This is a Southern story, full of lies and fabrications, but truer for their inclusion.

FADE IN:
A RI VER.
This is The Beast.
EDWARD (V. Q.)
There are some fish that cannot be caught. It's not that they're faster or stronger than other fish. They're just touched by something extra. Call it luck. Call it grace. One such fish was The Beast.

The Beast's journey takes it past a dangling fish hook, baited with worms. Past a tempoting lure, sparkling in the sun. Past a swiping bear claw. The Beast isn't worried.

By the time I was born, he was already a legend. He'd taken more hundred-dollar lures than any fish in Alabana. Some said that fish was the ghost of Henry Walls, a thief who'd drowned in that river 60 years before. Others clained he was a lesser dinosaur, left over from the Oretaceous period.

I NT. WILL'S BEDROOM- NI CHT (1973)

W/LL BLOOV, I AGE 3, listens wide-eyed as his father EDM/RD BLOOV, I 40 s and handsome, tells the story. In every gesture, Edward is bigger than life, describing each detail with absolute conviction.

EDWIRD

I didn't put any stock into such speculation or superstition. All I knew was I' that fish since I was a boy no bigger than you. (closer)

And on the day you were born, that was the day I finally caught him.

EXT. CAMPFIRE - NIGHT (1977)

A few years later, and W/II sits with the other INDIAN GUIDES as Edward continues telling the story to the tribe.

EDWRD

Now, I'd tried everything on it: worms, lures, peanut butter, peanut butter-and-cheese. But on that day I had a revelation: if that fish was the ghost of a thief, the usual bait wasn't going to work. I would have to use something he truly desired.

Edward points to his wedding band, glinting in the firelight.

LI TTLE BRAVE

(confused) Your finger? Edward slips his ring off. EDWRD Gold. While the other boys are rapt with attention, W/II looks bored. He's heard this EDWRD I tied my ring to the strongest line they made -- strong enough to hold up a bridge, they said, if just for a few minutes -- and I cast upriver.

BLOOVIFRONT HALL - NIGHT (1987)

Edward is chatting up W/II's pretty DATE to the honecoming dance. She is enjoying the story, but also the force of Edward's charisma. He'

EDWARD (CONT'D)

The Beast jumped up and grabbed it before the ring even hit the water. And just as fast, he snapped clean through that line.

W/LL, now 17 with braces, is funing and ready to leave. His nother SANDRA -- from whom he gets his good looks and practicality -- stands with

EDW/RD

You can see my predicament. My wedding ring, the symbol of fidelity to my wife, so on to be the mother of my child, was now lost in the gut of an uncatchable fish.

ON WILL AND SANDRA

WLL

Make himstop.

His norther pats him sympathetically, then adjusts his tie.

WLL'S DATE

VMat did you do?

EDWRD

I followed that fish up-river and down-river for three days and three nights, until I finally had him boxed in.

Will regards his father with exasperated contempt.

EDWRD

With these two hands, I reached in and snatched that fish out of the river. I looked him straight in the eye. And I nade a remarkable discovery.

INT. TINY PARIS RESTAURANT (LA RUE 14°) - NIGHT (1998)

W/LL, now 28, sits with his gorgeous bride JOSEPH NE. This is their wedding reception, crowded with their friends and family. They should be Edward has the floor, ostensibly for a toast. The room is cozy and drunk.

EDWRD

This fish, the Beast. The whole time we were calling it a him, when in fact it was a her. It was fat with eggs, and was going to lay them any day.

Over near the doorway, we spot Sandra, just returned from the restrooms. She looks gorgeous. She couldn't be any happier if this were her own wedding.

EDWRD

Now, I was in a situation. I could gut that fish and get my ring back, but doing so I would be killing the snartest catfish in the Ashton of a hundred others.

W/II can't take any norre. Josephine tries to hold himback, but he gets up and leaves. Edward doesn't even notice.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Did I want to deprive my soon-to-be-born son the chance to catch a fish like this of his own? This lady fish and I, well, we had the same destiny.

As he leaves, Will moutters in perfect unison with his father--

EDWARD AND WILL

We were part of the same equation.

W/II reaches the door, where his norther intercepts him.

SANDRA

Honey, it's still your night.

Will can't articulate his anger. He just leaves.

EDWRD

Now, you may well ask, since this lady fish wasn't the ghost of a thief, why did it strike so quick on gold when nothing else would attract it?

(closer; he holds up his ring)

That was the lesson I learned that day, the day my son was born.

He focuses his words on Sandra. This story is -- and has all ways been -- about her more than anyone.

EDWRD

Sometimes, the only way to catch an uncatchable woman is to offer her a wedding ring.

A LAUGH from the crowd.

Edward nortions for Sandra to get up here with him. As she crosses, we can see that thirty years of narriage has not lessened their affection for each other.

As they kiss, Edward tweaks her chin a special little way. The crowd APPLAUDS.
Edward to asts the happy couple. Josephine covers well for her absent husband, a smile as warm as summer.
Edward downshis champagne in a gulp.
EXT. CUTSI DE LA RUE 14° - NI GHT
We come into the middle of an argument on the sidewalk. Occasional PASSERSBY heated. Both men are a little drunk.
ED/MRD
What, a father's not allowed to talk about his son?
WLL

(disbelieving)

I am a footnote in that story. I am the context for your great adventure. Which never happened! Incidentally! You were selling novelty products in Which the day I was born.

EDWRD

(shaking his head)

Jesus Christ.

WLL

Friend of yours? Did you help himout of a bind?

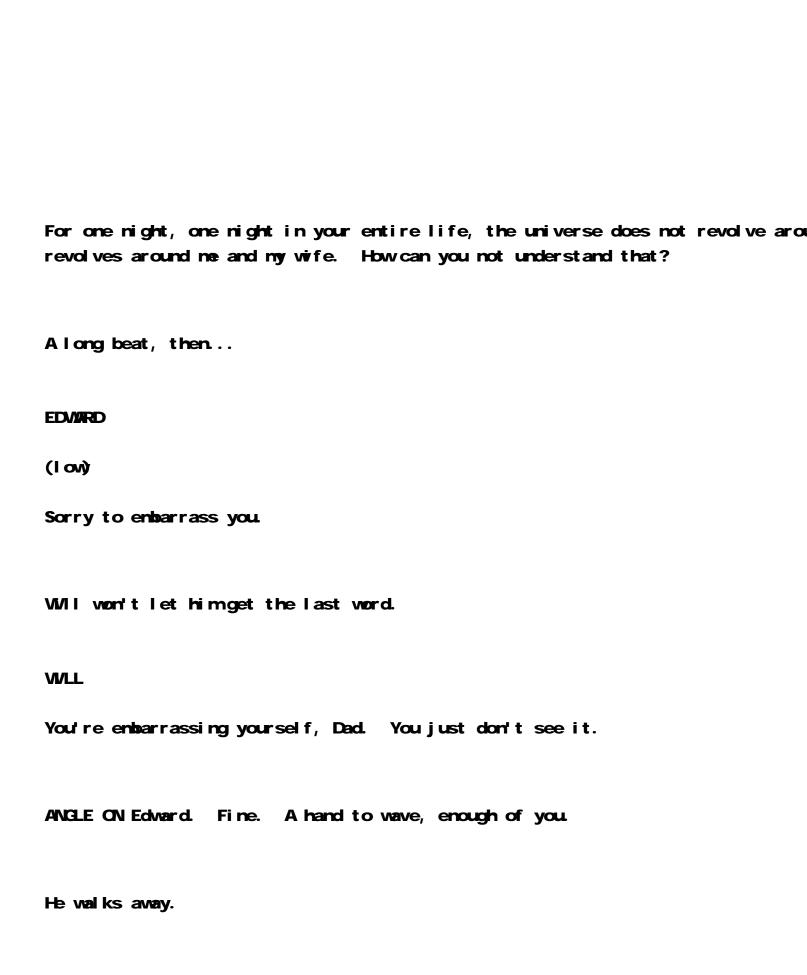

EDW/RD

Cone on, Will. Everyone likes that story.

WLL

No Dad, they don't. I do not like the story. Not anymore, not after a thousand times. I know all the punchlines, Dad. I can tell them as well as you

ANGLE ON WII, still funing with righteous anger. It's then we FREEZE FRANT.

WLL (V.Q) (CONT'D)

After that night, I didn't speak to my father again for three years.

INT. A.P. NEVSROOVI(PARIS) - DAY

A typically busy day. On hold with the phone cradiled under an ear, Will sorts through a bundle of nail dropped on his desk.

WLL (ON PHONE)

(without pauses)

William Bloom with the Associated Press if I could just...

He's put back on hold. Returning to the nail, he finds a hand-addressed envelope. Rips it open.

WLL (V.Q) (CONT'D)

We communicated indirectly I guess. In her letters and Christmas cards, my mother would write for both of them.

I NT. BLOOMHOUSE KI TOHEN - DAY

At the table, Sandra talks on the phone while Edward fixes a sandwich.

WLL (V.Q)

When I'd call, Mornwould say that Dad was out driving. Or swinning in the pool.

Edward takes a seat, starting to eat his sandwich.

True to form, we never talked about our not talking.

I NT. BLOOMHOUSE MASTER BEDROOM- NI CHT

EXT. BLOOMBACK YARD - NIGHT [CONTINUOUS]

Edward swins laps in the family pool. He's born to the water.

WLL (V.Q)

The truth is, I didn't see anything of myself in my father, and I don't think he saw anything of himself in me. We were like strangers who knew each other very well.

EXT. RIVER - DAY

Edward stares intently into the water, a lion in wait.

WLL (V.Q)

In telling the story of my father's life, it's impossible to separate the fact from the fiction, the man from the myth. The best I can do is to tell it the way he told me.

We LOOK DOWN at the river, where Edward's reflection is caught in the dark water. As the water ripples past, something changes.

Sure enough, as we LOOK UP again, it's a younger EDM/RD ELCON/I 20's, staring into the water. He's not just handsome, not just charming. It's as if all the forces of the natural world had conspired to create him.

WLL (V.Q) (CONT'D)

It doesn't always nake sense, and nost of it never happened.

Suddenly, this Edward thrusts both hands into the water, grabbing hold of

THE BEAST.

He brings the catfish up to his face. Looks it right in the eye. A beat, then the Beast spits out Edward's gold ring.

WLL (V.Q) (CONT'D)

But that's what kind of story this is.

Smiling, Edward takes the ring, then throws the Beast back into the water with a splash.

YOUNG DR. BENNETT

Now, Mis. Bloom, I'll need you to give me one good push. On three. One...

Suddenly, we hear a POP as a slimy mass of human being rockets into the doctor's unprepared hands. Bennett tries to hold tight, but the infant is slippery like a fish. It shoots up into air.

The NURSES and the Husband try to grab the baby, but no one can hold it. As the newborn sails upward TOM/ARDS CANERA, we can see a CICCLING SNILE on its face.

As it falls, the newborn knocks over a tray, which provides it a ramp to slide right out of the room. Everyone races after it.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

Bursting through the doors --

YOUNG DR. BENNETT

Grab that baby!

A NURSE finally scoops up the slippery baby. Everyone lets out a collective sigh of relief.

WLL (V.Q)

My father's birth would set the pace for his unlikely life. No longer than most men's, but larger. And as strange as his stories got, the endings were always the most surprising of all.

Int. Half-dark paris apartnent - (present) day

Over the sound of rain, a phone RINGS on a chair. By the tone of the ring, we know we're not in the U.S. -- it has that insistent European sound.

As it keeps RINCING, we look to see the apartment is mostly empty, just a few half-unpacked boxes. A cradile is still in its carton.

KEYS in the lock. LAUCHTER in the hall way. The door swings open to reveal a drenched W/II (29) carrying four sacks of groceries, the bottoms collapsing from the rain. His wife Josephine (28) pushes past him to get the phone.

JOSEPH NE

Allo oui?

Will begins stripping out of his wet clothes, each layer unleashing a new drizzl reaction out of Josephine.

JOSEPH NE (CONI' D)

(on phone)

Yes, he's here.

She hands the phone to Will, concerned.

JOSEPH NE (CONT' D)

It's your nother.

Half-stripped, W/II takes the phone. This won't be good news.

As Josephine takes off her rain coat, we see she is very, very pregnant. She listens carefully to W/II's side of the conversation, trying to g

INT. AIR FRANCE 747 - NIGHT

As the plane continues boarding, a STEVMRDESS recites the welcome spiel in French. Will has a window seat in coach. Josephine sits beside him, putting on hand lotion.

Taking his hands, she rubs the excess into him. There's an effortless intinacy between them. She can pinpoint what he's feeling before he can.

INT. 747 / FLYING - NIGHT

Hours later, and the lights are dimmed. Most of the PASSENGERS are as leep, including proposed against VI/II's shoulder, her hands tucked under her belly.

