separate, she has tears hanging in her eyes.

594 EDWARD

Come now.

He wipes them away.

595 SANDRA

I don't think I'll ever dry out.

BASEMENT STORAGE AREA - DAY

Perched awkwardly on a canoe, Will's made it through another file cabinet. He goes through the folders page by page, but usually ends up tossing the whole thing in the trash.

He's about to toss a file when he stops. Takes another look.
Something doesn't make sense.

BLOOM HOUSE / STAIRS - DAY

Will is headed upstairs when his mother comes around the corner with an armful of laundry, including her wet dress.

596 WILL

Is he awake?

597 SANDRA

He just fell asleep. Josephine's with him.

She passes him. He turns.

598 WILL

Mom?

599 SANDRA

Yes?

Will quickly debates whether or not to ask her...

600 WILL

Did you and Dad have any other property?

601 SANDRA

(thinking)

I suppose your grandmother's house when she passed on. But we sold that right away. Your cousin Shirley bought it.

602 WILL

So you never bought any land.

603 SANDRA

Heavens no. We had a hard enough time keeping the mortgage on this place.

Will nods, just curious. He continues heading up.

WILL AND JOSEPHINE'S ROOM - DAY

Will changes his shirt. Takes his keys off the nightstand.

COUNTY ROAD - DAY

Will's rental car drives past a sign reading, "Ashton, 10 miles."

WILL'S CAR - DAY / DRIVING

Will checks the address on one of his father's files.

ASHTON GAS - DAY

Will talks to the ATTENDANT, who points him in a direction, then gestures a series of left, right, left, rights.

ROAD - DAY

Will drives down a road that seems somewhat familiar. And then we realize why: a roadsign reads "Welcome to Spectre!"

A LONE HOUSE - DAY

Sitting at the edge of a swamp, the little two-story feels lonely, set deep in its lot. Dapples of light break through the trees, a light breeze swaying the branches.

As Will walks from the car, the WHIRR of cicadas grows. He checks the number: 33. This is the house. It is surrounded by a white square-picket fence, identical to his mother's. Will notices this.

Reaching the porch, we hear a PIANO playing inside. Badly.

Re-checking the number on a form he's carrying, Will KNOCKS. The piano stops.

604 WOMAN'S VOICE

Go back to the start. Right hand only.

The piano starts again. FOOTSTEPS.

The door opens to reveal a blonde woman in her 50's -- the woman from the grocery store. Her name is Jenny Hill.

She and Will are startled to see each other.

605 JENNY

Oh. Oh.

606 WILL

Hello.

607 JENNY

I wasn't expecting you.

Confused, Will checks the name on the form.

608 WILL

Are you Jenny Hill?

609 JENNY

I am. And you're Will. I've seen your picture, that's how I recognize you. I almost said something at the store, but it would have been awkward.

(a beat)

Like this.

The PIANO STUDENT, a black boy of eight, has stopped. He's watching the conversation at the door. Speaking of awkward...

610 JENNY

(to the student)

Listen, Kenny. Why don't we skip the lesson today? We can go again next week.

She hands him five dollars out of her pocket.

611 STUDENT

Do I have to give it back to my Mom?

612 JENNY

I won't tell her if you won't.

You don't have to tell him twice. He's out the door in a flash.

JENNY'S KITCHEN - DAY

While Will sips his iced tea, Jenny flips through a form she never expected to see again. She hands it back to Will.

613 WILL

How did you know my father?

614 JENNY

This was on his sales route, so he was through here all the time. Everyone in town knew him.

A beat. Not flinching...

615 WILL

Were you and my father having an affair?

616 JENNY

(taken aback)

Wow. Wow, you just said it. I was expecting to dance around this for another half hour.

617 WILL

I've seen him with women. He flirts. He always has. On some level, I presumed he was cheating on my mother. I just never had proof.

She moves, trying to get out of the corner he's boxed her into. Once she's finally free...

618 JENNY

Can I ask you a question? Why did you come here today? If you found this deed, why didn't you just ask Eddie?

619 WILL

Because he's dying.

A long beat. Jenny is taken back by the suddenness of it. She's a tangle of conflicting emotions.

620 JENNY

Look, I don't know how much you want to know about any of this. You have one image of your father and it would be wrong for me to go and change it. Especially this late in the game.

621 WILL

My father talked about a lot of things he never did, and I'm sure he did a lot of things he never talked about. I'm just trying to reconcile the two.

Fair enough. Jenny takes a seat across from him at the table.