W/II watches her sleep, brushing back her hair. A beat, then he notices a BORED BOY in the next row over.

Off the glow of the reading light, the boy is using his hands to cast shadows on the seat back. The kid is pretty good, naking a convincing bird, a passable nonkey, and finally a dog.

We PUSHIN on the silhouettes.

Neither was I. At first.

Will smiles, excited to hear the forbidden story.

This all happened in the swamp outside of Ashton. Kids weren't supposed to go out in the swamp, on account of the snakes and spiders and quicksand that would swallow you up before you could even scream. But there were five of us out there that night: Ne, Ruthie, Wilbur Freely, and the Price Brothers, Don and Zacky.

Five kids walk past in silhouette. Four have flashlights on. The fifth keeps tripping, crashing into YOUNG EDWARD (10).

EDW/RD

Zacky, turn your flashlight on!

ZACKY

I don't got any batteries!

Red-headed ZACKY PRICE is 10. His brother DON PRICE is 12, and a lot bigger than the others.
DON PRICE
Then why'd you bring it?

I don't want to be in the swamp with a witch and no flashlight.
WILBUR FREELY, also 10, is the black asthnatic son of a sharecropper. Redhead be there.

EXT. A CREEPY OLD HOUSE - NI CHI

ADULT EDWARD (V. Q.)

Now, it's common knowledge that most towns of a certain size have a witch, if only to eat misbehaving children and the occasional puppy who wanders into her yard.

Witches use those bones to cast spells and curses that make the land infertile.

We PULL BACK, and BACK, revealing more of the Cothically creepy house: its brol gargoyles half-buried in the dirt. Even bats are afraid to fly over it.

In the moronlight, the house is especially sinister. Who knows what is lurking in the shadows?

ADULT EDWARD (V.Q.) (CONT'D)

Yet of the all the witches in Alabama, there was one who was the most feared. For she had one glass eye, which was said to contain mystical powers.

We finally come to the kids, staring in through the gate.

WLBUR FREELY

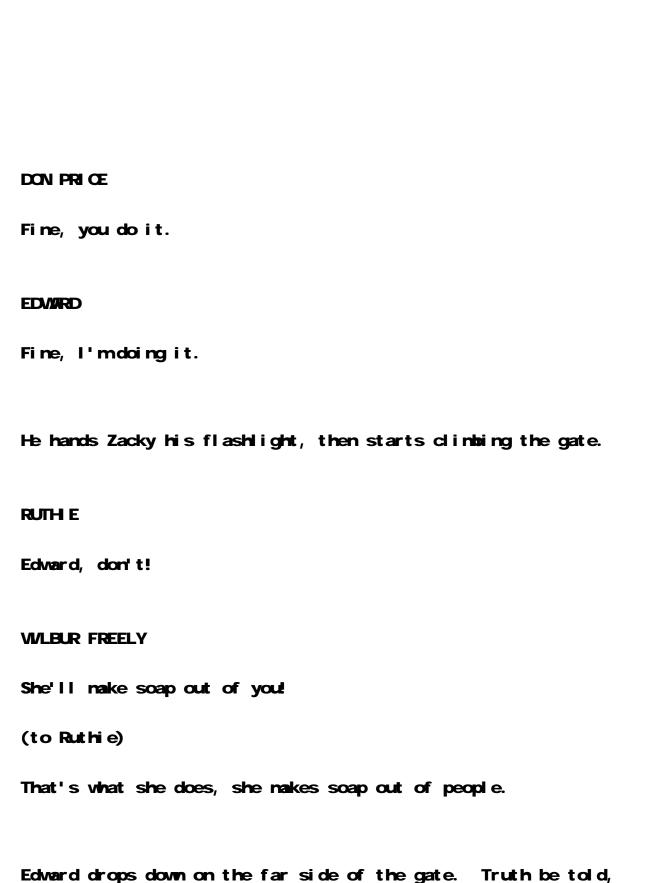

I hear if you look right at it, you can see how you're gonna die.

EDWRD

That's bull-s-h-i-t, that is. She's not even a real witch.

DON PRICE You're so sure, why don't you go in and get that eye? I heard she keeps it in a box on her nighttable. Edward I ooks back at the spooky house. DON PRICE (CONT D) Or are you too scared? EDWRD I'll go in right now and get that eye. DON PRICE Then doit. EDWRD

Fine, I will.

Edward is scared, but he forges ahead anyway.

Wilbur looks to Ruthie, and they're in complete agreement.

They get the hell out of there. Zacky would run too, but Donholdshim by the collar.

EXT. APPROACHING THE HOUSE

Edward curves around the tall bushes that hide the front door.

Anything could jump out of them

He steps on the porch. The boards SQUEAL and CREAK, but he continues on. A cat SCREANS OUT from a broken wicker rocker. Catching his breath, Edward reaches the front door.

The doorknob is ancient brass, two projections that look like horns. Yet Edward extends his hand, reaching closer and closer before he finall

EDWRD

I was thinking about death and all. About seeing how you're gonna die.

The Old Woman turns to him slightly, still not facing him.

The Cld Woman turns leaning her face right in front of his. And on a silent count of one, two, three -- Edward looks into The Eye.

This time we don't cut. Instead, we HOLD ON Edward as he witnesses his death. He stares transfixed, perplexed and amused. Whatever he sees, it's not as dire as the other boys. His future has something strange in store.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Huh. That's how I go?

The Cld Woman nods. Still a little overwhelmed, Edward turns and leaves.

ADULT EDWARD (V. Q.)

Josephine squeezes past, a smile to her husband -- be nice.

VI/II heads back to the rental car to retrieve luggage. Sandra follows him

Coming down the driveway, we get to see the house for the first time: an older suburban home, three bedrooms, big for the neighborhood, and nicely grown into the lot. KIDS are playing on the street.

WLL

Is that Dr. Bennett's car?

SANDRA He's up with your father. Heading back to the house... WLL Howishe? SANDRA He's impossible. He won't eat. And because he won't eat, he gets weaker. And because he's weaker, he doesn't want to eat. WLL How much time does he have left? SANDRA

You don't talk about those things. Not yet.

INT. KITCHEN - DAY

Sandra is pouring iced tea for W/II and Josephine.

A noment of awkwardness -- everyone here knows they haven't spoken in years.

INT. UPSTAIRS HALLWAY - DAY

A crack of sunlight spills around the half-open door at the end of the hallway. W/ll walks towards it, running a hand along the wall paper.

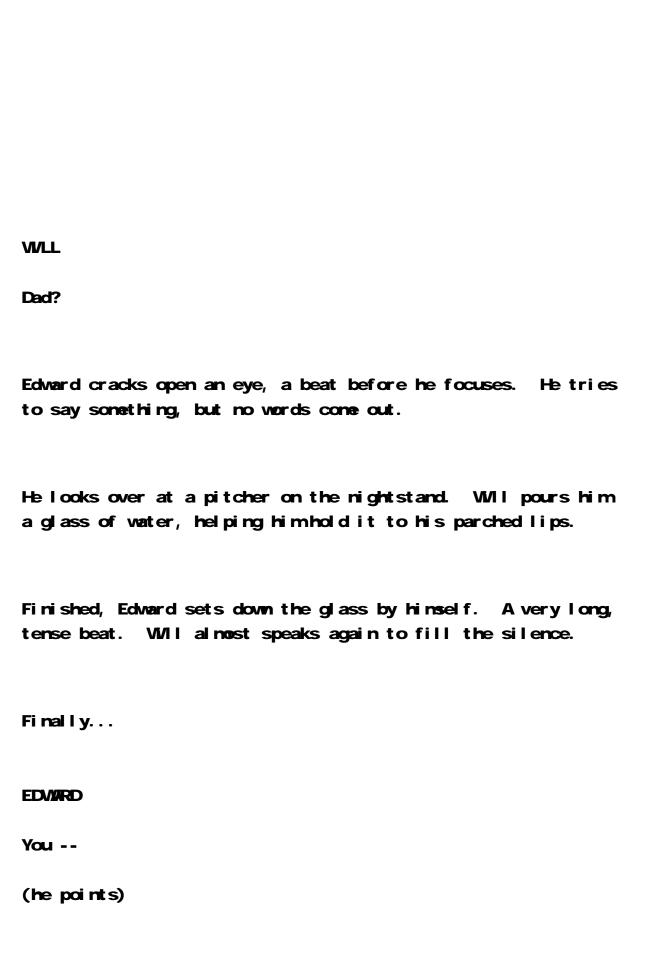

Almost at the door, he stops for a beat. Gets his breath. Then goes inside.

INT. GUEST ROOM- DAY

Edward Bloom, 61, lies asleep on the bed. Although he's not the vibrant man we've seen before, it's not as bad we feared. The illness has been quick, and left him largely intact.

There are no I.V.'s, no nomitors, nothing.

Coming up to the bed --

WLL Did you do any of that? EDWRD No, but I hear it's terrible. Then you spend years trying to corrupt and mislead this child, fill its head with nonsense and still it turns out perfectly fine.

WLL

You think I'mup for it?

You learned from the best.

Will doesn't rise to the challenge. A beat, then he remembers the can of Ensure. Holds it up. Edward recoils.

WLL

Just drink half the can. I'll tell her you drank the whole thing. Everyone wins.

A beat, then Edward rolls his eyes. Fine. W/ll cracks open the can, finding a straw on the night stand.

EDW/RD

People needn't worry so much. It's not my time yet. This isn't how I go.

WLL

Really. EDW/RD Truly. I sawit in The Eye. WLL The Cld Lady by the swamp. EDW/RD She was a witch. WLL No, she was old and probably senile. Maybe schizophrenic. EDW/RD I saw my death in that eye. And this is not how it happens.

WLL So how does it happen? EDWRD Surprise ending. Wouldn't want to ruin it for you. Edward slurps down as much of the Ensure as he can stand, then pushes the can away. INT. YOUNG EDWARD'S BEDROOM- DAY

Young Edward lies in bed, his limbs connected to various pulleys and levers to sencyclopedias around him, and another dozen on the floor.

EDWARD (V.Q)

Ny muscles couldn't keep up with my bones, and my bones couldn't keep up with my body's ambition. So I spent the better part of three years confined to my bed, with the World Book Encyclopedia being my only means of exploration. I had made it all hoping to find an answer to my gigantification is my when I uncovered an article about the common goldfish.

Although we've seen himbriefly before, this is our first real exposure to GRO/MA-UP EDW//RD, who we'll follow from roughly the ages of 18 to 30.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

As soon as my bones had settled in their adult configuration, I set upon my plan for myself in Ashton. EXT. SCHOOL FIELDS - DAY

SINGLE SHOTS: Football hero Edward leads his team to victory.

On the sidelines, a PRETTY CIRL admits the name of her secret love:

The other CIRLS SCUEAL in agreement. Don Price Looks over, glowers.

EXT. NEI GHBORHOOD - DAY

SINGLE SHOT: A lawmnower ROARS along the grass. We LOOK UP to see who's pushing it, but it's not Edward. It's one of his teenage ENPLOYEES.

Edward is back at the truck, which is painted to read, "Bloom Landscaping." He has workers on every lawn.

Pissed, Don Price throws his crappy lina bean plants in the trash.

INT. HIGH SCHOOL STAGE - DAY

A dashingly handsome Edward leads the CAST out for a curtain call. He's the star of the show. Off to the side, we see Don Price is the ass-end of a horse costume.

Edward soaks in his applause, snilling and gracious.

EXT. GRADUATI ON STAGE - DAY

Edward accepts his diplona. The PRINCIPAL hugs him tight.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

I was the biggest thing Ashton had ever seen. Until one day, a stranger arrived.

EXT. FARIVI- DAY

As two FARINERS shake their heads, we REVERSE to a show a massive hole punched the shape of man, but no human could be that large.

EXT. SHEEP PEN - DAY

Two fat ewes look up, a shadow falling across them. They BLEAT in panic as Outside, buzzards squabble over the renains of the giant's feast: broken barrels, bones picked cl ean. In his most serious voice, Edward calls out: EDWRD Hell o! There's no answer. EDWARD (CONT'D) My name is Edward Bloomh I want to talk to you!

From deep in a cave, a thunderous voice:

VOICE (QS.)

GO AVAY!

The giant's voice has such force, it blows Edward's hair back.

EDW/RD

I'mnot going anywhere until you show yourself.

A beat, then we hear a RUNBLE, like a train coming. Edward braces himself, fists ready for a fight, if that's what it's going to take.

As the RUNBLE gets louder, the ground starts to shake. Even Edward starts to worry. Just how big is this guy?

EDWARD (V.Q.) (CONT'D)

Armed with the foreknowledge of my own death, I knew the giant couldn't kill me. All the same, I preferred to keep my bones unbroken.

Edward picks up a stone, ready to play David to Goliath.

Then suddenly, the giant bursts forth. Hunched over, he slans into a stunned Edward, knocking him halfway down the hill.

KARL THE CIANT is bigger than any man you've ever seen. Not just tall, but massive. He's compiletely feral, with a beard to his elbow and skin scratched and blistered. What remains of his clothes are ragged and mouddy. God knows what's living in his matted hair.

Karl leans over Edward, blocking the sun. Edward throws his rock, but it just bounces off. The giant didn't even notice it.

KARL

VMy are you here?

Edward ponders the best response, settling on...

EDWRD

So you can eat me. The town decided to send a hunan sacrifice, and I volunteered.

Karl's eyes narrow, confused. Edward stands up.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

My arms are a little stringy, but there's some good eating on my legs. I mean, I'd be tempeted to eat them myself.

(beat)

So I guess, just, if you could get it over with quick. Because I'm not much for pain, really.

Edward closes his eyes, hands at his side, ready to be eaten. Karl just stares at him, not sure what to do. After a beat, Edward opens his eyes a tiny bit, just to see what the giant is doing. Relieved to see he's not licking his choops --

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Look, I can't go back. I'm a hunan sacrifice. If I go back, everyone will think I'm a coward. And I'd rather be dinner than a coward.

Karl sits down with a BOOM, dejected.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Here, start with my hand. It'll be an appetizer.

Reaching up, Edward shoves his hand into Karl's nouth. But the giant spits it back out.

KARL

I don't want to eat you. I don't want to eat anybody. It's just I get so hungry. I'm too big. And that's the sad truth. Karl is less a nomester than a freak -- a giant man, but in the end, just a man.

Edward takes a seat beside him

EDW/RD

Did you ever think naybe you're not too big? Maybe this town's just too small. I mean, look at it.

Circling behind them, we look down at Ashton -- a tiny town in a tiny valley.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Hardly two stories in the whole place. Now I've heard in real cities, they've got buildings so tall you can't even see the tops of 'em.

KARL

Real I y?

EDW/RD

KARL

I can.

EDW/RD

So why are you wasting your time in a small town? You're a big man. You should be in the big city.

Karl smiles, but then it fades. A certain sad suspicion --

KARL

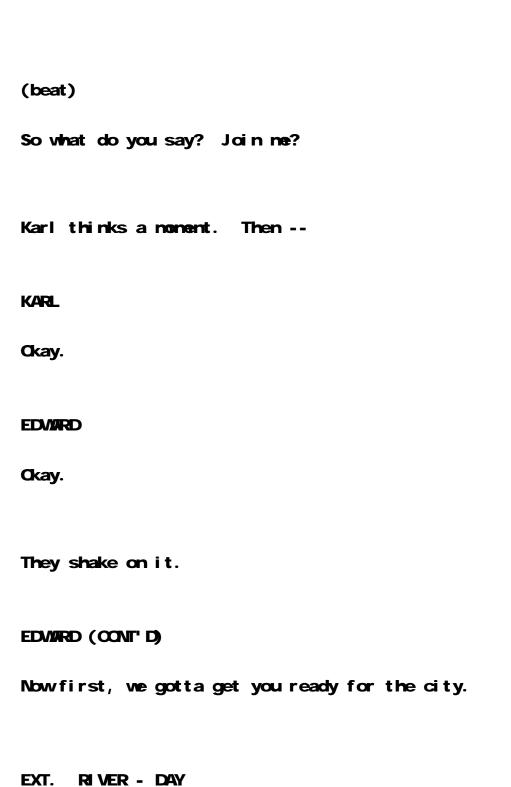

You're just trying to get me to leave, aren't you? That's why they sent you here.

EDW/RD

What's your name, Giant? KARL Karl. EDWRD Nine's Edward. And truthfully, I do want you to leave, Karl. But I want to leave with you. (closer) You think this town is too small for you, well, it's too small for a man of my ambition. I can't see staying here a day longer. KARL You don't like it? EDWRD

I love every square inch of it. But I can feel the edges closing in on me. A man's life can only grow to a certain size in a place like

IN A SINGLE SHOT, Karl cuts his hair with hedge clippers, while Edward cuts up a surplus army tent to make him a shirt.

EXT. MIN STREET OF ASHTON - DAY

Spirits buoyed by the high school MARCHING BAND, all the good CITIZENS of Ashton are gathered to see off Edward and Karl. There's a few tears amid the familiar faces.

MAYCR

(loudly, for the crowd)

Edward Bloom, first son of Ashton, it's with a heavy heart we see you go. But take with you this Key to the City, and know that any time you want to come back, all our doors are open to you.

Edward ducks a bit so the Mayor can put the key around his neck. The crowd CHEERS. And with that, Edward and Karl start walking, waving as they go.

Only DON PRICE, smoking on the corner, isn't sad to see Edward go. He crushes his cigarette under his heel. He wishes he could crush Edward.

Many of the townfolk come onto the street to hug Edward or shake his hand.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

That afternoon as I left Ashton, everyone seemed to have advice.

VARIOUS TOVMFOLK

Find your self a nice girl! Don't trust anyone in Kentucky! Watch your pride,

EDWARD (V.Q)

But there was one person whose counsel I held above all others.

As the crowd parts, he finds hinself face to face with

THE OLD WOVAN

The ruckus slows and quiets, as if a strange spell has been cast. She notions for Edward to lean down, so she can whisper something to him. Although we're VERY CLOSE, we can't hear her voice.

EDWARD (V.Q.) (CONT'D)

She said that the biggest fish in the river gets that way by never being caught.

The advice only succeeds in confusing Edward.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

(to the Old Woman)

Ckay. Thanks.

Edward and Karl keep walking. The Old Wolman shuffles off, somehow knowing her advice will go unheeded.

KARL

VMat did she say?

EDWRD

Beats ne.

EXT. ROAD - DAY

We TILT UP from the road to reveal Edward and Karl walking out of Ashton. Each wears a backpack with all his earthly possessions.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

There were two roads out of Ashton, a new one which was paved, and an older one that wasn't. People didn't use the old road anymore, and it had developed the reputation of being haunted.

Edward and Karl come to a bend, where the paved road veers left and an overgrown dirt road runs straight. The old road is blocked with signs and warnings of danger.

EDWARD (V. Q.) (CONI' D)

Since I had no intention of ever returning to Ashton, this seemed as good a time as any to find out what lay down that old road.

Karl looks at the dirt road, wary.

KARL

You know anyone's who's taken it?

EDW/RD

That poet, Norther Winslow did. He was going to Paris, France. He must have liked it, because no one ever heard from himagain.

(beat)

Tell you what. You take the other way and I'll cut through here. Muet you on the far side.

Alittle paranoid...

KARL

You're not trying to run away?

EDWRD

Just to be sure, you can take ny pack.

Karl perks up, even though it means more for him to carry.

EXT. DIRT ROAD - DAY

The road is overgrown, but not altogether creepy. The sun is still shining, and the birds still CHRPING.

Spinning the Key to the City, Edward WHSTLES, because it's a day neant for whistling.

EXT. FURTHER ALONG - ROUGH PATH

The road has narrowed to a rough path. Spikes of sunlight break through the thick canopy, catching particles in the air. Still, Edward WHISTLES.

Coming around a bend, his PITCH DRCPS as he sees thick, thormy vines growing across the path. He stops. For the first time, he realizes the birds have stopped singing. The forest is dead quiet.

He looks back the way he came. It's tempting to go back. It would be easier to go back. But Edward presses on.

He carefully steps through the thorns. His trouser legs catch on the barbs. We can hear the fabric TEAR.

FURTHER ALONG

A scratched and sweaty Edward waves off various STINGING BUGS flying at him, finally whipping off his hat to swat at them. Just then a CAWING crow swoops down and grabs the hat right out of his hands.

EDW/RD

You stupid sonofa...

He stops his swearing, but grabs a rock and throws it. The stone ricochets off a tree and into a BEE'S NEST. The swarm roars out.

Edward high-tails it, each step still precarious.

EXT. THE DARK FOREST - DAY [LATER]

Edward is bruised, battered and bee-stung.

A half-broken sign lies in the road. Edward picks it up. Reads it:

WARN NO

JUNPING SPIDERS!

Sure enough, up ahead he sees the path is overgrown with thick cobwebs, heavy from the rain.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

There comes a point where a reasonable man will swallow his pride and admit he's made a terrible mistake. The truth is, I was never a reasonable man.

Edward tosses the sign and forges ahead, into the spiderwebs.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

And what I recalled of Sunday School was that the more difficult something became, the more rewarding it was in the end.

EXT. CLEARING / THE ROAD - DAY

Edward energes from the forest, brushing the last cobwebs off and shaking the spiders from his shirt. One is stuck in his sleeve, and he has to dance to get it out. Even then, he still keeps twitching, convinced another one is left behind.

At his feet, the gravel road has returned, smooth and dusty and confiorting.

Ahead lies a tiny one-street town -- smaller even than Ashton
-- with powerlines energing from the woods to feed it. Dangling from the line a their laces tied together.

He passes a sign that reads "Well cone To Spectre!"

EXT. THE TOVIM OF SPECTRE - DAY

It's a main street with stores on each side: Cole's Pharmacy, Talbot's Five and Dime, Al's Country Store. Everything is old, but this isn't a ghost town. In fact, there's a group of about 20 CITIZENS spilling out to see Edward approach. Must are smiling. There are even a few tears of joy.

What's norre, all of these people are barefoot.

MILDRED Much Ionger. BEAVEN And you're here now, and that's what natters. Beamen's daughter JENNY (8) hides behind her father, peering around to look at the handsone stranger.

EDW/RD

What is this place?

BEAVEN

The town of Spectre. Best kept secret in Alabama. Says here you're from Ashton, right? Last person we had from Ashton was Norther Winslow

EDWRD

The poet? What ever happened to him?

BEAVIN

He's still here. Let me buy you a drink. I'll tell you all about it. Hell, I'll have him tell you.

EDW/RD

No. I've gotta neet sonebody. I'mal ready running late.

He didn't mean it as a joke, but for some reason, everyone's laughing.

BEAVEN

Son, I already told you. You're early.

INT. BEAVEN'S HOUSE - DAY

Sitting at the kitchen table, Edward takes a second slice of apple pie. He and Beamen are joined by NORTHER W/NSLOW(30), who fancies himself a cultured artist, though he's never left the state.

BEAVEN

Now tell ne if that isn't the best pie you ever ate.

EDWRD

It truly is.

UNDER THE TABLE

Young Jenny is steal thilly untying the laces on Edward's shoes.

NORTHER WINSLOW

Everything here tastes better. Even the water is sweet. Never gets too hot, too cold, too hunind. At night the wind goes through the trees and you'd swear there was a whole symphony out there, playing just for you.

Suddenly, Jenny YANKS OFF Edward's shoes. She races for the door.

EDWRD

Hey!

He chases after her.

EXT. TOVM / NAN N STREET - DAY

As she runs, Jenny ties Edward's laces together. Reaching the edge of town, she tosses the shoes up and around the power line -- a perfect throw. There's no way he's ever getting them down.

The gathered citizens of Spectre CHEER for Edward, who is confused and overwhelmed. The women hughim Men shake his hand.

Still focused on his shoes...

Wait! I need those!

Real I y.
NORTHER WINSLOW
There's a lot of expectation. I don't want to disappoint my fans.

EDWRD

It's only three lines long.

Norther grabs his notebook back.

NORTHER WINSLOW

This is why you don't show work in progress.

EDW/RD

Norther, do you ever regret not making it to Paris?

NORTHER WINSLOW

I can't inagine any place better than here.

EDWRD

You're a poet. You ought a be able to. And naybe if you'd seen more, you could.

Norther doesn't answer. Just goes back to his notebook.

EXT. BY THE RIVER - NIGHT

By the light of the full moron, Edward so aks his feet in the water, trying to make sense of it all. The Key to the City dangles around his neck.

He stares at hinself in the reflection. He smiles.

It's then that a WZWAN energes at the far side of the river.

No telling where she came from -- she must have been swimming underwater. Was never see her face.

She stands in the river with her bare back to Edward, squeezing the water out of presence. Edward is breathless. It's the first woman he's seen in her natural state, and he doesn't dare now e lest he frighten her away.

Then he sees the snake.

It's a cottommouth, has to be. It leaves a break in the water, its small reptil no decision to be made. On pure instinct, Edward dives in. He swins as hard as can, just as it's about to strike.

GRABBING THE SNAKE

The woman dives back underwater, understandably terrified that a nan is coming at her.

EDWRD

No, it's okay! I got it. I got the snake.

As the splashing subsides, Edward looks at what he holds in his hands. Which isn't a snake at all, but rather a common stick. And a non-threatening one at that.

While Edward ponders his mistake, he looks around to discover that the Girl in the River is gone. He never even saw her face.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Wait! I'm sorry. Hello?!