622 JENNY

The first thing you have to understand, is that your father never meant to end up here. And yet he did, twice. The first time, he was early. The second time, he was late.

EDWARD'S CAR / DRIVING - NIGHT

It's late, and Edward is pensive.

623 JENNY

Those days, your father was working for himself. If there was one thing you could say about Edward Bloom, it's that he was a social person, and people took a liking to him. One night he was returning from three weeks on the road, when he hit a thunderstorm unlike any in his life.

The first raindrops hit the windshield. Edward turns on the wipers.

EDWARD'S CAR - NIGHT - [THE STORM]

Suddenly, a deluge descends. It's not even rain anymore -- there's no space between the drops. It's like being caught in a waterfall. It's that loud.

No choice, Edward stops the car. Puts on the handbrake. Just as suddenly, the sound changes -- no longer pounding, but softly SPLASHING. The world is close and echoing, because --

EDWARD'S CAR - NIGHT

-- the car is underwater. The tires are still on the road, but where there used to be air is water.

Three catfish swim in front of his headlights.

THE CAR - NIGHT

Realizing his plight, Edward tries to remain calm. Water is trickling in through the crack between the window and the door, but very slowly. For now, he's fine.

That's when he sees her -- The Girl in the River.

She's swimming outside the car. While we never see her face exactly, she remains just as beautiful, just as mysterious, as the first time we saw her.

She puts her hand to the windshield. He puts his up to meet hers. And smiles.

FLASH CUT TO:

FIELD BY DIRT ROAD - DAY

It's morning, and the sun shines brightly. Birds CHIRP. Trees drip and the grass shines, still wet from last night's rain.

Edward gathers the clothes that have spilled out of his suitcase, which broke open when he dropped it from which balances precariously ten feet up in an elm tree. As Edward gathers his last pair of socks, he notices a shiny piece of metal sticking out of the dirt. He pulls it out, rubs it off.

HIS CAR,

It's a key. It's the Key to the City he lost years ago.

624 JENNY

Fate has a way of circling back on a man, and taking him by surprise.

ROAD - DAY

Carrying his busted suitcase, a tired Edward walks toward a one-street town in the distance. We pass a rusty sign...

"Welcome to Spectre."

MAIN STREET - DAY

Amazed and disbelieving, Edward walks down the center of the road, no cars coming from either direction. He looks up to find his faded shoes still dangling from the power line, along with the rest of the town's.

625 JENNY

A man sees things differently at different times in his life. This town didn't seem the same now that he was older.

TOWN OF SPECTRE - VARIOUS SHOTS

We look around the town, on and off Main Street. There are "FOR SALE" signs in many of the windows

626 JENNY

A new road had brought the outside world to Spectre, and with it, banks, liens and debt.
Almost everywhere you looked, people were bankrupt.

SPECTRE - DAY

We slowly MOVE THROUGH a foreclosure auction to find Edward watching. Two very corporate MEN IN SUITS, stick out among the bidders.

627 JENNY

Two different corporations were looking at buying the town, if they could get the price low enough.
One wanted to open a chicken processing plant. The other, a municipal dump. Either way, Spectre would be destroyed.

Edward raises his hand.

628 EDWARD

Fifty-thousand!

Everyone turns to look at this new bidder.

629 JENNY

And so Edward Bloom decided to buy the town, in order to save it.

NORTHER WINSLOW'S MANHATTAN - DAY

Edward pitches his plan to Norther.

630 JENNY

He was never a wealthy man, but he had made other men rich, and now he asked for their favors.

/EXT. VARIOUS LOCATIONS - DAY

VARIOUS SHOTS: Expressive and passionate as always, Edward talks to Ping, Jing and Amos Calloway.

631 JENNY

Most of them had never seen Spectre -- they only had Edward's words to describe it. That's all they needed. He sold them on the dream.

632 JING

You can structure it as a historical trust. But you'll need every contiguous piece of property. It's all or nothing.

As Edward takes notes...

633 JENNY

So first he bought the farms. Then he bought the houses. Then he bought the stores.

AL'S COUNTRY - DAY

Finishing up with AL, Edward shakes hands.

634 JENNY

Whatever he bought, the people were not asked to leave or pay rent or anything. They were just asked to keep doing as they were doing. In that way, he could make sure the town would never die.

ROAD IN THE SWAMP - DAY

Edward climbs out of his car, the road having literally stopped. The sun is shining, but it can barely penetrate the trees' thick canopy.