Edward keeps expecting her to surface, somewhere, but she never does. He stands alone in the river, wondering what tricks his eyes are playing on him.

EXT. BY THE RIVER - NIGHT - CONTINUOUS

A GIRL'S VOICE (QS.)

There's leeches in there!

Edward looks to the bank, where young Jenny Hill is watching him.

EDWRD

Did you see that wonan?

JENNY
What did she look like?
EDW/RD
Well, she...uh...
JENNY
Was she nekkid?
Enharrassed to admit it...
EDWRD
Yeah.
JENNY
(natter-of-fact)
It's not a woman, it's a fish. No one ever catches her.

Given the day he's had so far, Edward isn't inclined to follow up on the issue. He starts to wade back to the bank.

JENNY (CONT'D)

Fish looks diff'rent to diff'rent people. My daddy said it looked like the coon dog he had when he was kid, back from the dead.

Edward climbs up onto the shore, completely drenched. He pulls up his pant legs to reveal three shiny leeches clinging to his skin.

EDWRD

Shoot.

He starts to work pulling themoff.

EXT. PATH BACK TO TOMM - NI CHI

Edward and Jenny walk back. JENNY How old are you? EDW/RD Eighteen. JENNY l'meight. That neans when l'meighteen, you'll be 28. And when I'm 28, you'll only be 38. EDW/RD (a little wary) You're pretty good at arithmetic. JENNY

And when I'm 38, you'll be 48. And that's not much difference at all.

Eager to get off this subject...

EDWIRD

Sure is a lot now, though, huh?

EXT. MAIN STREET - NIGHT

As Edward and Jenny approach Main Street, they find "downtown" has been transformed. Lanterns and streamers hang on cables across the street, and a small stage has been built at one end to hold FIDDLERS.

The whole town is there in celebration of its newest citizen, Edward Bloom. Before he can protest, two WZNEN have grabbed him by the arms, pulling him in to dance with them.

The resulting dance number seems both choreographed and compilete chaos. From Fato dance with Edward, who finds himself to seed around like a stick caught in a whirl pool. Still, he's having a blast.

Jenny grabs both his hands, and they spin wildly. Beamen plucks his LAUGHING daughter away to dance with her. Then Nill dred cuts in to dance with Edward. It's hard to hear over the NUSIC MILDRED Jenny thinks you're quite a catch. We all do. EDWRD (not hearing) VMat? MILDRED I said you're quite a catch!

Edward stops dancing. A beat, then he heads for the edge of the crowd. Beanen is there, with Jenny on his shoulders.

EDW/RD I have to leave. Tonight. BEAVEN VMy? EDW/RD This town is everything a nan could ask for. And if I were to end up here, I'd consider myself lucky. But the fact is, I'mnot ready to end up anywhere. BEAVEN No one's ever left. JENNY How are you gonna make it without your shoes?

EDWRD

I suspect it will hurt a lot. And with that, Edward walks down Main Street. The townspeople stop dancing, disbelieving, sone shaking their heads. Poor Edward Bloom's gone crazy. BEAVEN (calling after him) You won't find a better place! EDW/RD I don't expect to. Jenny runs to him. She'd tackle him if she could. JENNY Promise me you'll come back.

EDW/RD

I promise. Someday. When I'm really supposed to.

It's not good enough, but it will have to do. Edward keeps walking.

EXT. THE DARK FOREST - NIGHT

VARIOUS SHOTS: Edward negotiates the thorns in his bare feet. It's horrible. Almost unendurable.

And then it gets worse.

The trees ahead are nowing. At first, it just seems to be the wind blowing the branches, but as we hear the wood CRACKING and CROANING, there's no mistaking it: they're trying to block him.

Snake-like WMTE ROOTS shoot out of the ground, grabbing for his ankles. He leaps up, kicking off one tree trunk to grab another one's branches. He swings off, lands and rolls. Now all the trees are nowing to block him, their dark shapes towering over him in the

INT. DINING ROOM- NIGHT

Edward and Will sit at opposite ends of the table, with Sandra and Josephine in the middle. Although Edward has a small plate of food in front of him, he hasn't touched it. He's exhausted from the trip downstairs, but determined to maintain the family dinner ritual.

The other three eat awkwardly, each CLINK and SCRAPE of a knife or fork resonating. Will finally breaks the silence.

WLL

Why not religion, Dad?

EDW/RD

It's rude to talk about religion. You never know who you're going to offend.

SANDRA

She nowes on to the carrots.

WLL

The problem is, you only see me as your nother, and not as someone's wife. And I've been his wife longer than I've been your nother. You can't discount that.

WLL

True. But I've known him my whole life, and I don't feel like I know him at all. Or ever will.

With a look, Sandra acknowledges the stakes.

SANDRA

I know it's not easy. Just remember, he didn't choose to be your father and you didn't choose to be his son. You just ended up together. You could pick numbers out of a dark bag and it'd be just the same. If you ask me, it's a wonder parents and children can stand each other at all. WLL

But I understand you, Norm I always have.

SANDRA

Well, clearly you don't. But I'm not the mystery you're trying to solve right now

INT. AT THE CHECKOUT - NIGHT

Reaching the CASHER, Sandra hands over her coupons. VI/II is approaching with a Newsweek nagazine.

Two checkstands over, an ATTRACTIVE BLONDE WOVANN in her 50 s is getting her change. Though she's Sandra's generation, she carries herself like a much younger woman, with blue jeans and sneakers.

She accidentally makes eye contact with W/II as he passes. We HOLD ON the woman, who tracks W/II as he reaches Sandra. It's hard to read her reaction: does she recognize him, or just find himattractive?

Will notices the gaze. The woman turns away.

Will racks his brain -- does he know this woman?

SANDRA

Before I forget, your father has papers in the basement I'd like you to go through. I wouldn't know what's important.

WLL

Morn, do you know who that is? Blonde hair.

Sandra looks. After a beat, the Blonde Wolnam turns again, senin-casually. Noticing that both Will and Sandra are looking, she sniles a lit

JOSEPH NE

Please?

He rolls his eyes, why not.

Josephine leaves, heading down the hall to get her camera. We STAY WITH Edward in bed.

JOSEPH NE (Q.S.) (CONT'D)

I have photos from the wedding to show you. There's a great one of you and my father. I had an extra print made.

Edward grinances, a flash of pain. Around others, he's hiding how much it hurts, but alone we can see how bad it is.

He controls his breathing, trying to push through it.

JOSEPH NE (Q S.) (CONT' D)

I want to see pictures of your wedding. I've never seen any.

She returns with her camera. Edward shinles, doing a good job nasking the pain.

EDW/RD

That's because we didn't have a wedding. Your nother-in-law was never supposed engaged to somebody else.

JOSEPH NE

EDW/RD

Probably just as well. He would have told it wrong anyway. All the facts and none of the flavor.

AND SCRATCHED UP FROMH'S TRIP THROUGH SPECTRE.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

I had just left Ashton, and was on my way to discover my destiny. Not knowing what that would be exactly, I explored every opportunity that presented itself.

Joining the crowd, he heads into the big-top.

INT. BIG TOP - NIGHT

A troupe of STILT-WALKING FIREBREATHERS finishes their act to tremendous APPLAUSE.

As the performers clear away, the circus' owner-and-ringmaster ANOS CALLOWAY (50) approaches the stands. He may only be four feet tall, but Anos has a titanic presence.

AVOS

Ladies and Centlemen, you may think you've seen the unusual. You may think you've seen the bizarre. But I've travelled to the five corners of the world, and let me tell you, I've never seen anything like this.

From behind Anous, CARNIES start rolling a massive ball towards the crowd.

ANOS (CONT'D)

When I found this man, he was picking oranges in Florida. His fellow workers called him El Penunbora -- The Shadow -- because when you were working beside him, he blocked out the daylight. He could take a whole tree in his hands and shake off the fruit. I had to pay his crew boss $10,000 just so I could take him with me.

Anos cones up to a NIDDLE-ACED WZWIN in the first row, a quieter nonent.

ANOS (CONT'D)

Not to alarmyou, Ma'am. But if this nan wanted to, he could crush your head between his toes.

(she trembles)

But he won't.

(a long beat)

He's not going to hurt her, folks, because he's our own Gentle Giant. Ladies and Gentlenen, I give you Colossus!

The carnies back away from the ball as a deep DRUMROLL begins. A nonent, then

A foot suddenly bursts out from within. GASPS from the crowd. That foot is massive. In the stands, Edward looks closer. Intrigued.

As the drumbeat intensifies, a second foot breaks out. Followed by hands. Shoot. OCLOSSUS.

From a very LOWANGLE, we look up to see just how massive he is. He seems to fill the Heavens. With his shaved head and giant club, he seems more ogre than man.

In the bandstands, a YOUNG BOY's jaw drops in awe. Colossus walks down the row, letting the crowd get a better look at him. Some reach out to touch him, disbelieving. A tight spotlight follows him, revealing faces in the crowd.

Colossus passes Edward, who seems unimpressed. He leans with the spotlight, VM STLING to get the big nam's attention.

He points to the edge of the stands, where his friend is sitting on the dirt --

KARL THE GIANT

INT. BIG-TOP - NIGHT / LATER
As the stands empty, Edward and Karl talk to Amoss.
ANOS
What's his name? Does he talk? It's not important.
KARL Karl.
AIVOS
Tell me Karl, have you ever heard of the term "involuntary servitude?"
Karl shakes his head.
ANOS (CONT'D)

"Unconsci onabl e contract?"

Nope.

ANOS (CONT'D)

Great, great. That's fantastic.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

It was on that night Karl net his destiny. And I net nine. Almost.

INT. BIG TOP - NIGHT - CONTINUOUS

As Amous pulls Karl aside to give him the hard sell, Edward notices a BEAUTIFUL YOUNG WOOMN (16) leaving with her family. She's wearing a blue dress and hat. For no good reason, she looks back at Edward.

The two nake eye contact. And as they do, all notion FREEZES.

A fiery baton renains nind-twirl, flanes locked in place. A spilled box of popcorn hangs in nind-air, each kernel like a snowflake. Even the elephant is nind-poop.

Only Edward is free to nowe, winding his way between the frozen bodies, ducking closer to this woman.

They say when you neet the love of your life, time stops.

And that's true. What they don't tell you, is that once time starts again, it nowes extra fast to catch up.

Suddenly, everything RUSHES. The crowd becomes a blur, and the young woman is lost in its wake. Now it's Edward who's frozen, helpless in time.

EXT. DIRT PARKING LOT - NIGHT

Edward checks in windows as cars pull out, searching for his fated love. Not finding her, he becomes more frantic, running down the rows.

CROSSFADE TO

THE ENPTY LOT

Colossus is thumbing for a ride. The last pickup truck stops and lets him climb in back.

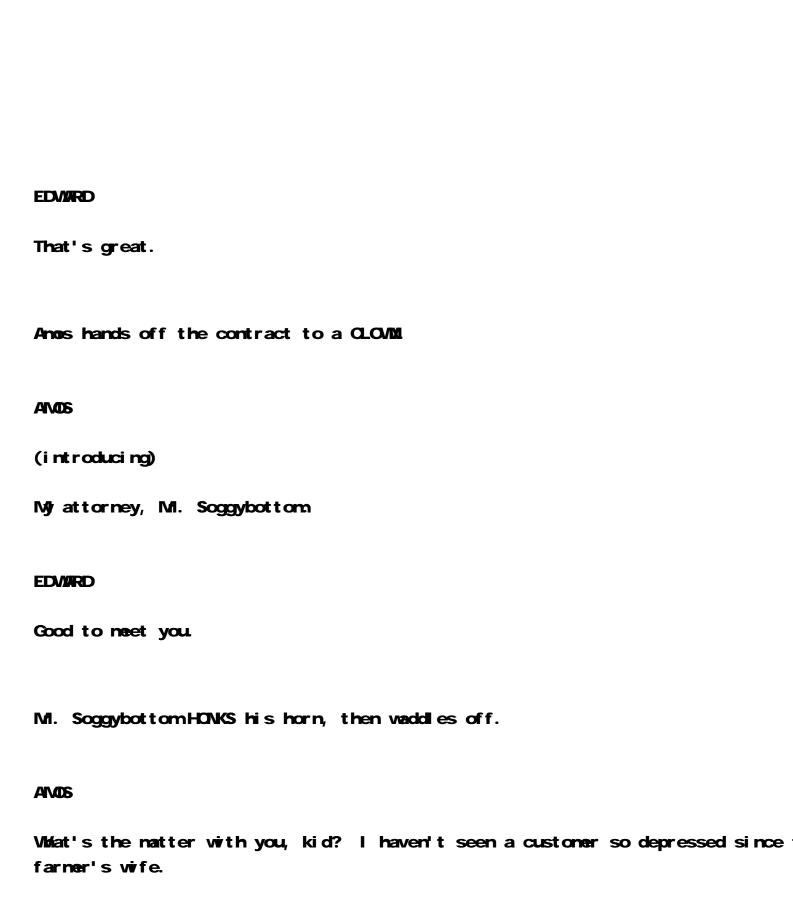

As the truck pulls out, it passes a dejected Edward. He'll never find that girl, the love of his life.

Amous leans over so Karl can sign a contract on his back. He spots Edward walking back into the tent.

AVOS

Hey kid! Your friend just made himself a star.

Karl chuckles.
ANOS (CONT'D)
See! The big guy likes it.

ANOS

EDW/RD
Yes!
ANOS
I know her uncle. Friends of the family.
EDW/RD
VMo is she? VMere does she live?

AVOS

Kid. Don't waste your time. She's out of your league.

As Amors starts to walk away, Edward hurries to catch up with him. Karl follows as well.

EDW/RD

Viviat do you nean? You don't even know ne.

AVOS

Sure I do. You were hot shit back in Hickville, but here in the real world, you got squat. You don't have a plan. You don't have a job. You don't have anything but the clothes on your back.

EDW/RD

I've got a whole backpack full of clothes!

He points to the bleachers, where no backpack is to be found.

(realizing)

Soneone stole my backpack.

AIVOS

Kid, you were a big fish in a small pond. This here is the ocean, and you're drowning. Take my advice and go back to Puddieville. You'll be happy there.

Getting in front of Anos, Edward stops him.

EDWRD

Walit. You said I don't have a plan. I do. I'm going to find that girl and marry her and spend the rest of my life with her.

Anos snilles, anosed.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

I don't have a job, but I would have a job if you gave me one. And I may not have much, but I have more determination than any man you're

AVOS

Sorry, kid. I don't do charity.

EDWRD

I'll work night and day, and you won't have to pay ne. You just have to tell ne who she is.

Amous takes a long look at him. Ultimately, there's no way he can say no. He shrugs. What the hell.

AVOS

Every nonth you work for ne, I'll tell you one thing about her. That's my final offer.

Edward shakes Anous's hand before he can retract the offer. We now e into a NONTAGE:

INT. BIG TOP CENTER RING - NIGHT

CLOSE ON Edward, smiling nervously. His head is tilted to the side, and as we PULL BACK, we see why: he's holding it in a MASSIVE LION's open mouth. The beast's sharp teeth are just poking his skin. If the lion so much as flinches, Edward is dead.

The CRO/Do applauds, which makes the lion antsy. Which makes Edward antsier.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

From that noment on, I did everything Mi. Calloway asked, and a lot of things he didn't. I'd go three days without stopping to eat, and four days without sleeping.

EXT. THE HYDRA - DAY

His eyes droopy from lack of sleep, Edward mans the whirling annusement park ride.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

The only thing that kept ne going was the promise of neeting the girl who would be my wife.

Nodding off, Edward falls backward, into the path of the spinning arms. One of gut, throwing him up and away, sailing 200 feet through the air.

EXT. FIELD - DAY

Edward chases a costumed pig, tripping over tent cords, falling in the mod.

His hunt leads him through the back of a tent, where he's unwittingly stepped in front of a line of notorized birds. To the left, CUSTONERS are shooting with rifles. He dodges four SHOTS that knock down the birds around him.

He catches his breath, lucky.

Then a half-blind CLD WZWN pulls her trigger, hitting him in the shoulder.

EXT. BEH ND A TENT - DAY

Karl the Giant bandages Edward's armas well as he can. Anos is walking past.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

Over the nounths, I learned a lot about the woman I was going to narry, but not her name, and not where to find her. That time had come. I couldn't wait any longer.

EXT. ANOS CALLOMAY'S TRAILER - NICHT

Under a full moron, Edward walks up to the battered camper, and is about to knock when he notices it's rocking. A lot. Not just that, there's NOANING coming from inside.

But Edward KNOCKS anyway.

EDWRD

Mr. Calloway! It's Edward Bloom. I need to talk to you.

Suddenly, the rocking and novaning stop. A beat, then the door handle begins to RATTLE. It seems to be stuck.

Edward turns the knob.

Suddenly, the door BURSTS CPEN. Edward is knocked down by a nassive black dog, biggest you've ever seen. It has green glowing eyes and a lick of fire for a tongue.

Edward westles with the beast, its mouth snapping at his throat. Blocking with an arm, Edward tries to push himself free, but the creature's hands -- it has hands instead of paws -- hold on tight.

Entwined, they roll across the dirt. The other nearby CARNIES scatter for cover. Mr. Soggybottom pulls a revolver out of his clown suit. Loads a silver bullet.

Edward finally succeeds in throwing the beast off. He rolls to his feet.

The hell hound squares back on its haunches, CROM/ING, ready for another leap. Mr. Soggybottom sheds a clown tear, aining the revolver at the dog.

At the last noment...

EDWARD (CONT'D)

No, wait!

Edward noves just as Mr. Soggybottom FIRES. The bullet catches Edward in the sl

The carnies GASP.

Licking its chops, the dog approaches the helpless Edward, who feels the ground around him, looking for some kind of weapon. He finds only a small stick. He waves it at the dog, ready to strike it.

Like magic, the dog's whole denoranor changes. It bounces excitedly, ready to play fetch.

Seeing an opportunity, Edward throws the stick as far as he can. The dog bounds after it,

SMASHING DOWN THREE CARS.

It returns a beat later with the flaming stick, which it drops at Edward's feet. Its tail whips back and forth.

EDWARD (V. Q.) (CONT' D)

It was that night I discovered that noist things you consider evil or wicked are simply lonely, and lacking in the social niceties.

Edward throws the stick again. The dog takes off in a new direction.

TRANSI TI ON TO

EXT. FIELD - PRE-DAVM

Exhausted from playing fetch all night, Edward throws the stick into the woods. The still-spry dog goes after it. It's gone for a long time, long enough that Edward becomes concerned.

He follows it into the woods.

INT. VOCOS - DAVM

Anors Calloway stands up behind a bush, buck naked and hairy. He still has the stick in his mouth, which he takes out as Edward approaches.

AVOS

Didn't kill anything, did !?

EDWRD

A few rabbits, but I think one of them was already dead.

AVOS

That would explain the indigestion.

Edward tosses himhis jacket to cover his privates.

ANOS (CONT'D)

I was wrong about you kid. You may not have much, but what you got, you got a lot of. You could get any girl.

EDWRD

There's only one I want.

EXT. AUBURN UNI VERSI TY - DAY

We DESCEND ON the main quad, to find Edward Bloom dunking his head in the fountain.

He changes out of his grubby shirt into a new one, just out of the package. It's the mid-1960s, but by the conservative dress of the passing STUDENTS, it could be any era.

EXT. SCROPITY HOUSE - DAY

Edward stands with a bouquet of daffodils in front of a half-open door. Through YOUNG WOVMN, talking in hushed tones with another girl we can't see.

Finally, a decision is reached. The door opens to reveal the woman of Edward's dreams, Sandra Kay Templeton. She's effortlessly beautiful,

He can't believe he's finally reached her. He half-laughs, nervous. That makes her laugh, not sure what's going on.

EDWRD

You don't know me, but my name is Edward Bloom and I am in love with you. I've spent the last three years working to find out who you a stabbed and trampled a few times, had my ribs broken twice, but it's all worth it to see you here, now, and to finally get to talk to you. Because I am destined to narry you. I knew that from the first noment I saw you at the circus. And I know it now more than ever.

The ENCEE conses on to usher him off the stage before he's finished. The Ventriloquist protests, but finally gives in. The Encee makes a "shoot him in the neck" notion to one of the ARNED GUARDS off-stage.

EXT. HIGH ABOVE THE STAGE - NIGHT

We LOOK DOWN with Edward, who is drifting right for the stage. He can't steer. He's helpless.

But then, a BLAST of fireworks from the sides of the stage. The lights go out as a DRUMROLL begins. It's just enough cover for Edward to remain unseen. He lands with a CLANG on the lighting catwalk above the stage.

He barely grabs on, disconnecting his chute just as the curtain goes up. Edward soldiers. Every one of them would kill him. He's the legless cricket left on the anthill.

EXT. ON STAGE

The curtain rises to reveal PING (27) at a microphone. She's as gorgeous a woman as you'll ever see.

She stands with her hips turned in profile. Her body is a knockout, dress cut to reveal skin. The soldiers are on their feet, WHISTLING and HOLLERING.

UP ON THE CATVALK, Edward is surprised by an ENEMY SOLDIER. The two men begin to SOUFFLE.

NUSIC starts, a vampy torch song. Ping sings melody while an off-stage voice carries perfect harmony.

PI NG Sometimes a girl can feel so alone Without a lover to call her own. Sometimes it's so bad, she wants to explode. Wants to grab the first man she sees and tear off his clothes. Ping has no idea what's happening. Jing reaches into her cleavage to pull out her eyeglasses.

I NT. DRESSI NG ROOM- NI CHT

As ARNID CLIARDS search the halls below the stage, Ping and Jing shut the door to their dressing room. At the closet, they start to change outfits. Off-stage, their personalities become quite apparent: Ping is brash, bitchy and anbitious, while Jing is quiet, sweet and bookish.

In Chinese, subtitled...

PI NG

How could you miss your cue? You make me look like a fool, out there alone.

JI NG

You weren't alone.

Ping HUFFS, turning her back on her sister.

Jing reaches deeper into the closet to find a new dress, exposing Edward's hidi:
I ook.

I'mnot going to hurt you
PI NG

Jing grabsher, a hand over her nouth, but it's too late. A rifle-toting GUARD looks in.

Pretending to be her bitchy sister --JI NG Tell your men not to bother us! And lock that door! The guard obeys. Ping shakes her sister off. Desperately flipping through his Asian phrasebook, he finds... EDW/RD Please, I need your help. PI NG What makes you think we'll help you? Edward pulls a photo out of his flak jacket. It's Sandra.

CROSSFADE TO VARIOUS SHOTS

EDWARD (V.Q)

Over the next hour, I described my love for Sandra Kay Tempoleton, and the ordeal that brought me before them. As it had always been, this love was my salvation. It was destined to be.

Hearing the story, Jing wipes away a tear. Even Ping is a little affected.

EDWARD (V.Q.) (CONT D)

We put together an elaborate plan for escape, involving a whaling ship to Russia, a barge to Cuba and a small, dirty canoe to Manin. We all knew it would be dangerous.

Still subtitled:

PI NG

And what are we supposed to do when we get to America?
EDW/RD
I can get you bookings. I know the biggest man in show business.
JI NG
Bob Hope?
ED/MRD
Bigger.
TRANSI TI ON TO
EXT. TENPLETON FAMILY HOUSE - DAY
Sandra checks the nail, hoping for a letter from Edward.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

And so the twins and I began our archuous journey halfway around the world. Unfortunately, there was no way to send a nessage back to America.

A black car pulls up. Two ARIVY OFFI CERS get out.

EDWARD (V. Q.) (CONT D)

And so it was no surprise that the Army believed I was dead.

Hearing the news, Sandra CRIES CUT. The pain of her shout nakes church bells RING.

EXT. BEH NO THE TEMPLETON HOUSE - DAY

Sandra hangs sheets to dry on the clotheslines, forming a tunnel of fabric.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

After four nonths, Sandra had gotten over the worst of the nightnaires. When the phone rang, she didn't think it was somehow me calling her. When a car drove past, she didn't get up to check out the window on the sheet in front of her. She freezes, watching the shadow ripple across the breeze. She knows it can't be him. He's dead.

Pulling a dress out of the basket, Sandra Looks up to see

A MAN S SI LHOLETTE

She turns away. With all the strength she can gather, she hangs up that dress and digs another one out of the basket.

Looking up, she sees not a shadow but Edward hinself standing before her. She GASPS, disbelieving, but his hand is real. It is destiny.

Without another noment's hesitation, she kisses him

Both women quickly gather plates.

Will and Edward both shille. The women clearly want this to happen. It settles for a beat after they leave.

WLL

Do you know much about i cebergs, Dad?

EDW/RD

Do I? I saw an iceberg once. They were hauling it down to Texas for drinking water, only they didn't count on an elephant being frozen inside. The woolly kind. A nammoth.

WLL

(interrupting)

Dad!

EDW/RD

VMat?

WLL

I'm trying to nake a netaphor here.

EDWRD

Then you shouldn't have started with a question. Because people want to answer questions. You should have started with, "The thing about icebergs is..."

WLL

(frustrated)

The thing about icebergs is you only see 10 percent of them. The other 90 percent is below the water where you can't see it. And that's what it is with you Dad. I'm only seeing this little bit that sticks above the water.

EDW/RD

(joking)

What, you're seeing down to my nose? My chin?

WLL

I have no idea who you are because you have never told me a single fact.

EDWIRD

I've to Id you a thousand facts. That's all I do, W/II. I tell stories.