635 JENNY

Within six months, his trust had purchased the entire town. With one exception.

In the distance, he sees a shack, so old it's nearly fallen. He walks toward it, the marshy ground SQUISHING up around his feet, soaking the hems of his trousers.

We hear a PIANO playing from inside the shack. Edward KNOCKS on the half-hung door, which swings open by itself.

SHACK - DAY

The inside is nicer than you'd think, a real home. A fire burns in the stove, and curtains hang in the windows.

With her back turned to him, Jenny Hill plays the piano. Edward doesn't recognize her as the little girl who used to have a crush on him. Without turning, she says...

636 JENNY

You must be Edward Bloom.

637 EDWARD

How did you know?

She keeps PLAYING.

638 JENNY

No one would come out here unless they had business. And no one would have business with me except for you. You're buying the town.

639 EDWARD

Apparently I've overlooked this one piece of it, and I'd like to remedy that. You see, in order for the town to be preserved, the trust must own it in its entirety.

640 JENNY

So I've heard.

641 EDWARD

I'll offer you more than it's worth. And you know you won't have to move. Nothing will change except the name on the deed, you have my word.

Jenny stops playing, her piece not quite finished. She turns to face him. Edward still doesn't recognize her.

642 JENNY

Now let me get this straight. You'll buy the swamp from me, but I'll stay in it. You'll own the house, but it'll still be mine. I'll be here, and you'll come and go as you please to one place or another. Do I have that right?

Strange to hear it put that way, but --

643 EDWARD

In so many words, yes.

644 JENNY

Then I don't think so Mr. Bloom. If nothing is going to change, I'd just as soon it not change in the way it hasn't been changing all this time.

645 EDWARD

It's not like you're going to lose anything. You can ask anyone in town. I've been nothing if not generous. I want the best for everyone.

A long beat.

646 JENNY

Mr. Bloom, why are you buying this land? Some sort of midlife crisis? Instead of buying a convertible, you buy a town?

He looks at her, puzzled and surprised. No one has really asked before.

647 EDWARD

Helping people makes me happy.

648 JENNY

I'm not convinced you should be happy.

649 EDWARD

I'm sorry. Have I offended you?

She finally turns to face him.

650 JENNY

No, you did exactly what you promised. You came back. I was just expecting you sooner.

FLASHBACK TO:

SPECTRE - NIGHT

Young Jenny Hill watches barefoot Edward leave Spectre for the first time.

BACK TO:

SHACK - DAY

Finally realizing who this woman is...

651 EDWARD

You're Beamen's daughter. Your last name is different.

(realizing)

You married.

652 JENNY

I was 18. He was 28. Turns out that was a big difference.

Before he can say anything more...

653 JENNY

I won't be selling you this house, Mr. Bloom.

654 EDWARD

I see. I thank you for your time.

A bit bewildered, Edward tips his hat to her as he leaves.

EXT/INT. SWAMP SHACK - DAY

Edward pulls the door shut behind him as he leaves, but it breaks off in his hands. It's not the clean exit he was hoping for.

Inside Jenny looks out, surprised and annoyed.

Edward tries to lift the door back on the hinges, but they SNAP off. The door frame buckles and the whole shack CREAKS.

655 EDWARD

I'm sorry.

He tries to lean the door against the frame, but it keeps slipping.

656 JENNY

It's okay, just leave it.

657 EDWARD

I can get it. I can just...

He leans the door a different way. It holds for a beat then falls in, SMASHING a small table.

658 EDWARD

Lord, I'm sorry I...

659 JENNY

Please. Go. Just go.

660 EDWARD

I'll...

661 JENNY

Go.

She's dead serious. Weighing the scales of chivalry, he finally backs away. Turns and heads back towards his car.

We STAY ON Jenny, watching him go. She's furious, but there's something more in her feelings for him. Something softer.

662 JENNY

Most men in that situation would accept their failure and move on. But Edward was not like most men.

SWAMP SHACK ROAD - ANOTHER DAY

With Karl the Giant's help, Edward unloads a brand new door from a pickup truck.

SHACK - DAY

While Jenny watches, half-annoyed, half-amused, Edward tries to set the door square. Karl pushes against the side of the house until it fits.

SHACK - ANOTHER DAY

Holding nails between his lips, Edward puts in new windows himself. Jenny is making soup, laughing at the story he's telling.

663 JENNY

As the months passed, he found more and more things to fix, until the shack no longer resembled itself.