WLL

You tell lies, Dad. You tell amousing lies. Stories are what you tell a five-year old at bedtime. They're not elaborate mythologies you maintain when your son is ten and fifteen and twenty and thirty. And the thing is, I believed you. I believed your stories so much longer than I should have. And then when I realized that everything you said was imposfelt like such a fool to have trusted you. You were like Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny combined. Just as charming and just as fake.

EDW/RD You think I'mfake. WLL Only on the surface. But that's all I've ever seen. Edward I ooks away, angry and disbelieving. WLL Dad, I'm about to have a kid of my own here. It would kill me if he went through his whole life never understanding me. EDW/RD It would kill you, huh?

Finally --

EDWRD

What do you want, W/II? Who do you want ne to be?

WLL

Yourself. Good, bad, everything. Just show ne who you are for once.

EDWRD

I have been nothing but myself since the day I was born. And if you can't see that, it's your failing, not mine.

EXT. BACKYARD - DAY

With a skinmer pole, Will cleans the leaves and debris out of the pool, but it's a fool's errand. The pool has long since gone native, a shiny slick of algae on the surface, sline covering the cemented rocks.

Suddenly, an underwater shape RIPPLES against the water's surface. Will is so startled that he drops the pole, which disappears into the murky water.

A beat. He looks around, relieved that no one saw that. He casually walks away.

INT. BASENINT STORAGE AREA - DAY

The doors open to reveal Sandra, Will and Josephine, staring into the nouth of oblivion. The storeroom is a nouseum of hasty decisions and half-finished projects: partially built outboard noutors, dead bonsai trees, Frankensteinian lawnnowners. We also find be sell.

Clearing a path, Sandra leads W/II to a roll-top desk, its ribs covered in dust. Two beaten netal file cabinets sit beside it.

SANDRA

Your father decided he needed to have an office, and it wouldn't do to have it in the house. You'll know better than ne what's important.

With some effort, Will forces up the desktop. With a HSS, a neighbor's cat makes a run for it. Will's getting used to being startled.

INT. BASENINT STORAGE AREA - DAY [LATER]

W/II, Sandra and Josephine have worked through two trash bags of papers to throw out. Looking through a new file, Sandra nakes a small sound. A memory.

WLL

What is it?

Sandra hands Will a yellowed telegram. He shares it with Josephine.

SANDRA

It was during the war. Your father went missing. They thought he was dead.

VVII can't believe what he's reading.
WLL
That really happened?
SANDRA
Not everything your father says is a complete fabrication.
A beat, then Sandra stands.
SANDRA
I'm going to check on him
JOSEPH NE
Ineed to lie down for a bit.

WLL

Go.

Josephine kisses him, then follows Sandra. Will re-reads the telegram, still bewildered.

Looking for a place to put it, he tucks it into a strange nechanical hand on the desk. It clamps down automatically.

Will smiles, a memorry. He hasn't thought about this device in years. We slowly PUSH IN on the telegram, held in the hand.

Edward's VOICE begins as a menory...

EDWARD (V.Q)

After the war, the sons of Alabama returned home, looking for work. Each had an advantage over me. They were alive, while I was -- officially -- deceased.

INT. DOWNTOWN OFFICE - DAY [STORY]

Edward shakes hands with his new boss, a TOUPEED MAN. The company is called "Confederated Products." The OFFICE LADIES all love Edward.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

With my prospects few, I took a job as a travelling salesman. It suited me. If there's one thing you can say about Edward Bloom, it's that I am a social person.

EXT. COUNTY FAIR - DAY [STORY]

On a low platform, Edward pitches a brilliant new product to the crowd.

EDWRD

I've travelled from Tennessee to Timbuktu, and if there's one thing people have in common, is we could all use a hand around the house.

Edward sets down a contraption, which looks something like a metal lavalamp. Like a flower, it unfolds to reveal five fingers and a thumb. This is the Hand Around the House. (TIV)

EDW/RD

Why, with this product you can...

CLICK MONTAGE as he denonstrates:

EDWRD

Open a jar. Open a letter. Scratch yourself while wearing mittens. Hold a book. Hold a baby. Hold the dog away from kittens. It's strong enough, you can do a handstand with no hands at all.

Indeed, a remarkably agile Edward is able to support his entire weight on it.

EDWRD

You can use it to point out important information. Or dangers. Or beautiful women.

The hand points a finger at an HEAVYSET MAN IN OVERALLS. EDW/RD We're still working on that one. The crowd LAUGHS. EXT. A COUNTRY ROAD - DAY Edward drives, his hand out in the wind. EDWARD (V.Q)

Soon I added other products, and other cities, until my territory stretched from the coast to western Texas.

EXT. TRAILER PARK - DAY

Edward kisses his pregnant wife goodbye, as much in love as ever.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

I could be gone for weeks at a time. But every other Friday, I'd put all the morney I'd made into an account set aside for a proper house with a white picket fence.

EXT. HORI ZON SAM NOS & LOAN - DAY

Establishing this Texas institution, we come...

INT. HORIZON SAMINGS & LOAN - DAY

The bank is busy with the lunch-hour crowd. Taking his place in line, Edward fills out a deposit slip.

As the line snakes around through the ropes, the man in front of himgets a look at Edward.

THE MAN

Edward? Edward Bloom?

The man is mone other than...

NORTHER WINSLOW

It's ne. Norther Winslow

EDWARD (V.Q)

I was astonished to see the greatest poet of both Ashton and Spectre all the way out in Texas.

The nen shake, disbelieving this lucky coincidence.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

I don't believe it!

NORTHER WINSLOW

I want you to know, when you left Spectre it opened my eyes. There was a whole life out there that I was not living. So I travelled. I saw France, and Africa, half of South America. Every day a new adventure, that's my noutto.

EDW/RD

That's great, Norther. I'm happy for you. I can't believe I helped.

He's genuinely proud.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

So what are you up to now?

NORTHER WINSLOW

l'mrobbing this place.

Reaching the front of the line, Norther pulls two pistols out of his coat, FIRING both into the ceiling.

SCREANS all around. The skinny SECURITY GUARD nakes a half-hearted reach for hi The guard takes out his gun and slides it over.

NORTHER WINSLOW(CONT' D)

(to Edward)

Volul d you mind grabbing that?

There's nothing threatening about his delivery -- he might as well be asking for a Budweiser. Still, Edward senses it would be best to do as he says. He takes the guard's gun.

(to the crowd)

Now, I want all of you to lie down. I'm gonna be cleaning out the cash drawers, going to handle the vault.

(pointing to a Teller Woman)

You help my friend, okay?

The TELLER WOVAN nods.

ANGLE ON Edward, not sure what to do. He has a gun, but he truly doesn't want to shoot Norther. The Teller Woman is already waving him to the back.

He decides he better go.

INT. AT THE VALLT - DAY

The Teller Woman is crying as she works the combination. Edward feels horrible.

EDWRD

Look, I'm really sorry. I just don't want anybody to get hurt.

TELLER VOVAN

It's not that, it's just...

She pulls open the vault door.

INT. THE VALLT - DAY

The inner sanctum of the Horizon Savings and Loan holds exactly one folding chair

TELLER VOIVAN

... there's no noney. We're completely bankrupt.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

It turned out the savings and I can had already been robbed -- not by armed bandits, but by speculators in Texas real estate.

TELLER VOIVAN

(dead serious)

You gotta promise you won't tell anybody.

CUT TQ

INT. EDWARD'S CAR - DAY

Edward drives the getaway car, though truthfully they're going just a little over the speed limit. No one's following them. It's an empty country road for miles.

Norther HOLLERS with body-tingling joy as he counts the noney.

NORTHER WINSLOW

Sixty. Eighty. Four hundred dollars! Not bad for just the drawers. Let's see what you got from the vault.

Edward winces, but doesn't say anything yet. Digging through the vault bag, Norther is surprised to find only a single deposit envelope. He rips it open, revealing just a little cash inside. Even some dimes and pennies.

NORTHER WINSLOW(CONT' D) This is it? The whole vault. EDW/RD 'Fraid so. NORTHER WINSLOW Edward, it's got your deposit slip on it. Caught, Edward has to confess... EDW/RD Look, I just didn't want you to go empty-handed. There's something you should know, Norther. You see, the reason why...

Edward continues his narration...

EDWARD (V.Q)

I to Id Norther about the vagaries of Texas oil money and its effect on real estate prices, and how lax enforcement of fiduciary process had nade savings and loans particularly vulnerable. Hearilleft with one conclusion:

EXT. TEXAS ROAD - DAY

Norther leans in the driver's side window

NORTHER WINSLOW

I should go to Wall Street. That's where all the money is.

Edward looks over at Norther, the reality sinking in.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

I knew then that while my days as a criminal were over, Norther's were just beginning. The two nen wave at each other as Edward drives off. At the last noment, Norther calls out:

NORTHER WINSLOW

Edward, thank you for the hand!

He's talking about his Hand Around the House. We HOLD ON Norther for a beat, dreaming of his future.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

When Norther made his first million dollars, he sent me a check for ten thousand. I protested, but he said it was my fee as his career advisor.

EXT. BLOOMHOUSE [NID/LATE '70 S] - DAY

Sandra is watering the garden. VI/II (5) runs past her to greet Edward, just returned from another trip.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

Ten thousand dollars is no fortune to most men. But it was enough to buy my wife a proper house with a white picket fence.

We reveal the Bloomhouse, the nicest one in the neighborhood. Edward kisses his wife.

EDWARD (V.Q.)

And for that, it was all the riches a man could ever want.

Sandra drops the hose, letting it run on the lawn.

TRANSI TI ON TO

I NT. BLOOMHOUSE BATHROOM- DAY [PRESENT]

OLOSE ON Edward's hand as he turns knobs.

CLOSE ON water SPLASHING into the clawfoot bathtub, which begins to fill.

Still wearing his pajamas, Edward climbs into the tub. Carefully lowers himself

As the water reaches the third button up on his pajana shirt, Edward suddenly slides

UNDERWATER.

Bubbles rise from his nose for a few beats, then stop. It's quiet, except for the distant SPLASHING of water from the spigot. Edward's eyes are closed.

A long beat. Another. Then the SPLASHING water goes silent. Edward opens one eye. The other eye. He sits up to find sitting on the edge of the tub. She doesn't seemparticularly worried -- her husband has always done this.

SANDRA

EDW/RD

I was drying out.

SANDRA

I see. We need to get you one of those plant misters. We can spray you like a fern.

He smiles, then pulls his knees up, making room for her in the tub. A beat while she considers.

Sandra steps out of her sandals and climbs into the tub, facing him. Her dress

He leans forward and kisses her. When they separate, she has tears hanging in her eyes.

EDW/RD

Cone now

He wipes them away.

SANDRA

I don't think I'll ever dry out.

INT. BASENINT STORAGE AREA - DAY

Perched awkwardly on a canoe, Will's made it through another file cabinet. He goes through the folders page by page, but usually ends up to ssing the whole thing in the trash.

He's about to toss a file when he stops. Takes another look. Something doesn't make sense.

INT. BLOOMHOUSE / STAIRS - DAY

Will is headed upstairs when his norther conses around the corner with an armfu
WLL
Is he awake?
SANDRA
He just fell asleep. Josephine's with him
She passes him. He turns.
WLL Non?
SANDRA
Yes?

W/II quickly debates whether or not to ask her...

WLL Did you and Dad have any other property? SANDRA (thinking) I suppose your grandnother's house when she passed on. But we sold that right away. Your cousin Shirley bought it. WLL So you never bought any I and. SANDRA Heavens no. We had a hard enough time keeping the nortgage on this place. W/II nods, just curious. He continues heading up.

INT. WILL AND JOSEPH NE'S ROOM- DAY

W/II changes his shirt. Takes his keys off the nightstand.

EXT. COUNTY ROAD - DAY

VI/II's rental car drives past a sign reading, "Ashton, 10 miles."

INT. WILL'S CAR - DAY / DRIVING

Will checks the address on one of his father's files.

EXT. ASHTON GAS - DAY

W/II talks to the ATTENDANT, who points him in a direction, then gestures a series of left, right, left, rights.

EXT. ROAD - DAY

W/II drives down a road that seems somewhat familiar. And then we realize why: a roadsign reads "Wellcome to Spectre!"

EXT. A LONE HOUSE - DAY

Sitting at the edge of a swamp, the little two-story feels lonely, set deep in its lot. Dapples of light break through the trees, a light breeze swaying the branches.

As VI/II walks from the car, the VI/IRR of cicadas grows. He checks the number: 33. This is the house. It is surrounded by a white square-picket fence, identical to his monther's. W/II notices this.

Reaching the porch, we hear a PIANO playing inside. Badly.

Re-checking the number on a form he's carrying, VI/II KNOCKS. The piano stops.

WOTAN'S VOICE (Q.S.) Go back to the start. Right hand only. The piano starts again. FOOTSTEPS. The door opens to reveal a blonde woman in her 50 s -- the woman from the grocery store. Her name is Jenny Hill. She and Will are startled to see each other. JENNY ch ch WLL Hello. JENNY

I wasn't expecting you.

Confused, Will checks the name on the form WLL Are you Jenny Hill? JENNY I am And you're Will. I've seen your picture, that's how I recognize you. I almost said something at the store, but it would have been awkward. (a beat) Like this. The PLAND STUDENT, a black boy of eight, has stopped. He's watching the conversation at the door. Speaking of awkward... JENNY (CONT'D)

(to the student)

Listen, Kenny. Why don't we skip the lesson today? We can go again next week.

She hands himfive dollars out of her pocket.

STUDENT

Do I have to give it back to my Mom?

JENNY

I word't tell her if you word't.

You don't have to tell him twice. He's out the door in a flash.

INT. JENNY'S KITCHEN - DAY

While Will sips his iced tea, Jenny flips through a form she never expected to see again. She hands it back to Will.

WLL How did you know my father? JENNY This was on his sales route, so he was through here all the time. Everyone in town knew him. A beat. Not flinching... WLL Were you and my father having an affair? JENNY (taken aback) Wow Wowy you just said it. I was expecting to dance around this for another half hour.

WLL

I've seen him with women. He flirts. He always has. On some level, I presumed he was cheating on my monther. I just never had proof.

She noves, trying to get out of the corner he's boxed her into. Once she's finally free...

JENNY

Can I ask you a question? Why did you come here today? If you found this deed, why didn't you just ask Eddie?

WLL

Because he's dying.

A long beat. Jenny is taken back by the suddenness of it. She's a tangle of conflicting enotions.

JENNY

Look, I don't know how much you want to know about any of this. You have one inage of your father and it would be wrong for ne to go and change it. Especially this late in the game.

WLL

My father talked about a lot of things he never did, and I'm sure he did a lot of things he never talked about. I'm just trying to reconcile the two.

Fair enough. Jenny takes a seat across from him at the table.

JENNY

The first thing you have to understand, is that your father never meant to end up here. And yet he did, twice. The first time, he was early. The second time, he was late.

INT. EDWARD'S CAR / DRIVING - NIGHT

It's late, and Edward is pensive.

JENNY (V.Q)

Those days, your father was working for himself. If there was one thing you could say about Edward Elloom, it's that he was a social person, and people took a liking to him. One night he was returning from three weeks on the road, when he hit a thunderstorm unlike any in his life.

The first raindrops hit the windshield. Edward turns on the virpers.

INT. EDWARD'S CAR - NIGHT - [THE STORN]

Suddenly, a deluge descends. It's not even rain anymore -there's no space between the drops. It's like being caught in a waterfall. It's that loud.

No choice, Edward stops the car. Puts on the handbrake. Just as suddenly, the sound changes -- no longer pounding, but softly SPLASHING. The world is close and echoing, because --

EXT. EDWARD'S CAR - NIGHT

-- the car is underwater. The tires are still on the road, but where there used to be air is water.

Three catfish swimin front of his headlights.

INT. THE CAR - NIGHT

Realizing his plight, Edward tries to remain calm. Wafter is trickling in through the crack between the window and the door, but very slowly. For now, he's fine.

That's when he sees her -- The Girl in the River.

She's swinning outside the car. While we never see her face exactly, she remains just as beautiful, just as mysterious, as the first time we saw her.

She puts her hand to the windshield. He puts his up to neet hers. And shiles.

FLASH CUT TO

EXT. FIELD BY DIRT ROAD - DAY

It's morning, and the sun shines brightly. Birds CHRP.

Trees drip and the grass shines, still wet from last night's rain.

Edward gathers the clothes that have spilled out of his suitcase, which broke op-which balances precariously ten feet up in an elm tree. As Edward gathers his last pair of socks, he notices a shiny piece of netal sticking out of the dirt. He pulls it out, rubs it off.

H S CAR,

It's a key. It's the Key to the City he lost years ago.

JENNY (V.Q)

Fate has a way of circling back on a nam, and taking him by surprise.

EXT. ROAD - DAY

Carrying his busted suitcase, a tired Edward walks toward a one-street town in the distance. We pass a rusty sign...

"Vel cone to Spectre."

EXT. IVAN N STREET - DAY

Anazed and disbelieving, Edward walks down the center of the road, no cars coming from either direction. He looks up to find his faded shoes still dangling from the power line, along with the rest of the town's.

JENNY (V.Q)

A man sees things differently at different times in his life. This town didn't seem the same now that he was older.

EXT. TOVIM OF SPECTRE - VARIOUS SHOTS

We look around the town, on and off Main Street. There are "FOR SALE" signs in many of the windows

JENNY (V.Q)

A new road had brought the outside world to Spectre, and with it, banks, liens and debt. Almost everywhere you looked, people were bankrupt.

EXT. SPECTRE - DAY

We slowly NOWE THROUGH a foreclosure auction to find Edward watching. Two very corporate NEN IN SUITS, stick out among the bidders.

JENNY (V.Q)

Two different corporations were looking at buying the town, if they could get the price low enough. One wanted to open a chicken processing plant. The other, a municipal dump. Either way, Spectre would be destroyed.

Edward raises his hand.

EDW/RD

Fifty-thousand!

Everyone turns to look at this new bidder.

JENNY (V.Q)

And so Edward Bloom decided to buy the town, in order to save it.

INT. NORTHER WINSLOWS MINHATTAN - DAY

Edward pitches his plan to Norther.

JENNY (V.Q)

He was never a wealthy nam, but he had nade other men rich, and now he asked for their favors.

INT. /EXT. VARIOUS LOCATIONS - DAY

VARIOUS SHOTS: Expressive and passionate as allways, Edward talks to Ping, Jing and Anors Calloway.

JENNY (V.Q)

Notest of them had never seen Spectre -- they only had Edward's words to describe it. That's all they needed. He sold them on the dream

JI NG

You can structure it as a historical trust. But you'll need every contiguous piece of property. It's all or nothing.

As Edward takes notes...

JENNY (V.Q)

So first he bought the farms. Then he bought the houses. Then he bought the stores.

INT. AL'S COUNTRY - DAY

Finishing up with AL, Edward shakes hands.

JENNY (V.Q)

Viviatever he bought, the people were not asked to leave or pay rent or anything. They were just asked to keep doing as they were doing. In that way, he could make sure the town would never die.

EXT. ROAD IN THE SWAVP - DAY

Edward climbs out of his car, the road having literally stopped. The sun is shi trees' thick canopy.

JENNY (V.Q)

VI/thin six months, his trust had purchased the entire town. VI/th one exception.

In the distance, he sees a shack, so old it's nearly fallen. He walks toward it, the narshy ground SOUISHING up around his feet, soaking the hens of his trousers.

We hear a PIANO playing from inside the shack. Edward KNOCKS on the half-hung door, which swings open by itself.

INT. SHACK - DAY

The inside is nicer than you'd think, a real home. A fire burns in the stove, and curtains hang in the windows.

With her back turned to him, Jenny Hill plays the piano. Edward doesn't recognize her as the little girl who used to have a crush on him. Without turning, she says...

JENNY

You must be Edward Bloom

EDW/RD

How did you know?

She keeps PLAYING

JENNY

No one would come out here unless they had business. And no one would have business with me except for you. You're buying the town.

EDWRD

Apparently I've overlooked this one piece of it, and I'd like to remedy that. You see, in order for the town to be preserved, the trust must own it in its entirety.

JENNY

So I've heard.

EDWRD

I'll offer you more than it's worth. And you know you won't have to move. Nothing will change except the name on the deed, you have my word.

Jenny stops playing, her piece not quite finished. She turns to face him. Edward still doesn't recognize her.

JENNY

Now let me get this straight. You'll buy the swamp from me, but I'll stay in it. You'll own the house, but it'll still be mine. I'll be here, and you'll come and go as you please to one place or another. Do I have that right?

Strange to hear it put that way, but --

EDWRD

In so many words, yes.

JENNY

Then I don't think so Mi. Bloom. If nothing is going to change, I'd just as soon it not change in the way it hasn't been changing all this time.

EDWRD

It's not like you're going to lose anything. You can ask anyone in town. I've been nothing if not generous. I want the best for everyone.

Along beat.

JENNY

MI. Bloom, why are you buying this land? Some sort of midlife crisis? Instead of buying a convertible, you buy a town?

He looks at her, puzzled and surprised. No one has really asked before. EDWRD Hel ping people nakes ne happy. JENNY I'mnot convinced you should be happy. EDW/RD I'msorry. Have I offended you? She finally turns to face him JENNY

Nb, you did exactly what you promised. You came back. I was just expecting you sooner.

FLASHBACK TO EXT. SPECTRE - NI GHT Young Jenny Hill watches barefoot Edward leave Spectre for the first time. BACK TO INT. SHACK - DAY Finally realizing who this woman is... EDW/RD You're Beamen's daughter. Your last name is different.

You married.

JENNY

I was 18. He was 28. Turns out that was a big difference.

Before he can say anything nore...

JENNY (CONT'D)

I worn't be selling you this house, Mr. Bloom

EDW/RD

I see. I thank you for your time.

A bit bewildered, Edward tips his hat to her as he leaves.

EXT/INT. SWAVP SHACK - DAY

Edward pulls the door shut behind him as he leaves, but it breaks off in his hands. It's not the clean exit he was hoping for.

Inside Jenny Looks out, surprised and annoyed. Edward tries to lift the door back on the hinges, but they SNAP off. The door frame buckles and the whole shack CREAKS. EDWRD I'msorry. He tries to lean the door against the frame, but it keeps slipping. JENNY It's okay, just leave it. EDWRD

It holds for a beat then

We STAY ON Jenny, watching him go. She's furious, but there's something more in her feelings for him. Something softer.

JENNY (V.Q.) (CONT D)

Most men in that situation would accept their failure and nove on. But Edward was not like most men.

EXT. SWINT SHACK ROAD - ANOTHER DAY

With Karl the Giant's help, Edward unloads a brand new door from a pickup truck.

EXT. SHACK - DAY

While Jenny watches, half-annoyed, half-annoyed, Edward tries to set the door square. Karl pushes against the side of the house until it fits.

INT. SHACK - ANOTHER DAY

Holding nails between his lips, Edward puts in new windows hinself. Jenny is naking soup, laughing at the story he's telling.

JENNY (V.Q)

As the norths passed, he found nore and nore things to fix, until the shack no longer resembled itself.

EXT. SWANP - ANOTHER DAY

Edward and Karl cut down a tree, letting in a flood of light. Through the golden pollen hanging in the air, we RISE UP to see the shack is now we saw before. It's timy and white, with black shutters and a steep roof. A white picket fence. In every detail it is impossibly charming.

THE LOVELY HOUSE

INT. JENNY'S HOUSE - DAY

Edward is screwing a hat rack into the wall in the foyer.

Jenny leans against the doorframe listening to his story. And watching him with deepest affection.

EDW/RD

Of course, the best part was creating new material. By the time the twins and I got to Havana, we had a whole new routine worked out for them, with just a ukulele and a harmonica.

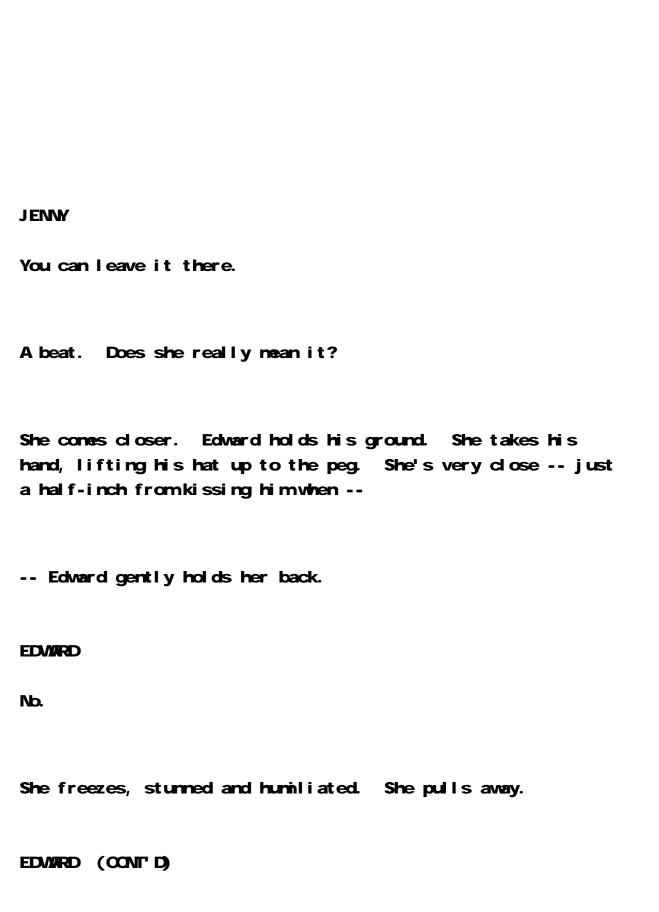

Finished with his work, he takes his hat off the chair and hangs it on the rack. Perfect.