SWAMP - ANOTHER DAY

Edward and Karl cut down a tree, letting in a flood of light. Through the golden pollen hanging in the air, we RISE UP to see the shack is now we saw before. It's tiny and white, with black shutters and a steep roof. A white picket fence. In every detail it is impossibly charming.

THE LOVELY HOUSE

JENNY'S HOUSE - DAY

Edward is screwing a hat rack into the wall in the foyer. Jenny leans against the doorframe listening to his story. And watching him with deepest affection.

664 EDWARD

Of course, the best part was creating new material.

By the time the twins and I got to Havana, we had a whole new routine worked out for them, with just a ukulele and a harmonica.

Finished with his work, he takes his hat off the chair and hangs it on the rack. Perfect.

A beat. A look between them. With that last job done, there's no reason for him to be staying any longer.

665 EDWARD

I suppose I should...

He takes his hat off the rack.

666 JENNY

You can leave it there.

A beat. Does she really mean it?

She comes closer. Edward holds his ground. She takes his hand, lifting his hat up to the peg. She's very close -- just a half-inch from kissing him when -- -- Edward gently holds her back.

667 EDWARD

No.

She freezes, stunned and humiliated. She pulls away.

668 EDWARD

Don't. Don't be embarrassed. I should never have let you think that...
(beat)
I am in love with my wife.

669 JENNY

I know.

670 EDWARD

And from the moment I saw her until the moment I die, she's the only one.

671 JENNY

Lucky girl.

672 EDWARD

I'm sorry, Jenny. I am.

With that, he begins to leaves.

673 JENNY

Wait! Edward!

She finds a pen and hastily signs the deed to the house.
Hands it to him. With a look, he thanks her. Then goes.

SPECTRE - MAGIC HOUR

Edward takes a final look at this perfect little town.

674 JENNY

One day, Edward Bloom left, and never returned to the town he'd saved.

He climbs in his car and starts the engine.

JENNY HILL'S HOUSE - DAY TO NIGHT

As we watch, the swamp begins to overtake the house, swallowing it in a tangle of vines and mossy branches. Shoots burst up through the planks in the porch. Snakes slither through the marsh.

Day becomes night.

675 JENNY

As for the girl, the common belief was that she'd become a witch, and crazy at that. She became something of a legend herself.

We REVERSE to find FOUR KIDS looking in through the rusty iron gate with flashlights. A beat, then they run away.

676 JENNY

And the story ended where it began.

JENNY HILL'S KITCHEN - PRESENT DAY

Will and Jenny are still sitting at her table, a pitcher of iced tea between them.

677 WILL

Logically, you couldn't be the Witch, because she was old back when he was young.

678 JENNY

No, it's logical if you think like your father. See, to him, there's only two women: your mother and everyone else.

679 WILL

You didn't become crazy.

680 JENNY

Well, therapy. And one day I realized I was in love with a man who could never love me back. I was living in a fairy tale.

Will smiles to hear it called that.

681 JENNY

People aren't like they are in stories. They hurt each other without meaning to. They are kind and unbelievably cruel at the same moment. Like me, now. I'm not sure I should have told you any of this.

Her composure is starting to break.

682 WILL

No, I wanted to know. I'm glad I know.

A long beat, both staring at their iced tea. Jenny is working herself into more of a state by not talking.

683 JENNY

I wanted to meet you for the longest time. I did.
(a smile)

I envied you so much. The way Eddie would talk about you when you were at Missouri, that award you won. Congratulations, incidentally. And when you got the job at the A.P., everything, he was so proud of you. I mean, that's the thing. Every moment he loved you.

She's fighting tears, not the first ones she's shed over this.

684 JENNY

And as brightly as the sun would shine when he was with me, every time he left it disappeared. I wanted to be as important to him as you were, and I was never going to be. I was make-believe and his other life, you, were real.

ANGLE ON Will, sorting through his swirling thoughts.

685 JENNY

You knew that, didn't you?

CUT TO:

WILL'S CAR - DAY / DRIVING

Will skips through the stations on the radio, but ultimately turns it off. He's trying to think.

BLOOM HOUSE - DUSK

Will walks up the front steps. There's a subtle change to his expression, a dark cloud lifted. He unlocks the door.

BLOOM HOUSE FOYER - DUSK

It's half-dark and quiet in the house, no talking, no TV. Will sets his keys on the table.

KITCHEN - DUSK

Will looks in. Empty.

686 WILL

(calling out)

Hello? Mom? Dad?

UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - DUSK

We follow Will, looking into his and Josephine's room. He aims for the guest room at the end of the hall.

GUEST ROOM - DUSK

Looking over his shoulder, we see his father's bed is empty. The sheets are in a tangle on the floor.

A beat, then Will half-runs back down the hall. Back down the stairs.

FOYER - DUSK

Headed out, Will grabs his keys off the table. We LOOK RIGHT, where the "MESSAGE" light blinks on the answering machine.

HOSPITAL ENTRANCE - NIGHT

The hospital is so new, it's not even finished -- thick plastic hangs from exposed framing. There's no one at the information desk, so Will forges ahead.

HOSPITAL HALLWAY - NIGHT

Will reads a directory board, trying to decide the best place to start. Then, behind him --

687 JOSEPHINE
Will!

He turns to see his wife at a payphone. She hangs up. She was calling him.

688 WILL
What happened?

689 JOSEPHINE
Your father had a stroke. He's upstairs with your mom and Dr. Bennett.

690 WILL
Is he going to be okay?

A beat. How can she answer?

He half-smiles, realizing the idiocy of his question. Of course his father's not going to be okay.

691 WILL
What I mean is, will he get back to the way he was when...

She cuts him off --

692 JOSEPHINE
No. He won't. I'm sorry.

And like that, it's done. We HOLD ON Will, reeling from the news.

HOSPITAL ROOM - NIGHT

Edward sleeps peacefully, just an oxygen tube under his nose. There are no beeping monitors, no blinking lights. It's mercifully quiet.

Sandra squeezes Will's hand tightly. She's holding herself together, but it's been a tough day.

Dr. Bennett has just gone through the details for the third time.

693 SANDRA

I don't suppose one of us could stay with him. In case he...

(beat)

In case he wakes up, one of us should be there.

694 WILL

I'll stay. Why don't you go home with Josephine and I'll stay tonight.

695 SANDRA

(to Dr. Bennett)

That's okay?

696 DR. BENNETT

It's fine.

697 SANDRA

(to Will)

You'll call if...

698 WILL

I will. I'll call.

A beat.

699 WILL

Mom, do you want some time with Dad?

700 SANDRA

Yes. Thank you.

A nod, then Will holds the door for Dr. Bennett and Josephine as they leave. Sandra is alone in the room with her husband.

She neatens his hair. Holds his hand. As she kisses his fingers, she tweaks her chin with them -- his signature move.

TRANSITION TO:

HOSPITAL HALLWAY - NIGHT

Sandra waits outside the women's restroom. Her face is a study in strained composure -- acknowledging the inevitable but refusing to surrender to it.

Josephine emerges.

701 JOSEPHINE

I'm sorry. It seems every hour I have to...

702 SANDRA

I know. It was the same when I was carrying Will.
Like clockwork.

The two women start to walk, no hurry.

703 SANDRA

Do you like it, being pregnant?

704 JOSEPHINE

I do.

705 SANDRA

I loved it. It sounds peculiar, but I loved every minute of it. I did. Eddie was travelling a lot, so he was gone, but I felt like I always had a piece of him with me. A little part of his soul inside me. I could feel it. It was alive and kicking.

Sandra has accidentally evoked a storm of emotion. She struggles to keep it in check. Almost a whisper...

706 SANDRA

I really miss that.

With a few breaths, Sandra tries to hold on. Hold back.

707 JOSEPHINE

Don't stop. Don't.

A beat, then Sandra finally melts. Josephine holds her. The two women stand together in the hallway, letting the moment be.

HOSPITAL ROOM - NIGHT

Will sits in a chair beside the bed, working through the crossword puzzle. A KNOCK as Dr. Bennett enters with his overcoat and bag, ready to leave for the night.

708 DR. BENNETT

Glad to see you're not trying to have a heartfelt talk. It's one of my greatest annoyances, when people talk to those who can't hear them.

709 WILL

My father and I have an advantage. We never talk.

Dr. Bennett smiles as he checks Edward's chart.

710 WILL

How long have you known my father?

711 DR. BENNETT

Thirty years. Maybe more.

712 WILL

How would you describe him?

(re: chart)

Five-eleven. One-eighty. Regulated hypertension.

(beat)

How would his son describe him?

Tables turned, Will searches for an answer. He doesn't have one.

Dr. Bennett hangs the chart back on the bed.

714 DR. BENNETT

Did your father ever tell you about the day you were born?

715 WILL

A thousand times. He caught an uncatchable fish.

716 DR. BENNETT

Not that one. The real story. Did he ever tell you that?