EXT. SPECTRE - MAGIC HOUR

Edward takes a final look at this perfect little town.

JENNY (V.Q)

One day, Edward Bloomleft, and never returned to the town he'd saved.

He climbs in his car and starts the engine.

EXT. JENNY HILL'S HOUSE - DAY TO NIGHT

As we watch, the swamp begins to overtake the house, swallowing it in a tangle of burst up through the planks in the porch. Snakes slither through the narsh.

Day becomes night.

JENNY (V.Q.) (CONT'D)

As for the girl, the common belief was that she'd become a witch, and crazy at that. She became something of a legend herself.

We REVERSE to find FOUR KIDS looking in through the rusty iron gate with flashlights. A beat, then they run away.

And the story ended where it began.

INT. JENNY HILL'S KITCHEN - PRESENT DAY

W/II and Jenny are still sitting at her table, a pitcher of iced tea between them.

WLL

Logically, you couldn't be the W/tch, because she was old back when he was young.

JENNY

No, it's logical if you think like your father. See, to him, there's only two women: your mother and everyone else.

WLL

You didn't become crazy.

JENNY

Well, therapy. And one day I realized I was in love with a nam who could never love me back. I was living in a fairy tale.

Will smiles to hear it called that.

JENNY (CONT'D)

People aren't like they are in stories. They hurt each other without neaning to. They are kind and unbelievably cruel at the same moment. Like me, now I'm not sure I should have told you any of this.

Her composure is starting to break.

WLL

No, I wanted to know I'm glad I know

Along beat, both staring at their iced tea. Jenny is working herself into more of a state by not talking.

JENNY

I wanted to neet you for the longest time. I did.

I envied you so much. The way Eddie would talk about you when you were at Nilssouri, that award you won. Congratulations, incidentally. at the A.P., everything, he was so proud of you. I mean, that's the thing. Every moment he loved you.

She's fighting tears, not the first ones she's shed over this.

JENNY (CONT D)

And as brightly as the sun would shine when he was with me, every time he left it disappeared. I wanted to be as important to him as you were, and I was never going to be. I was make-believe and his other life, you, were real.

ANGLE ON Will, sorting through his swirling thoughts.

JENNY (CONT'D)

You knew that, didn't you?

INT. WILL'S CAR - DAY / DRIVING

W/II skips through the stations on the radio, but ultimately turns it off. He's trying to think.

EXT. BLOOMHOUSE - DUSK

Will walks up the front steps. There's a subtle change to his expression, a dark cloud lifted. He unlocks the door.

INT. BLOOMHOUSE FOYER - DUSK

It's half-dark and quiet in the house, no talking, no TV. W/II sets his keys on the table.

INT. KITCHEN - DUSK

Will looks in Empty.

WLL

(calling out)

Hello? Morn? Dad?

INT. UPSTALRS HALLWAY - DUSK

We follow W/II, looking into his and Josephine's room. He ains for the guest room at the end of the hall.

INT. GUEST ROOM- DUSK

Looking over his shoulder, we see his father's bed is empty. The sheets are in a tangle on the floor. A beat, then Will half-runs back down the hall. Back down the stairs.

INT. FOYER - DUSK

Headed out, W/II grabs his keys off the table. We LOOK RIGHT, where the "NESSAGE" light blinks on the answering nachine.

INT. HOSPITAL ENTRANCE - NICHT

The hospital is so new, it's not even finished -- thick plastic hangs from exporinformation desk, so Will forges ahead.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - NIGHT

W/II reads a directory board, trying to decide the best place to start. Then, behind him--

He half-smiles, realizing the idiocy of his question. Of course his father's not going to be okay.

WLL (CONT'D)

What I mean is, will he get back to the way he was when...

She cuts him off --

JOSEPH NE

No. He won't. I'msorry.

And like that, it's done. We HOLD ON W/II, reeling from the news.

I NT. HOSPI TAL ROOM- NI GHT

Edward sleeps peacefully, just an oxygen tube under his nose. There are no beeping nomitors, no blinking lights. It's nercifully quiet. Sandra squeezes W/II's hand tightly. She's holding herself together, but it's been a tough day.

Dr. Bennett has just gone through the details for the third time.

SANDRA

I don't suppose one of us could stay with him. In case he...

In case he wakes up, one of us should be there.

DR. BENNETT
It's fine.

A beat.
WLL
Monn, do you want some time with Dad?

SANDRA

Yes. Thank you.

A nod, then W/II holds the door for Dr. Bennett and Josephine as they leave. Sandra is alone in the room with her husband.

She neatens his hair. Holds his hand. As she kisses his fingers, she tweaks her chin with them--his signature nowe.

TRANSI TI ON TO

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - NIGHT

Sandra waits outside the women's restroom. Her face is a study in strained composure -- acknowledging the inevitable but refusing to surrender to it.

Josephine energes.

JOSEPH NE

I'm sorry. It seens every hour I have to...

SANDRA

I know It was the same when I was carrying W/II. Like clockwork.

The two women start to walk, no hurry.

SANDRA

Do you like it, being pregnant?

JOSEPH NE

I do.

SANDRA

I loved it. It sounds peculiar, but I loved every minute of it. I did. Eddie was travelling a lot, so he was gone, but I felt like I always had a piece of him with me. A little part of his soul inside me. I could feel it. It was alive and kicking.

Will sits in a chair beside the bed, working through the crossword puzzle. A overcoat and bag, ready to leave for the night.

DR. BENNETT

Glad to see you're not trying to have a heartfelt talk. It's one of my greatest annoyances, when people talk to those who can't hear them.

WLL

My father and I have an advantage. We never talk.

Dr. Bennett snill es as he checks Edward's chart.

WLL (CONT'D)

How I ong have you known my father?

DR. BENNETT

Thirty years. Maybe nore.

WLL

How would you describe him?

DR. BENNETT (re: chart) Five-eleven. One-eighty. Regulated hypertension. (beat) How would his son describe him? Tables turned, Will searches for an answer. He doesn't have one. Dr. Bennett hangs the chart back on the bed. DR. BENNETT (CONI'D) Did your father ever tell you about the day you were born? WLL

A thousand times. He caught an uncatchable fish.

DR. BENNETT

Not that one. The real story. Did he ever tell you that?

WLL

(suddenly interested)

Nb.

DR. BENNETT

Your nother came in about three in the afternoon. Her neighbor drove her, on account of your father was on business in Whita. You were born a week early, but there were no complications. It was a perfect delivery. Now, your father was sorry to miss it, but it wasn't the customfor the men to be in the roomfor deliveries then, so I can't see as it would have been much different had he been there. And that's the real story of how you were born.

Along silence, just the sounds of the hospital, doctors being paged.

DR. BENNETT (CONI'D)

Not very exciting, is it? And I suppose if I had to choose between the true version and an elaborate one involving a fish and a wedding ring, I might choose the fancy version. But that's just me.

Will half-shirles.

Patting Will's shoulder, Dr. Bennett leaves. We STAY ON Will and his father for a long time, then Will takes his pen and starts making a list.

INT. HOSPITAL ROOM- VARIOUS SHOTS

W/II flips to a new page. The list keeps getting longer.

He smiles, remembering something. On his fourth page, he looks up at his mortionless father. A beat, then we slowly

CROSSFADE TO

INT. HOSPITAL ROOM- PRE-DAVIM

It's very early morning, and the first blue light of day is glowing through the vertical blinds. Still in his chair, W/ll wakes up a bit at a time. The notepad is on his lap, the pen in his hand.

He cracks his neck, crooked from sleeping on it wrong. What woke him up?

He looks to his right. Holds his gaze for a breath.

WLL

Dad?

His father is awake, silently GASPING for breath. His eyes are open, scared and confused.

WLL (CONT'D)

Dad! Do you want no to get a nurse?

Edward shakes his head unanthiguously. Will already has his finger on the orange "nurse call" button, but doesn't push it.

WLL (CONT'D)

What can I do? Can I help? Can I get you something? Whater?

Edward nods. Will pours a glass from the pitcher on the night stand. He holds it won't drink. He pushes it away. He wanted something else.

EDWRD

The river.

WLL

It takes Edward all his strength to put together each thought.

You mean what you saw in The Eye?

Edward nods. Yes, that's what he was trying to say.

A long beat.

WLL (CONT'D)

I don't know that story, Dad. You never told me that one.

Will pushes his fingers under his father's heavy hand, and holds it. There's nothing else to do.

Edward looks around, confused and increasingly scared. He sees the end approaching, but doesn't know exactly what's coning. Without the story, he's lost.

Fighting the urge to panic --

WLL (CONT'D)

I can try, Dad. If you help. Just tell ne how it starts. EDW/RD Like this. WLL Ckay. Ckay. W/II looks around the room, increasingly desperate. He looks to the nurse call button. He really wants to press it. ON EDWARD, waiting for Will to begin. WLL (CONT D)

EDW/RD

There's a fold-up wheel chair in the bathroom. Whap a blanket around now. As soon as we get off this floor, we'll be in the clear.

VI/II heads for the bathroom. Sure enough, the wheel chair is there.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

Hurry! We don't have nouch time. INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY With the blanket draped over his head like a ghost, Edward points for his son to steer the wheel chair that away. EDWRD Faster! They pass a HEALYSET NURSE, who turns to look. Rounding a corner, they nearly crash into Dr. Bennett. DR. BENNETT VI/I! I... What are you doing?

Seeing SECURITY GUARDS heading their way, a quick-thinking Sandra shoves a nearby cart into them, bowling them down.

INT. ELEVATOR - DAY

W/II brakes hard, sliding with both feet. The chair nearly crashes into the back wall as the doors close.

EXT. PARKING LOT - DAY

Will races Edward down the rowy finally reaching the Chevrolet.

AT THE CAR

Will lifts his father out of the chair.

WLL (V.Q)

I pick you up and you hardly weigh anything. I can't explain it.

W/II sets him in the passenger seat.

EDW/RD

Water. I need water.

Scrambling in back, W/II finds a liter of Arrowhead. Hands it off. Edward unscrews the cap, but instead of drinking it, he douses hinself. Soaks the blanket.

Will pops the trunk. Starts to fold up the wheel chair.

EDWARD (CONT'D)

EXT. RI VERSI DE - DAY

Will gets out of the Chevrolet, overwhelmed by the crowd. Behind him, Sandra, Josephine and Dr. Bennett pull up. Karl comes just after that.

Crossing to the passenger side, W/II lifts his father out. Strangely, he's gotten even lighter. W/II carries himeasily.

Edward pulls off his shoes, tying the laces together. He hands them to Josephine. She throws them up at the powerline. They loop over. APPLAUSE and CHEERS.

The crowd parts to let W/II and Edward get to the river. As he passes, Edward shakes some hands, pats some people on the cheek, and gives others a good poke in the ribs.

And the strange thing is, there's not a sad face to be found. Everyone's just so glad to see you, and send you off right.

VI/II walks into the river, up to his knees. He turns back so his father can face the crowd. Edward waves.

EDWRD

Goodbye everybody! Farevell! Adieu!

THE CROVID (VARIOUS)

Goodbye Edward! / See ya! / We'll miss you!

But one face is missing from the crowd -- Sandra. W/II turns to see she's already standing in the river beside them.

The reflection of the light off the water gives Sandra an unearthly glow. She's more tranquil and more beautiful than we've ever seen her.

EDWRD

My girl in the river.

She kisses him. He tweaks her chin. The crowd HOLLERS in approval, but their noment renains strangely private. Only Will is there to witness.

As the kiss ends, Edward tries to pull off his wedding ring. But it's stuck. Finally, he sucks on it, pulling it free with his teeth.

A look to W/II, a smile with a glint of gold. W/II takes the ring out of his mouth.

Edward suddenly drops out of Will's arms with a SPLASH For he's no longer a man, but rather swimming at his feet.

We watch as the catfish circles, then heads for deeper water, disappearing.

W/II and his norther stand knee-deep in the water, watching Edward Bloomswimaway into the sunlight. Josephine is back on the shore, along with the entire crowd.

Edward smiles, proud of both of them. His eyes are so pale and so open, we can almost see his soul. In every atom of his body, in every thought, Edward Bloom is entirely happy.

And this is how he goes.

INT. HOSPITAL HALLWAY - DAY

W/II shuts the door to his father's room behind him. The walk to the payphones seems to take a lifetime.

He finds a quarter, starts to dial. He has to squint to see through the water in his eyes. It's ringing. And ringing. The other end answers.