717 WILL

(suddenly interested)

No.

718 DR. BENNETT

Your mother came in about three in the afternoon. Her neighbor drove her, on account of your father was on business in Wichita. You were born a week early, but there were no complications. It was a perfect delivery. Now, your father was sorry to miss it, but it wasn't the custom for the men to be in the room for deliveries then, so I can't see as it would have been much different had he been there. And that's the real story of how you were born.

A long silence, just the sounds of the hospital, doctors being paged.

719 DR. BENNETT

Not very exciting, is it? And I suppose if I had to choose between the true version and an elaborate one involving a fish and a wedding ring, I might choose the fancy version. But that's just me.

Will half-smiles.

Patting Will's shoulder, Dr. Bennett leaves. We STAY ON Will and his father for a long time, then Will takes his pen and starts making a list.

HOSPITAL ROOM - VARIOUS SHOTS

Will flips to a new page. The list keeps getting longer.

He smiles, remembering something. On his fourth page, he looks up at his motionless father. A beat, then we slowly

CROSSFADE TO:

HOSPITAL ROOM - PRE-DAWN

It's very early morning, and the first blue light of day is glowing through the vertical blinds. Still in his chair, Will wakes up a bit at a time. The notepad is on his lap, the pen in his hand.

He cracks his neck, crooked from sleeping on it wrong. What woke him up?

He looks to his right. Holds his gaze for a breath.

720 WILL

Dad?

His father is awake, silently GASPING for breath. His eyes are open, scared and confused.

721 WILL

Dad! Do you want me to get a nurse?

Edward shakes his head unambiguously. Will already has his finger on the orange "nurse call" button, but doesn't push it.

722 WILL

What can I do? Can I help? Can I get you something? Water?

Edward nods. Will pours a glass from the pitcher on the nightstand. He holds it to his father's lips, but Edward won't drink. He pushes it away. He wanted something else.

723 EDWARD

(whispering)
The river.

724 WILL

The river?

It takes Edward all his strength to put together each thought. It's like he's only half-there, fighting to hang on to this world.

725 EDWARD

Tell me how it happens.

726 WILL

How what happens?

727 EDWARD

How I go.

ON WILL, realizing...

728 WILL

You mean what you saw in The Eye?

Edward nods. Yes, that's what he was trying to say.

A long beat.

729 WILL

I don't know that story, Dad. You never told me that one.

Will pushes his fingers under his father's heavy hand, and holds it. There's nothing else to do.

Edward looks around, confused and increasingly scared. He sees the end approaching, but doesn't know exactly what's coming. Without the story, he's lost.

Fighting the urge to panic --

730 WILL

I can try, Dad. If you help. Just tell me how it starts.

731 EDWARD

Like this.

732 WILL

Okay. Okay.

Will looks around the room, increasingly desperate. He looks to the nurse call button. He really wants to press it.

ON EDWARD, waiting for Will to begin.

733 WILL

Okay. It's morning, and you and I are in the hospital. I'd fallen asleep in the chair. I wake up and I see you, and...

CUT TO:

HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY [STORY VERSION]

734 WILL

Dad?

It's dawn, and the first golden glow is shining through the vertical blinds.

735 WILL
 (louder and concerned)
 Dad?

We LOOK OVER to find a nimble Edward sitting up in bed, combing his hair.

736 EDWARD
 Let's get out of here.

737 WILL Somehow, you're better. Different. You're getting ready to go. And I say...

738 WILL
 Dad, you're in no condition to...

But Edward throws back the covers.

739 EDWARD
 There's a fold-up wheelchair in the bathroom. Wrap a blanket around me. As soon as we get off this floor, we'll be in the clear.

Will heads for the bathroom. Sure enough, the wheelchair is there.

740 EDWARD
 Hurry! We don't have much time.

HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

With the blanket draped over his head like a ghost, Edward points for his son to steer the wheelchair thataway.

741 EDWARD Faster!

They pass a HEAVYSET NURSE, who turns to look.

Rounding a corner, they nearly crash into Dr. Bennett.

742 DR. BENNETT

Will! I...What are you doing?

Before he can answer, Will spots Edward rolling the chair himself, pumping both arms. Will dashes to catch up with him.

The Heavysset Nurse leans out of Edward's hospital room.

743 NURSE

Security! Stop them!

DOWN THE HALL

At the elevators, Sandra and Josephine step out to find Will and Edward barreling straight at them.

744 EDWARD

No time to explain! Follow us!

Seeing SECURITY GUARDS heading their way, a quick-thinking Sandra shoves a nearby cart into them, bowling them down.

ELEVATOR - DAY

Will brakes hard, sliding with both feet. The chair nearly crashes into the back wall as the doors close.

PARKING LOT - DAY

Will races Edward down the row, finally reaching the Chevrolet.

AT THE CAR

Will lifts his father out of the chair.

745 WILL

I pick you up and you hardly weigh anything. I can't explain it.

Will sets him in the passenger seat.

746 EDWARD

Water. I need water.

Scrambling in back, Will finds a liter of Arrowhead. Hands it off. Edward unscrews the cap, but instead of drinking it, he douses himself. Soaks the blanket.

Will pops the trunk. Starts to fold up the wheelchair.

747 EDWARD

Leave it! We won't need it.

TIRES SMOKE as the car peels out.

BACK TO:

HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY [REALITY]

TIGHT ON Will, trying to hold back tears as he talks.

748 WILL

And we have to take Glenville to avoid all the church traffic, because those damn church people drive too slow.

TIGHT ON Edward, enjoying that detail. He's focused completely on Will's story.

749 WILL

I ask...

BACK TO:

GLENVILLE BLVD. - DAY [STORY VERSION]

The Chevy slaloms through the Sunday-morning traffic.

750 WILL

Where are we headed?

751 WILL

You say...

CHEVY - DAY

752 EDWARD

The River!

Will stops short, the traffic backed up. He HONKS, trying to get around the jam. But it's no use.

Then, up ahead, the cars start moving, shoved aside by massive hands. It's Karl the Giant, clearing a path by brute force.

Edward leans out the window and waves. Karl waves back.

ASHTON RIVER - DAY

The same stretch of the river where it all began. A CROWD of more than 100 waiting.

753 WILL

As we get closer to the river, we see everybody's already there. And I mean everybody.

Amos Calloway is here with the circus folk, including Mr. Soggybottom. We also find Edward's Mother and Father, the Mayor, and many others from along the way. No one has aged a day since we saw them last.

While Ping scans the horizon, Jing nuzzles with her boyfriend, Norther Winslow. It's Ping who first spots the Chevrolet.

754 PING

He's here!

The crowd CHEERS. The Ashton marching band PLAYS. Jenny Hill smiles. So does the Old Woman.

We PUSH IN on the Old Woman's glass eye, where we see...

755 YOUNG EDWARD reflected. This is what he saw.

THE CHEVROLET - DAY

Amazed, Will turns to his father.

756 WILL

It's unbelievable.

757 EDWARD

Story of my life.

RIVERSIDE - DAY

Will gets out of the Chevrolet, overwhelmed by the crowd. Behind him, Sandra, Josephine and Dr. Bennett pull up. Karl comes just after that.

Crossing to the passenger side, Will lifts his father out. Strangely, he's gotten even lighter. Will carries him easily.

Edward pulls off his shoes, tying the laces together. He hands them to Josephine. She throws them up at the powerline. They loop over. APPLAUSE and CHEERS.

The crowd parts to let Will and Edward get to the river. As he passes, Edward shakes some hands, pats some people on the cheek, and gives others a good poke in the ribs.

758 WILL

And the strange thing is, there's not a sad face to be found. Everyone's just so glad to see you, and send you off right.

Will walks into the river, up to his knees. He turns back so his father can face the crowd. Edward waves.

759 EDWARD

Goodbye everybody! Farewell! Adieu!

760 THE CROWD

Goodbye Edward! / See ya! / We'll miss you!

But one face is missing from the crowd -- Sandra. Will turns to see she's already standing in the river beside them.

The reflection of the light off the water gives Sandra an unearthly glow. She's more tranquil and more beautiful than we've ever seen her.

761 EDWARD

My girl in the river.

She kisses him. He tweaks her chin. The crowd HOLLERS in approval, but their moment remains strangely private. Only Will is there to witness.

As the kiss ends, Edward tries to pull off his wedding ring. But it's stuck. Finally, he sucks on it, pulling it free with his teeth.

A look to Will, a smile with a glint of gold. Will takes the ring out of his mouth.

Edward suddenly drops out of Will's arms with a SPLASH. For he's no longer a man, but rather swimming at his feet.

A FAT CATFISH

We watch as the catfish circles, then heads for deeper water, disappearing.

Will and his mother stand knee-deep in the water, watching Edward Bloom swim away into the sunlight. Josephine is back on the shore, along with the entire crowd.

MUSIC BUILDS to a climax, then...

Down the river, a GIANT FISH suddenly jumps out of the water, cutting a beautiful arc across the sunset. It then dives back under with a SPLASH.

CROSSFADE BACK TO:

HOSPITAL ROOM - DAY

Will has tears hanging in the corners of his eyes.

762 WILL

You become what you always were. A very big fish.
(he smiles)
And that's the way it happens.

763 EDWARD

(a whisper)
Yes. Exactly.

Edward smiles, proud of both of them. His eyes are so pale and so open, we can almost see his soul. In every atom of his body, in every thought, Edward Bloom is entirely happy.

And this is how he goes.

HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

Will shuts the door to his father's room behind him. The walk to the payphones seems to take a lifetime.

He finds a quarter, starts to dial. He has to squint to see through the water in his eyes. It's ringing. And ringing. The other end answers.

764 WILL

(voice cracking)
Hi.

That's all he can get out before the dam breaks inside him. He presses closer to the phone, trying to shield himself.

MUSIC begins that will carry us through the next passage.

HOSPITAL RECEPTION - DAY

Will waits at reception as Sandra and Josephine come off the elevator.

GUEST ROOM - DAY

Josephine opens the curtains, letting white sunlight in. She strips the bed.

BEDROOM - DAY

Will and his mother pick out one of Edward's ties, for Will to wear at the funeral. Will tries to button the cuffs on the shirt he borrowed, but they're the kind that need links.

He goes through the top drawer of the dresser, trying to find a matching pair. Further down, he finds a ribbon tied to

THE KEY TO THE CITY.

He smiles, disbelieving. It's a real thing.

CEMETERY / ROAD - DAY

Will helps his mother out of a black sedan. She's well-composed, not nearly the wreck we might have expected.

Josephine hugs Dr. Bennett and shakes hands with his WIFE. The service is crowded, more than 200 people, many more than expected.

As his mother talks to a WELL-WISHER, Will looks left to see an Oldsmobile parking.

CLOSE ON the license plates. Missouri.

The passenger side opens, but the man who steps out is barely visible over the door. He shuts it to reveal himself to be 70.

It's Amos Calloway. Will doesn't recognize him.

The Driver climbs out, a size 15 foot on the gravel. We TILT UP to see this man is huge.

This man is KARL, now 55. He's not 12 feet tall, but at least six-eight.

CLOSE ON Will, bewildered to see that this man really exists.

CEMETERY / GRAVESIDE - DAY

As the service gets ready to begin, Will guides his mother to a seat near the grave.

Sitting beside Will, Josephine spots a stunning ASIAN WOMAN (50) behind them. A beat later, an identical face with glasses peers out -- the woman's twin sister.

It's PING and JING.

Josephine almost GASPS. She elbows Will, who turns to look. From this angle, the sisters seem conjoined, but then Jing steps forward. They're really two separate people.

A sea of familiar faces, all of them aged through the years: BEAMEN, NORTHER WINSLOW, the MAYOR, and ZACKY PRICE.

CEMETERY - DAY [LATER]

After the service, we see the crowd gathered in small groups. By the LAUGHTER and hand gestures, we can see they're telling stories. They're telling Edward's stories.

We find Will watching them.

765 WILL

Have you ever heard a joke so many times you've forgotten why it's funny? But then you hear it again and suddenly it's new. You remember why you loved it in the first place.

Will joins in, laughing.

We slowly CIRCLE BEHIND a monument, letting it black out the screen.

TRANSITION TO:

BLOOM HOUSE BACKYARD - DAY [SUMMER]

Will sits on the porch with Sandra and Josephine, watching his SON play in the pool with two NEIGHBOR KIDS.

766 SON

(to the other boys)

So he said he'd fight the giant who was fifteen feet tall.

767 KID

No way.

768 SON

(calling over)

Dad, that's right, isn't it?

769 WILL

Something like that.

770 SON

See. So he was a giant but my grampa was going to fight him because he wasn't afraid of anything because he'd seen how he was going to die in this old lady's glass eye...

Will smiles as his son continues the tale, which FADES.
Sandra takes Will's hand in hers, just listening.

771 WILL

That was my father's final joke I guess. A man tells his stories so many times that he becomes the stories. They live on after him.

CROSSFADE TO:

RIVER / UNDERWATER - DAY

A fat and happy catfish swims towards us.

772 WILL

And in that way, he becomes immortal.

The fish passes us with a SPLASH.

CUT TO BLACK.
